Steelworker Strike Begins

Angry Hoffa Denies Any Red Ties

Teamster Boss Admits Dealing With Bridges

Labor Boss Defends Union Combinations

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa, almost jumping with rage, shouted Tuesday that he has no connection with communism.

The tough little labor leader, who has shrugged off statements that his Teamsters Union is a haven for crooks and mobsters, blasted off at a hearing of the Senate rackets probers.

At the same time, he acknowledged he is working on a pact between the Teamsters and Harry Bridges' West Coast longshoremen, who were bounced from the CIO in 1950 on charges of Communist domination.

Hoffa said the pact—that's what he called it—would be an agreement on jurisdictional and organizational problems growing out of automation and other mechanization of industry.

Crum's Testimony Recalled

Bartley C. Crum, a New York lawyer who has had dealings with all three men concerned, testified Monday that Hoffa was working with Bridges and Louis Goldblatt of the longshoremen to form a single, giant transport union.

Such a merged operation could have far-reaching effects on all transportation in the country. The two unions are already powerful, individually.

What set Hoffa off on the communism angle was a remark by committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy during a discussion of whether Bridges and Goldblatt are Communists.

"There is no question about Goldblatt," Kennedy said, "but there may be a question about Hoffa."

"Don't you say that!" Hoffa almost screamed. "Don't use this committee for a sounding board. Nobody's going to say that about Hoffa. Don't put me in their class."

Hoffa Defends Combinations

Kennedy said he had misspoken, that what he meant to say was "there is no question about Goldblatt, but there may be a question about Bridges."

In a general defense of union combinations, Hoffa said newspapers have gotten together to pay off the cost of each others' strikes, and said airlines, railroads, steel and other industries were trying to do the same.

Workers will have to protect their own interests accordingly, Hoffa said.

Hoffa disputed the testimony Crum gave Monday that a scheme had been launched, managed by Hoffa, to gain control of the board of monitors set up by a federal court to check on the Teamsters Union. This, too, Hoffa called ridiculous.

Tennis Club President Quits In Bunche Row

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilfred Burglund resigned Tuesday as president of the West Side Tennis Club as the result of barring Dr. Ralph Bunche, a Negro, from membership.

In a statement the club said merely that Burglund's resignation had been accepted to avoid further embarrassment.

Meanwhile, the club — whose Forest Hills arena is the site of national tennis championships—said Dr. Bunche, a Nobel Peace Prize winner, and his son will be considered for membership if they submit applications.

The statement added:

"So that the facts will be unequivocally clear, the board of governors wishes to state that it is the policy of the club to consider and accept members without regard to race, creed or color."

Convicts End Prison Coal Mine Revolt

Ninety-four Brushy Mountain (Tenn.) prison convicts marched back to the prison under the watchful eyes of heavily-armed state troopers after ending a 32-hour rebellion in a coal mine yesterday. Trooper Fred Hillis guards one group of about 30 convicts. The prisoners released unharmed three mine foremen they held overnight as hostages. (AP Photofax)

Defense Money Bill Approved 90-0 By Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Tuesday night passed a 40 billion dollar defense money bill carrying extra funds to speed the missile program and increase the nation's ability to fight limited Korean-type actions.

The bill was approved unanimously, 90 to 0, on a roll call vote.

The measure, easily the biggest appropriations bill of the session, provided $346,139,000 more than President Eisenhower originally requested and 746 million dollars more than was voted by the House.

The bill now goes to a joint House-Senate conference committee to thresh out diferences between the two chambers.

Just before the final vote, the Senate rejected a drive to strip the measure of 380 million dollars added by the Senate Appropriations Committee for construction of a second nuclear-powered aircraft carrier.

It acted after Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) resolved earlier uncertainties over the question by asserting that the President wanted another aircraft carrier and would take one with nuclear power if Congress insisted.

The President had sought 280 million dollars for another conventionally-powered carrier, arguing that the extra money required for an atom-powered type could better be spent to modernize other aging warships.

The House voted to scuttle the project entirely, however, raising the possibility that House negotiators may try to strike out the supercarrier funds in conference.

New Bomarc Tested

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — A swift super Bomarc streaked into the sky Tuesday in the second test flight of a new advanced model of the near-operational interceptor missile.

Although there was no official announcement, Tuesday's test was reported to have been a success, as in the maiden flight last May. The missile was not aimed at any target aircraft.

Convict Miners End Rebellion

94 Surrender; Hostages Unhurt

PETROS, Tenn. (AP) —Ninety four hungry convicts, dejected and unshaven, Tuesday afternoon gave up their 32-hour rebellion and surrendered meekly to their guards at Brushy Mountain State Prison.

The surrender came a few hours after the convicts sent out word from their hideaway in a prison coal mine that they planned "to tear out or tear down" the place unless their demands were met.

They had requested a series of changes at the prison, including more pay for coal they mined, better food, revised methods for assigning prison jobs, more use of recreational facilities, a full-time doctor, a prison chaplain and changes in handling censored mail.

Neither of the three mine foremen they seized Monday as hostages was hurt. One of them, Shirley Bunch, 63, was released Tuesday morning after becoming ill in the mine.

The other two, Ben Davis, 37, and Earl Hensley, 57, preceded the prisoners from the mine at the time of surrender. Authorities first said there were 95 rebels in the group but an actual count showed only 94 were involved.

The prisoners had about 200 sticks of dynamite with them for use as explosives in preparing coal veins for digging. They reportedly had booby trapped the mine entrance to prevent guards and officials from entering.

Pat Patterson, assistant commissioner of corrections, said prison officials issued an ultimatum that the prisoners surrender Tuesday afternoon. He declined to elaborate on the ultimatum but said that all the men were out of the mine and back in their cells within an hour and a half.

Patterson said he had granted the prisoners two minor concessions: they will not lose their "good conduct" time, which applies toward possible parole, and they will not be punished with a leather strap.

Several of the prisoners are convicted murderers serving life sentences.

Coffee Break Steel Talk Issue

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American institution known as the coffee break was disclosed Tuesday to have been one of the stumbling blocks at the steel industry bargaining table.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, said in a formal statement, that "it is simply inconceivable to the union that a local working condition such as the great American custom of a coffee break is preventing a settlement."

Later, asked if the coffee break actually had been discussed in bargaining sessions, McDonald said:

"Yes. It was raised by the industry negotiators in the bargaining sessions. It was not a facetious remark on my part, in the statement that I issued today."

Fire Checked, Town Spared

WYTHEVILLE, Va. (AP)—The threat of a disastrous explosion at the small southwest Virginia town of Max Meadows was removed late Tuesday afternoon when a burning truck was pulled away from an 18,000-gallon propane storage tank.

The truck had been burning beside the tank for over three hours when it was tugged away. Officials, fearing that a large portion of the town of 750 would be demolished if the tank ignited and exploded, had evacuated a large number of residents in the vicinity of the tank.

A Norfolk & Western railway passenger train, scheduled to pass had been held up until the danger was removed.

The danger had been touched off when a bottled gas truck loading from the tank caught fire at 12:50 p.m. (EST). Bill Edward Jones, 26, of Wytheville, driver of the truck, suffered first and second degree burns of the face, arms and legs and was taken to a Wytheville hospital.

An official of the bottled gas company said the blaze started when a valve broke while Jones was filling the truck. Although burned, Jones managed to close the valve and thus prevented the fire from getting into the tank, the official said.

Freighter Sinks

ANCONA, Italy (AP)—An Italian ship radioed Tuesday that the 1,000-ton Panamanian-flag freighter Sally sank in the Adriatic off the coast of Yugoslavia.

A message sent by the Italian freighter Giovanni T, near the Sally, reported that she had gone down after a seam split open but that her crew had taken to lifeboats and all were safe. The number of the crew was not given.

Humphrey Enters 1960 Demo Presidential Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota formally entered the race for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination and announced Tuesday he will open his campaign in September.

Humphrey, 48, became the first of the major contenders to say he will seek the prize at the Democratic National Convention starting in Los Angeles next July 14.

The announcement of his availability came in a joint announcement made by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn) at a news conference here; and Minnesota Gov. Orville Freeman at the other end of an open telephone line in St. Paul, Minn.

But Humphrey, who flew in Tuesday morning from California, told newsmen he was pleased and gratified with the announcement by his two friends.

He said he will campaign this fall primarily in Midwest and Rocky Mountain states in his search for delegate strength. He said he expects to enter several state presidential primaries.

Humphrey was emphatic in saying he will not enter state primaries where genuine favorite sons are entered. He mentioned California, where Gov. Edmund (Pat) Brown has made known he will run as a favorite son in an effort to control that state's big delegation.

Present indications are, Humphrey said, that he will enter presidential primaries in Wisconsin, Oregon, South Dakota and possibly Nebraska.

The Wisconsin primary in the past has been a key testing ground for presidential hopefuls.

Almond Forces In Alexandria, Arlington Win

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) —Gov. J. Lindsay Almond's moderate "freedom of choice" plan to deal with school integration received its first test at the polls Tuesday in a Democratic primary marred by downpours and overcast skies.

Heavy rain flooded streets ankle deep in sections of Norfolk, where token school integration was begun last February, and slowed the balloting to a virtual standstill at mid-day.

Elsewhere, the voting ranged from brisk to below normal. Observers doubted that the total vote would surpass 300,000 in the first test of the governor's moderate approach to desegregation unless a late afternoon surge was recorded.

Diehard segregationists based their campaigns in several areas, principally Richmond, Norfolk, Alexandria, Charlottesville and rural districts along the Potomac River, on an uncompromising stand toward future integration.

Many advocated a return to the court - stricken "massive resistance" doctrine.

Almond supporters in Alexandria and Arlington, both of which began token integration last fall, won handily.

Sen. Armistead Boothe of Alexandria defeated former Mayor Marshall Beverley, who advocated a three-way system of schools, and Arlington delegates Harrison Mann, Kathryn Stone and William Winston were renominated over a challenge by segregationist Thomas Broyhill.

Beverley favored a system of white, Negro and integrated schools.

Almond's supporters in the state Senate seemed to be in the most danger.

The local-option type program cleared by one vote in the Senate and 12 seats in the upper House were at stake. Thirty-four seats in the House, where Almond's margin was 9 votes, were decided.

Under the local-option type plan, localities could comply with integration orders if they choose or close their public schools and get state financial help to run private classes.

Khrushchev Hails Polish Communism

WARSAW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev flew here Tuesday on his first official visit to Poland. He gave his blessing to Poland's brand of Communism and said this country "defends the purity of Marxism and Leninism".

Khrushchev told Polish Communist Party Leader Wladyslaw Gomulka and other welcoming officials at the airport that "your party and ours share the same economic and ideological principles, based on socialism, Communism and peace."

His remarks constituted public recognition of the revived warmth of Soviet-Polish relations since a furious Khrushchev flew to the same Babice military airport on a private visit three years ago in a vain attempt to block Gomulka's return to power.

Allies Split Over Soviet Berlin Terms

Reported Divided On Proposed Bonn, German Red Talks

GENEVA (AP) —Western foreign ministers were reported split Tuesday night over paying the Soviet Union's price for a stopgap Berlin deal.

Qualified officials said the Allied differences center on a key Soviet demand for bringing East and West Germany face to face in private negotiations during a projected 18-month moratorium on any changes in the status of West Berlin.

The Westerners were reported agreed on one point: They need more definite assurances from the Soviet Union before they can seriously consider accepting the Soviet-proposed freeze. Otherwise:

The lineup found U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd seemingly willing to go some little way toward meeting the Soviet condition for negotiation between the East and West Germans.

DeMurville Opposes Idea

Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville of France was said to be against any idea of such German talks, even under the umbrella of a Big Four commission.

And Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's West Germany looked virtually isolated. Evidently fearing what they take to be American-British softness, the West Germans have gone so far as to suggest cutting off the current Big Four talks on a Berlin compromise. Instead they urged the calling of an early summit conference on other grave problems of Europe. And they have proposed that a new foreign ministers' meeting on Berlin be arranged after the summit talks.

The West Germans are united with the Americans, British and French in rejecting the Soviet proposal, as it stands now, for a Pan-German committee to tackle wider political issues. But they have lately moved away from the French, and toward the Americans and British, in indicating that they might accept other contacts with the East Germans—under a Big Four commission.

No Tuesday Session

The Big Four conference itself stood recessed until Wednesday afternoon when a semi-public session is due. The Big Four skipped Tuesday as a working day after Monday's demand by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko that the two Germanys should get the right to attend secret conference sessions.

The Soviet move was labelled obstructionist by an American delegation spokesman. It certainly is having the effect of slowing down the work of the conference to a snail's pace.

Princess Anne Joins Brownies

LONDON (AP)—Princess Anne, second in line of succession to the British throne, took a pledge Tuesday to do what mama tells her.

Furthermore, she promised to lend a hand with wiping the Buckingham Palace dishes whenever the need arises.

The pledges came with official enrollment of the 8-year-old daughter of Queen Elizabeth II as a member of the Buckingham Palace Brownie pack, whose last previous royal recruit was Princess Margaret.

A Brownie is a junior Girl Scout.

Kozlov Sends Ike Painting But Not One He Selected

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has received the gift of a Russian painting from Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov—but it wasn't the one he picked.

The President visited Russia's cultural exhibit in New York on its opening day and toured the art section. Kozlov, who was just starting his U.S. tour, repeatedly pressed the Chief Executive to name his favorite painting.

Eisenhower, an amateur painter, was reluctant. But he finally picked a river scene showing three Russian citizens living on a log raft.

Over the past week end, a Russian picture from the exhibition arrived as the gift of Kozlov, but it was not the picture selected by the President.

Instead it was "Spring Is Approaching,' a scene of a Russian stream at the end of winter with the ice breaking up, white birch trees along the banks and a group of small homes on a bluff overlooking the river.

The painting was done in 1952 by the Soviet Artist V. Podlvansky.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President "likes the painting very much." Eisenhower sent a letter of thanks to Kozlov and had the painting hung in the conference room just across the hall from the President's office.

SAYS CASTRO RED — Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, former chief of the Cuban air force, sits at the witness table of the Senate internal security subcommittee. Diaz Tells U.S. Senate Group Castro Is Red

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Former Cuban air force commander Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, undaunted by a bomb scare that interrupted his congressional testimony, charged Tuesday that Cuban Premier Fidel Castro is a Communist.

Diaz, who fled Cuba by sailboat June 29, said the revolutionary leader has riddled his government with Reds and is preparing to turn Cuba into a Caribbean center of Communism.

He also said he believed that Castro personally directed last month's abortive invasion of the Dominican Republic. He said Castro fired him as air force chief after he refused to pilot a plane which landed invading troops and guns at Santo Domingo.

Another Cuban plane, he said was used in an invasion of Nicaragua.

Diaz testified before the Senate internal security subcommittee after Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) cleared the hearing room for an hour because of a telephone tip that someone planned to "injure" the witness.

The hurriedly-emptied room was searched by police and Army demolition experts but their search apparently disclosed nothing. Newsmen and a crowd of observers were permitted to re-enter but were not allowed to bring packages or bundles with them.

The turmoil broke out shortly after the hearing, condemned by Castro as giving honor to a "deserter and traitor", got under way Tuesday morning. An aide summoned Eastland and other subcommittee members into an anteroom and shortly Eastland returned to announce:

"The subcommittee has received information from what it considers to be a reliable source that an attempt would be made to injure the witness. This hearing will be recessed for 30 minutes and the room will be cleared."

It was closer to an hour later before Diaz returned with two guards and his pretty wife, Tania, and resumed his testimony. He has testified twice in secret sessions to the subcommittee.

Eisenhower Plea Follows Talk Collapse

Both Sides Agree To Meetings Today With U.S. Mediator

NEW YORK, Wednesday (UPI) —A nationwide steel strike began Wednesday eight hours after bargaining talks collapsed.

President Eisenhower, acting for the third time in the two-month dispute, appealed late Tuesday to both sides to continue negotiating and seek federal mediation.

Industry and labor officials almost immediately arranged for separate meetings Wednesday with Joseph Finnegan, chief of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Representatives of the 12 major steel companies were scheduled to meet with Finnegan at 4 p.m. e.d.t. in New York. Officials of the United Steelworkers union set their meeting for 5:30 p.m. e.d.t.

Their agreement to meet came within 90 minutes after Eisenhower appealed to negotiators to keep searching for a way out of their deadlock. Union and industry leaders acceded to the President's plea as they had to two previous White House requests that bargaining be resumed.

Some Premature Walkouts

The bargaining talks collapsed shortly before 4 p. m. e.d.t., a little more than two months after they had begun. Both sides were almost as far apart as they were the day they sat down to try to write a new contract covering 500,000 basic steel workers who make 90 per cent of the nation's steel.

While the last bitter charges were being hurled back and forth by the bargainers, the steel mill furnaces were being snuffed out and workers staged premature walkouts at scattered mills.

The United Steelworkers union sent out orders that the strike would begin officially at midnight, local time, in 24 states.

Union President David J. McDonald drove from New York to Morrisville, Pa., to lead the first pickets marching outside the huge Fairless Works of the United States Steel Corp.

The wage talks, under way since May 10, broke off with bitter charges by labor and management. Each side blamed the other for the collapse in negotiations. The union stuck to a demand for a 15-cent an hour wage increase every year and the industry stuck just as closely to a demand for tighter control over local work conditions, including shift times, coffee breaks and relief periods.

Cost-Of-Living Clause Issue

The companies also wanted the union to drop the cost-of-living escalator wage rise clause, under which wages go up with living costs.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, announced that the talks had collapsed. He said the United Steelworkers union's stand on technological progress and economic matters had left "no possibility of agreement."

"Is the strike under way now," Cooper was asked.

"Yes," he replied.

McDonald at noon Tuesday met industry's automation demands with an offer to accept a contract clause stating the union was not opposed to technological progress.

This, he said, would have covered automation and charges of featherbedding

Cooper said this offer was not enough. The industry stuck to its demands for eight specific rules changes covering work schedules and other local matters.

Accused Slayer Of Seven Captured

BASHAW, Alta. (AP)—Fugitive Robert Raymond Cook, wanted for the slaying of seven members of his family, was captured late Tuesday a half mile south of Bashaw.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police said the chunky 22-year-old suspect, hunted by more than 100 police since he broke out of the Provincial Mental Hospital at Ponoka last Friday, was found hiding in a pigpen.

The youth had been arrested after the bodies of his father and stepmother and their five other children were found June 27 in a grease pit in the family garage. They had been clubbed or shot to death.

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) —Gov. J. Lindsay Almond's moderate "freedom of choice" plan to deal with school integration received its first test at the polls Tuesday in a Democratic primary marred by downpours and overcast skies.

Heavy rain flooded streets ankle deep in sections of Norfolk, where token school integration was begun last February, and slowed the balloting to a virtual standstill at mid-day.

Elsewhere, the voting ranged from brisk to below normal. Observers doubted that the total vote would surpass 300,000 in the first test of the governor's moderate approach to desegregation unless a late afternoon surge was recorded.

Diehard segregationists based their campaigns in several areas, principally Richmond, Norfolk, Alexandria, Charlottesville and rural districts along the Potomac River, on an uncompromising stand toward future integration.

Many advocated a return to the court - stricken "massive resistance" doctrine.

Almond supporters in Alexandria and Arlington, both of which began token integration last fall, won handily.

Sen. Armistead Boothe of Alexandria defeated former Mayor Marshall Beverley, who advocated a three-way system of schools, and Arlington delegates Harrison Mann, Kathryn Stone and William Winston were renominated over a challenge by segregationist Thomas Broyhill.

Beverley favored a system of white, Negro and integrated schools.

Almond's supporters in the state Senate seemed to be in the most danger.

The local-option type program cleared by one vote in the Senate and 12 seats in the upper House were at stake. Thirty-four seats in the House, where Almond's margin was 9 votes, were decided.

Under the local-option type plan, localities could comply with integration orders if they choose or close their public schools and get state financial help to run private classes.

Khrushchev Hails Polish Communism

WARSAW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev flew here Tuesday on his first official visit to Poland. He gave his blessing to Poland's brand of Communism and said this country "defends the purity of Marxism and Leninism".

Khrushchev told Polish Communist Party Leader Wladyslaw Gomulka and other welcoming officials at the airport that "your party and ours share the same economic and ideological principles, based on socialism, Communism and peace."

His remarks constituted public recognition of the revived warmth of Soviet-Polish relations since a furious Khrushchev flew to the same Babice military airport on a private visit three years ago in a vain attempt to block Gomulka's return to power.

Allies Split Over Soviet Berlin Terms

Reported Divided On Proposed Bonn, German Red Talks

GENEVA (AP) —Western foreign ministers were reported split Tuesday night over paying the Soviet Union's price for a stopgap Berlin deal.

Qualified officials said the Allied differences center on a key Soviet demand for bringing East and West Germany face to face in private negotiations during a projected 18-month moratorium on any changes in the status of West Berlin.

The Westerners were reported agreed on one point: They need more definite assurances from the Soviet Union before they can seriously consider accepting the Soviet-proposed freeze. Otherwise:

The lineup found U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd seemingly willing to go some little way toward meeting the Soviet condition for negotiation between the East and West Germans.

DeMurville Opposes Idea

Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville of France was said to be against any idea of such German talks, even under the umbrella of a Big Four commission.

And Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's West Germany looked virtually isolated. Evidently fearing what they take to be American-British softness, the West Germans have gone so far as to suggest cutting off the current Big Four talks on a Berlin compromise. Instead they urged the calling of an early summit conference on other grave problems of Europe. And they have proposed that a new foreign ministers' meeting on Berlin be arranged after the summit talks.

The West Germans are united with the Americans, British and French in rejecting the Soviet proposal, as it stands now, for a Pan-German committee to tackle wider political issues. But they have lately moved away from the French, and toward the Americans and British, in indicating that they might accept other contacts with the East Germans—under a Big Four commission.

No Tuesday Session

The Big Four conference itself stood recessed until Wednesday afternoon when a semi-public session is due. The Big Four skipped Tuesday as a working day after Monday's demand by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko that the two Germanys should get the right to attend secret conference sessions.

The Soviet move was labelled obstructionist by an American delegation spokesman. It certainly is having the effect of slowing down the work of the conference to a snail's pace.

Princess Anne Joins Brownies

LONDON (AP)—Princess Anne, second in line of succession to the British throne, took a pledge Tuesday to do what mama tells her.

Furthermore, she promised to lend a hand with wiping the Buckingham Palace dishes whenever the need arises.

The pledges came with official enrollment of the 8-year-old daughter of Queen Elizabeth II as a member of the Buckingham Palace Brownie pack, whose last previous royal recruit was Princess Margaret.

A Brownie is a junior Girl Scout.

Kozlov Sends Ike Painting But Not One He Selected

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has received the gift of a Russian painting from Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov—but it wasn't the one he picked.

The President visited Russia's cultural exhibit in New York on its opening day and toured the art section. Kozlov, who was just starting his U.S. tour, repeatedly pressed the Chief Executive to name his favorite painting.

Eisenhower, an amateur painter, was reluctant. But he finally picked a river scene showing three Russian citizens living on a log raft.

Over the past week end, a Russian picture from the exhibition arrived as the gift of Kozlov, but it was not the picture selected by the President.

Instead it was "Spring Is Approaching,' a scene of a Russian stream at the end of winter with the ice breaking up, white birch trees along the banks and a group of small homes on a bluff overlooking the river.

The painting was done in 1952 by the Soviet Artist V. Podlvansky.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President "likes the painting very much." Eisenhower sent a letter of thanks to Kozlov and had the painting hung in the conference room just across the hall from the President's office.

SAYS CASTRO RED — Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, former chief of the Cuban air force, sits at the witness table of the Senate internal security subcommittee. He testified yesterday Fidel Castro has brought Cuba a Communist dictatorship. Diaz resigned as head of the Cuban air force on June 30 and fled to the U. S. (AP Photofax)

Diaz Tells U.S. Senate Group Castro Is Red

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Former Cuban air force commander Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, undaunted by a bomb scare that interrupted his congressional testimony, charged Tuesday that Cuban Premier Fidel Castro is a Communist.

Diaz, who fled Cuba by sailboat June 29, said the revolutionary leader has riddled his government with Reds and is preparing to turn Cuba into a Caribbean center of Communism.

He also said he believed that Castro personally directed last month's abortive invasion of the Dominican Republic. He said Castro fired him as air force chief after he refused to pilot a plane which landed invading troops and guns at Santo Domingo.

Another Cuban plane, he said was used in an invasion of Nicaragua.

Diaz testified before the Senate internal security subcommittee after Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) cleared the hearing room for an hour because of a telephone tip that someone planned to "injure" the witness.

The hurriedly-emptied room was searched by police and Army demolition experts but their search apparently disclosed nothing. Newsmen and a crowd of observers were permitted to re-enter but were not allowed to bring packages or bundles with them.

The turmoil broke out shortly after the hearing, condemned by Castro as giving honor to a "deserter and traitor", got under way Tuesday morning. An aide summoned Eastland and other subcommittee members into an anteroom and shortly Eastland returned to announce:

"The subcommittee has received information from what it considers to be a reliable source that an attempt would be made to injure the witness. This hearing will be recessed for 30 minutes and the room will be cleared."

It was closer to an hour later before Diaz returned with two guards and his pretty wife, Tania, and resumed his testimony. He has testified twice in secret sessions to the subcommittee.

Eisenhower Plea Follows Talk Collapse

Both Sides Agree To Meetings Today With U.S. Mediator

NEW YORK, Wednesday (UPI) —A nationwide steel strike began Wednesday eight hours after bargaining talks collapsed.

President Eisenhower, acting for the third time in the two-month dispute, appealed late Tuesday to both sides to continue negotiating and seek federal mediation.

Industry and labor officials almost immediately arranged for separate meetings Wednesday with Joseph Finnegan, chief of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Representatives of the 12 major steel companies were scheduled to meet with Finnegan at 4 p.m. e.d.t. in New York. Officials of the United Steelworkers union set their meeting for 5:30 p.m. e.d.t.

Their agreement to meet came within 90 minutes after Eisenhower appealed to negotiators to keep searching for a way out of their deadlock. Union and industry leaders acceded to the President's plea as they had to two previous White House requests that bargaining be resumed.

Some Premature Walkouts

The bargaining talks collapsed shortly before 4 p. m. e.d.t., a little more than two months after they had begun. Both sides were almost as far apart as they were the day they sat down to try to write a new contract covering 500,000 basic steel workers who make 90 per cent of the nation's steel.

While the last bitter charges were being hurled back and forth by the bargainers, the steel mill furnaces were being snuffed out and workers staged premature walkouts at scattered mills.

The United Steelworkers union sent out orders that the strike would begin officially at midnight, local time, in 24 states.

Union President David J. McDonald drove from New York to Morrisville, Pa., to lead the first pickets marching outside the huge Fairless Works of the United States Steel Corp.

The wage talks, under way since May 10, broke off with bitter charges by labor and management. Each side blamed the other for the collapse in negotiations. The union stuck to a demand for a 15-cent an hour wage increase every year and the industry stuck just as closely to a demand for tighter control over local work conditions, including shift times, coffee breaks and relief periods.

Cost-Of-Living Clause Issue

The companies also wanted the union to drop the cost-of-living escalator wage rise clause, under which wages go up with living costs.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, announced that the talks had collapsed. He said the United Steelworkers union's stand on technological progress and economic matters had left "no possibility of agreement."

"Is the strike under way now," Cooper was asked.

"Yes," he replied.

McDonald at noon Tuesday met industry's automation demands with an offer to accept a contract clause stating the union was not opposed to technological progress.

This, he said, would have covered automation and charges of featherbedding

Cooper said this offer was not enough. The industry stuck to its demands for eight specific rules changes covering work schedules and other local matters.

Accused Slayer Of Seven Captured

BASHAW, Alta. (AP)—Fugitive Robert Raymond Cook, wanted for the slaying of seven members of his family, was captured late Tuesday a half mile south of Bashaw.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police said the chunky 22-year-old suspect, hunted by more than 100 police since he broke out of the Provincial Mental Hospital at Ponoka last Friday, was found hiding in a pigpen.

The youth had been arrested after the bodies of his father and stepmother and their five other children were found June 27 in a grease pit in the family garage. They had been clubbed or shot to death.

Possible Lead Reported In Jackson Murder Case

Man In Green Car Follows Couple Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI Tuesday was checking a Fairfax County, Va., incident as a possible lead in the Jackson murder case.

Involved is a search for a green Ford with Maryland tags. The investigation began after Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lee of West Grove, Va., were followed home about midnight Monday night.

Lee, referring to the man in the Ford, said:

"I'm a Navy veteran of four amphibious landings during World War II but I was never as excited then as I was when that guy followed us home last night."

Lee, 38-year-old employe of a feed company here, said the young white man followed them from Hunting Towers on the Mount Vernon Boulevard to West Grove. Lee said he barely shut his garage doors before the Ford drove up to the house.

Lee said he told his wife to call the police and he ran to get a pistol. He then turned on the light and, pistol in hand, went to the front steps. He said he and the man sitting in the other car stared at each other for 30 seconds and then the man backed out of the driveway and drove away. Lee said he did not shoot. He added that he didn't get a clear look at the man.

Fairfax police consider the man a possible suspect in the January slayings of the Carroll V. Jackson family of Louisa County, Va., because of his general description and that of the car.

The Jacksons' abandoned car was found on Route 609 in Louisa County Jan. 12. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson and their two daughters — Susan Ann, 5, and Janet, 1½ — were found later at widely separate points in Virginia and Maryland.

Chase Ends In Crash Taking Five Lives

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Five persons were killed early Tuesday when an automobile being pursued by police crashed into another car.

Officers said Charles Schwaneke, 23, Independence, Mo., identified as a Florida parolee, attempted to outrun them when they tried to stop his car for a routine check.

Schwaneke was one of the victims. His local police record showed six traffic arrests but no felony counts. His conviction in Florida was for automobile theft, officers said.

Occupants of the other car, all of whom were killed, were James Fuller, 23, Donald Ewing, 26, and Robert Reed, 26, all of Kansas City and Luther Thompson, 22, of Suffolk, Va., all Negroes.

Radioactivity Of Rivers Low

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming said Tuesday the first continuous study of pollution of major interstate waterways shows very low levels of radiation from fallout.

The highest level of strontium 90 found in water collected at 48 sampling stations during the first three months of this year was 4.7 micromicrocuries — or 4.7 millionths of a millionth of a curie —per litre, he told a news conference.

Strontium 90 is the most dangerous element of radioactive fallout. In sufficient quantity it can cause bone cancer. A curie equals the radiation produced by one gram of radium.

Flemming said the high level of 4.7 was found in the Tennessee River at Chattanooga. He contended 4.7 was low in comparison with the 80 micromicrocuries regarded by some experts as the tolerable limit for safety if continued over a lifetime.

Other findings showed a level of 4.5 in the Hudson River at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; 2.9 in the Colorado River at Loma, Colo., and 2.4 in the Arkansas River at Coolidge, Kan., and in the Potomac River at Great Falls, Md.

Flemming said the study eventually will provide precise measurements of all important forms of pollution in the nation's major water resources.

Pays For Giving Wildlife Brake

BOONSBORO, Md. (AP)—David H. Kretzer, 42-year-old Boonsboro man, is well aware of the roadside signs, "Give wildlife a brake."

He did just that recently but it cost him a pretty penny.

Kretzer was driving on Maryland 66 in Washington County when a cottontail hopped across his car's path. Kretzer hit his brakes, swerved to the other side of the road and collided with a truck.

Mrs. Kretzer, riding with him, was taken to a hospital for treatment of arm injuries. Kretzer was charged by State Police with failure to keep to the right. The two vehicles suffered some $500 in damages.

And the rabbit got off scot free.

No Trace Found Of 'Stolen' Wife

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Joseph Mitchell, 24, said Tuesday the case of his "stolen" 18-year-old wife Christine "is in God's hands now." Mitchell's gypsy bride was abducted from a South Charleston laundromat Friday.

"I am doing everything I can to help the police in their search," Mitchell said. "I keep looking through her clothes and purses for any clue at all—a note, address, a name, anything."

Investigating authorities are going on the assumption that Mrs. Mitchell was abducted by relatives.

The worried man told police that his father - in - law had tried to keep them from marrying last year. Mitchell said his father-in-law resented the marriage altogether.

But Mitchell said Tuesday that "I am afraid to give any opinion on the case now, because it may possibly endanger my wife's life."

South Charleston Police Lt. Jim Fenimore said authorities were following up every lead but nothing substantial had been turned up. He said the FBI was not in the case as yet in an official capacity.

"They are working with us in an advisory capacity," he said. He said it was possible that the girl's abductors might try to take her to Canada since she was born there. Her father was said to have been a Canadian citizen.

New Little Rock Battle Looms

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—An all-out battle against any school integration in Little Rock is shaping up.

The segregationist Capital Citizens Council said it will do everything in its power to block racial-mixing in the public schools.

Amis Guthridge, an attorney for the council and one of its official spokesmen, said the people of Little Rock will never accept integration in any form.

The Little Rock School Board is under a federal court order to integrate. It plans to open public high schools in September.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed four high schools against integration last fall but recently a federal court threw out the state school-closing law he used.

Guthridge said the Citizens Council would not fight integration in the courts. He said the council would use "action," but declined to spell out what he meant.

He did say, in reply to a question, that the campaign might encompass public protest rallies.

Anything the council does will be legal, Guthridge said in an interview.

The Citizens Council spearheaded a drive against school integration for several months before the Central High School crisis erupted in September 1957. Guthridge, a charter member of the organization, was active in the segregationist movement at that time.

In criticizing the board's announced intention of using state pupil placement laws next fall, Guthridge declared: "The school board, and all their cohorts, are trying to make these laws acceptable to the public so they will cease to resist."

Grock, Famed Circus Clown, Dies In Italy

IMPERIA, Italy (UPI)—Grock, one of the world's greatest circus clowns, died here Tuesday at the age of 79.

Born Adrian Wettach, the son of a Swiss watchmaker, the rubber-faced Grock made tens of millions of persons roar with laughter during a 60-year sawdust career. He retired from the circus in 1954, but made several TV appearances afterward.

His death was ascribed to angina pectoris. During the past year he had several attacks of heart trouble.

Employment Surges To Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — The greatest number of Americans in history had jobs in June. Quickened factory, farm and building activity pushed civilian employment up to 67,342,000.

The employment gain was 1,326,000 in the month, the Labor Department announced. It climaxed an unprecedented spring upsurge which opened up 4,600,000 jobs in four months.

Unemployment rose, too, as it always does when the school year ends. Two million young job hunters hit the labor market, and not all of them found work.

Joblessness rose by 593,000 to a total of 3,982,000. This was still about 2½ million below the recession level of a year ago. After allowing for seasonal factors, unemployment remained at 4.9 per cent of the civilian labor force.

The outlook for the rest of the year is for some additional decline in unemployment, Labor Department officials said.

It appeared therefore that Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell won't have to eat his hat this fall. In April he promised to do so publicly if joblessness had not dropped below three million by October.

The department's unofficial guess is that there will be 2,600,000 unemployed in that month.

The gain in employment was largely seasonal, reflecting the pickup in farming, construction and other outdoor occupations.

Unemployment rose, too, as it always does when the school year ends. Two million young job hunters hit the labor market, and not all of them found work.

Joblessness rose by 593,000 to a total of 3,982,000. This was still about 2½ million below the recession level of a year ago. After allowing for seasonal factors, unemployment remained at 4.9 per cent of the civilian labor force.

The outlook for the rest of the year is for some additional decline in unemployment, Labor Department officials said.

It appeared therefore that Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell won't have to eat his hat this fall. In April he promised to do so publicly if joblessness had not dropped below three million by October.

The department's unofficial guess is that there will be 2,600,000 unemployed in that month.

The gain in employment was largely seasonal, reflecting the pickup in farming, construction and other outdoor occupations.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name *Preparation H. At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

Council Applies Brake To State Yacht Sale Plan

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Maryland legislators took a "what's - the-rush?" attitude Tuesday toward plans to sell the state yacht Potomac and replace it with a smaller, more economically operated vessel.

The Legislative Council, winding up a three-day Chesapeake Bay cruise aboard the 160-foot yacht, voted to ask Tidewater Fisheries Director H. C. Byrd for more details on his proposal.

At Byrd's suggestion, the fisheries commission asked the Board of Public Works for permission to dispose of the vessel. The board—composed of Gov. Tawes, Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and Treasurer Hooper S. Miles—agreed Monday to let Byrd contact prospective buyers for the submission of sealed bids.

One report was that the yacht, which is also the flagship of the TFC enforcement fleet, may be the subject of negotiations with the revolutionary Cuban government. A marine dealer was reported trying to set up the transaction.

But at a special meeting called aboard the yacht by House Speaker Perry O. Wilkinson (D-Prince Georges), acting president, the council questioned whether the replacement for the Potomac could be bought without legislative approval.

Byrd had said the purpose of the sale was to buy a smaller boat which would serve the same purpose as the Potomac but could be operated more reasonably. He proposed that the savings, estimated at $75,000 a year, be used for the fisheries agency's program of rehabilitating seafood resources of the bay.

The council voted to invite Byrd to its Aug. 4 meeting in Baltimore to answer some questions. Among them: How much could be expected from sale of the Potomac? How much would the replacement cost? By reducing the crew making other changes, would it not be more practical to retain the Potomac?

The meeting to discuss the Potomac was the last session of the three-day council meeting aboard the historic yacht, once the presidential yacht of Franklin D. Roosevelt. The trip included stops at St. Mary's City, Cambridge and Solomons for an inspection of the original State House, the Eastern Shore State Hospital, and the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory.

Shopping Center Closed After Part Of Roof Falls

STEVENSVILLE, Md. (AP) — State Police closed all businesses in the Kent Island Shopping Center Tuesday after part of a supermarket roof collapsed under a heavy load of rain water.

About six customers and five employes escaped injury when some 50 feet of flat roof caved in at the rear of the Acme store during an 11 a.m. deluge.

The Acme is at the western end of the 400-foot long center located on U.S. 50 about five miles East of the Bay Bridge. The building contains nine stores, a beauty shop, a barber shop, a real estate office and a dentist's office.

James I. Robinson, manager of the Acme, said the roof came down without warning. It made a crackling sound and fell slowly from the rear toward the front of the building, he said.

Two of three plate glass windows in the front of the store were pushed outward, probably by wind rushing in.

Tim Nase, operator of a liquor store next door, said he heard a sharp crack like a jet plane breaking the sound barrier but did not realize where it came from until he saw glass on the sidewalk in front of the Acme.

Ralph Hoyt, president of the Tidewater Chamber of Commerce and operator of a hardware store in the center, said there was some panic caused by fear that other sections of the shopping center roof might cave in.

Norman Slacum, manager of the shopping center, said the collapse was probably caused by the weight of rain water on the roof. The section that caved in made up about one-quarter of the store roof, he said.

The shopping center, built about six years ago, is owned by David M. Nichols, former State Roads Commissioner and real estate operator.

The Kent Island Fire Co. responded with an ambulance and two pieces of equipment, but they were not needed. State Police were patrolling the roped-off area.

Bethlehem Set For Shutdown

BALTIMORE (AP) — The roaring furnaces were stilled at the Sparrows Point plant of the Bethlehem Steel Co. as the Tuesday night midnight strike deadline drew near.

A spokesman for the plant, whose capacity to produce 8,200,000 ingot tons a year make it the world's biggest, said preparations for the strike reached "shutdown levels" by early afternoon.

The 26,400-man force of hourly paid workers had undergone preliminary pruning as the three-day shutdown process process progress. More than 12 hours before the strike deadline a Bethlehem official said the preparations were "well advanced."

These included the cooling of 750 coke ovens, the banking and removal of molten iron from 10 blast furnaces, and the tapping — or draining of steel—from 35 open hearth furnaces.

Company and union officials already had worked out a plan for a 24-hour vigilance by 475 maintenance men during the strike. This would minimize the time required to get the big furnaces and equipment back into high gear when the contract stalemate was broken.

Union officials reported picket signs and rosters had been prepared well in advance of the strike deadline. They indicated there would be no mass picketing but all gates to the plant would be covered around the clock by sign-carrying walkers.

Besides the hourly employes, Bethlehem has more than 3,000 other employes at Sparrows Point, bringing the total to 30,000. The non-hourly workers—clerical, technical and supervisory—were expected to be kept on full-time duty, at least during the early part of any strike.

APPROVE RESOLUTION

VANCOUVER, B.C. (UPI)—Western Plywood Co. Ltd. stockholders approved a resolution to offer the option of 150,000 class B voting shares to Georgia Pacific Corp. If exercised, the option will give Georgia - Pacific about 25 per cent interest in the Vancouver company.

Maryland Fruit Prospects Good

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Fruit prospects in Maryland west of the Chesapeake Bay were shaping up as excellent, crop reporters said Tuesday.

The sizeup of the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting service at the University of Maryland said there was some spot picking of early apples and peaches last week in Frederick County.

In the Hancock area of Washington County, harvest of Lodi and Transparent apples was well along. Prospects for fall and winter varieties were good to excellent.

Weekend rains helped to replenish crops, particularly in northern areas from Frederick County to New Castle County, Delaware. Soaking rains that fell Tuesday of this week over the state could also be expected to improve the outlook to be released next week.

Hay yields from recent cuttings have been short and pastures have dried up in most localities. But corn, for which national forecasters have predicted a record crop, was standing up reasonably well in Maryland.

Corn was coming into tassel in areas west of the bay. About 15 to 20 per cent of it on the Eastern Shore and in Southern Maryland had tasseled last week.

Tawes Defends Efforts To Promote Assateague

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes, replying to criticism of his efforts to promote the development of Assateague Island, said Tuesday he had taken steps in the best interests of island property owners.

The criticism came from W. E. Green Sr., retired New York heating contractor who lives on the Worcester County mainland across Sinepuxent Bay from the undeveloped Atlantic island.

Green criticized the governor and the Legislative Council, between-sessions screening arm of the Legislature, after the council turned down his suggestion that it include the island on its three-day trip aboard the State yacht Potomac.

Green, who has proposed the creation of a public authority to promote the construction of a bridge to and development of the island, said the governor and the council apparently were not interested enough in the development of Assateague. About 2,700 property owners who bought lots in the island after World War II find it unfeasible to build summer homes on Assateague until the present inadequate ferry system is replaced by a bridge.

"My interest in Assateague has been demonstrated by the appointment of a commission to study the bridge problem," said Tawes.

He brushed off Green's statement that the governor has "a passion for public office but absolutely none for public service."

Russell H. McCain, aide to the governor, later said he met with Green on July 7 to discuss Green's proposal for a public authority which would undertake the bridge and development of the island. He said he had agreed to visit the island with Green on Aug. 6, the day before the gubernatorial Assateague Island commission is to hold its first meeting. McCain is the governor's representative on the commission, which was set up by the 1959 Legislature.

The governor also said State officials were investigating the possibility of acquiring about 500 acres on the island for use as a public recreation area.

Eligibility Question

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland workers idled by a steel strike may not be eligible for unemployment compensation benefits.

A spokesman for the Department of Employment Security said Tuesday one of the principal factors in judging such a claim is whether the person involved may benefit from the outcome of the strike.

But the spokesman said a given worker's situation may differ from that of a fellow worker. As a result, he invited those who feel they are entitled to compensation to file a claim.

Herter Finally Brings Big 4 Conference To Summit Issue

By J.M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

After weeks in which all parties skirted the topic, U.S., Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has finally brought the Geneva conference around to the issue which is its only realistic objective.

That is the matter of a summit conference.

The foreign secretaries went to Geneva in the first place on notice from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that no matters of substance would be solved at a meeting below the level of chiefs of state.

It was in the cards that he would make his case stick.

All the skirmishing around the issues of West Berlin and German reunification have been, therefore, primarily a matter of establishing positions.

The talks have also permitted the Allies to whistle their way past the graveyard of Khrushchev's original deadline for an end to the occupation of West Berlin. In the course of doing so they have not yet obtained a complete Soviet backdown from the premise that a crisis will yet have to be faced, and that is one of the objectives to which Herter addressed himself as the conference re-opened.

There were reports from London last week that the Soviets were preparing to compromise on the matter of a time limit for a Berlin settlement. Despite this, the lay of the land merely calls for an informal relinquishment of Moscow's original initiative on that point.

Soviet denials of the intention to establish deadlines appear to be a step in this direction. Herter still seems to want to pin them down.

In the meantime, removal of 200 American planes from France to the site of their A-bomb supplies in Britain, while ostensibly a part of a dispute with French President Charles de Gaulle over who should control them, represents a beefing up of the American intention to defend Allied rights in West Berlin by all necessary means.

This will not be lost on the Soviet leaders, and may enhance what seems to be their current desire to substitute talk for any unilateral action which could carry them into undesirable risks.

Khrushchev can see at any rate that deadlines can cause stepped up Allied military measures, including West German rearmament, avoidance of which is fundamental in Kremlin policy.

Resume Friendship

CAIRO (UPI) — Cairo newspapers reported Tuesday that the United Arab Republic and Tunisia had agreed to resume their "normal historic relations" after a nine-month break.

In a 34-acre area, the Regent's park zoo in London holds seven thousand birds, beasts and fish. For the children of the British capital, there is a special play section, presided over by hostesses, where young visitors may mix freely with ponies, goats, rabbits, llamas, woolly lambs and other friendly inmates.

Great Britain gave up its territorial claims to Michigan in 1796.

Herter Finally Brings Big 4 Conference To Summit Issue

By J.M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

After weeks in which all parties skirted the topic, U.S., Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has finally brought the Geneva conference around to the issue which is its only realistic objective.

That is the matter of a summit conference.

The foreign secretaries went to Geneva in the first place on notice from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that no matters of substance would be solved at a meeting below the level of chiefs of state.

It was in the cards that he would make his case stick.

All the skirmishing around the issues of West Berlin and German reunification have been, therefore, primarily a matter of establishing positions.

The talks have also permitted the Allies to whistle their way past the graveyard of Khrushchev's original deadline for an end to the occupation of West Berlin. In the course of doing so they have not yet obtained a complete Soviet backdown from the premise that a crisis will yet have to be faced, and that is one of the objectives to which Herter addressed himself as the conference re-opened.

There were reports from London last week that the Soviets were preparing to compromise on the matter of a time limit for a Berlin settlement. Despite this, the lay of the land merely calls for an informal relinquishment of Moscow's original initiative on that point.

Soviet denials of the intention to establish deadlines appear to be a step in this direction. Herter still seems to want to pin them down.

In the meantime, removal of 200 American planes from France to the site of their A-bomb supplies in Britain, while ostensibly a part of a dispute with French President Charles de Gaulle over who should control them, represents a beefing up of the American intention to defend Allied rights in West Berlin by all necessary means.

This will not be lost on the Soviet leaders, and may enhance what seems to be their current desire to substitute talk for any unilateral action which could carry them into undesirable risks.

Khrushchev can see at any rate that deadlines can cause stepped up Allied military measures, including West German rearmament, avoidance of which is fundamental in Kremlin policy.

Sees Adenauer

BONN (UPI)—John J. McCloy, former U.S. high commissioner in Germany, conferred here Tuesday with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The word "bridal" is a contraction of an Old English term, "Brideale," both bride and ale having been considered necessary for a successful wedding.

Heat Kills Ten

ROME (UPI)—Authorities said Tuesday that at least 10 deaths were reported within the past 24 hours in an Italian heat wave that saw temperatures soar as high as 104 degrees Fahrenheit in some areas of the country.

The world's largest offshore fishing grounds are the Grand Banks, off New Foundland.

Joy Jackson Is Honored At Pre-Nuptial Parties

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie I. Jackson will entertain with a rehearsal party for their daughter, Miss Joy Ann Jackson, and her fiance, Donald Eugene Paupe, Friday evening.

It will be held at their home, 531 Patterson Avenue. Besides members of the bridal party and out-of-town guests, Rev. John Sammel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church; and Rev. Ralph Burnette, pastor of First Christian Church, will attend. Assorted pastel colored flowers will be used in the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson also will be hosts at the wedding reception, which will be at the Ali Ghan Country Club, following the ceremony Saturday at 7 o'clock, in First Christian Church. The bridal motif will be carried out in the all-white flowers and tiered wedding cake.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Allegany High School and is employed on the office staff of the Kelly Springfield Tire Company.

Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Paupe, 810 Shriver Avenue, is a graduate of Allegany High School and of Johns Hopkins University School of Engineering, Baltimore. He is employed as a project engineer with the Celanese Corporation of America.

Among the parties which have been given in compliment to Miss Jackson was a luncheon by Mrs. Paupe and a miscellaneous shower by Mrs. Roy Kurtz and Miss Doris Duckworth, who will be Miss Jackson's bridesmaids.

Mrs. Paupe entertained at the Ali Ghan Country Club Saturday. Pastel colored flowers decorated the table. The favors were ash trays with the picture of the bride-elect and her fiance. Each guest contributed her favorite recipe, which was placed in a fancy box for the bride. The afternoon was spent informally.

Invited guests were Mrs. Kurtz, Mrs. Ivan Miller, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Martin L. Johnson, Mrs. William Darrow, Miss Leona White, Miss Duckworth, Mrs. Michael Finley, Mrs. Martin Sharp, Mrs. Wilbur Flake, Mrs. Elliott Rumer, Miss Clara Smith, Mrs. Stella Twigg, Mrs. William Hopcraft, Mrs. C. P. Britt, Miss Ruth Paupe, Mrs. John Clower, Mrs. Claude McLucas, Mrs. Russell Bucy Sr., Mrs. Russell Bucy Jr., and Mrs. Clara Roeder.

The bridesmaids' shower was held at the Woman's Civic Club house. The gifts were arranged beneath a pink umbrella. Cards and wedding games featured the entertainment.

Guests were Mrs. Frantz Carl, Miss Dorothy Campbell, Mrs. Lee Chenowith, Miss Garnet Fazenbaker, Miss Ann McGraw, Mrs. Dorothy Agress, Mrs. Stella Twigg, Mrs. William Evans, Mrs. Paupe, Miss Ann Hartung, Mrs. Virginia Krnaya, Miss Patricia Golden, Miss Ellen Newnam, Mrs. Lucy Bosley, Miss Patricia Northcraft, Mrs. Louise McDonald, Mrs. Dorothy Tucker, Miss Kathleen Helker, Mrs. Reba Whitehair and Mrs. Jackson.

Auxiliary Picnic To Be July 26

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Bedford Road Firemen formulated plans for a picnic, the annual festival and changed the date of the August meeting, at the regular business session Monday evening at the fire hall. The meeting is to be August 3, instead of the 10th.

July 26 was chosen for the date of the picnic. Supper will be at 5 p. m., and games will begin at 2 o'clock. The auxiliary will provide ham and baked beans. Members are to bring a covered dish. A committee was named to be in charge of games. It includes Mrs. Evelyn Adams, Mrs. Anna Lee Roberts and Mrs. Grace Brady.

The women plan to parade Friday night at the Bowling Green carnival. They are to meet at the Bedford Road fire hall at 6:30. The parade is at 7:30. September 5 was set for the date of the annual festival. A fried chicken supper will be served Saturday at the fire hall from 4:30 until 7:30.

Following the flag salute, Mrs. Dorothy Wilson conducted the business session. She reported on the state convention held at Ocean City. It was attended by 17 women from eight auxiliaries in Allegany County. The fall meeting is to be held in September. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Nancy Growden and Mrs. Roberts. The sunshine report was given by Mrs. Florence Thompson.

Pictures taken at the convention were shown Monday evening. Thirteen members attended. Hostesses were Mrs. Growden, Mrs. Vivian Grapes and Mrs. Catherine Purnell.

Woodman Circle To Hold Outing

Supreme Forest Woodman Circle will hold its regular meeting tonight in the form of a hamburger fry. It will be at the home of Mrs. Edna German, 534 B Street, LaVale, beginning at 6:30.

During the business session reports of the convention, held in Washington in May, will be given. The drill team will repeat the drill for which it received honor.

Check-Up For Make-Up

The woman who is entering the more mature years of her life often needs a cosmetic check-up. A check-up of her make-up particularly, or "make-down," as we prefer to call it, to stress the importance of naturalness. When the youthful vividness of skin and hair begins to soften and change to subtler tones, cosmetics that were flattering before may become too obvious. There's danger here — that shades once gently enhancing now create an effort that's artificial, even harsh.

Try the foundation you're using on the inside of your arm, just as you did when the shade was first chosen. Is there far more contrast between the foundation color and the skin color than you realized? If there is, the foundation looks much heavier on your face now, and there's too marked a difference between the tones of your face and those of your neck and arms.

Try your powder over the foundation to see if it helps or makes matters worse. Examine mascara, eye-shadow and brow coloring in merciless light. And by the way — that's what may have fooled you so long — poor light for make-up which doesn't tell the truth about how you look away from it. Make the necessary lighting arrangements and face facts! We're heading into brighter and brighter outdoor light right now — it can't be avoided in summer.

Experiment with more delicate lipstick shades — you'll be much more fashionable if you do. The newest lip lore tells us of lighter colors, and even white lipstick with color over it — lucky for you especially, if the old bright shades have begun to look garish.

In one instance only, go in for more color. Although you may never have needed rouge before, it may provide exactly the glow your less colorful skin needs now. Choose the shade carefully and use it ever so subtly, according to the shape of your face. This is the best, most natural way to return color to your face after the no-longer-becoming foundation, powder, eye make-up and lipstick have been changed to gentler hues.

Joy Jackson Is Honored At Pre-Nuptial Parties

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie I. Jackson will entertain with a rehearsal party for their daughter, Miss Joy Ann Jackson, and her fiance, Donald Eugene Paupe, Friday evening.

It will be held at their home, 531 Patterson Avenue. Besides members of the bridal party and out-of-town guests, Rev. John Sammel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church; and Rev. Ralph Burnette, pastor of First Christian Church, will attend. Assorted pastel colored flowers will be used in the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson also will be hosts at the wedding reception, which will be at the Ali Ghan Country Club, following the ceremony Saturday at 7 o'clock, in First Christian Church. The bridal motif will be carried out in the all-white flowers and tiered wedding cake.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Allegany High School and is employed on the office staff of the Kelly Springfield Tire Company.

Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Paupe, 810 Shriver Avenue, is a graduate of Allegany High School and of Johns Hopkins University School of Engineering, Baltimore. He is employed as a project engineer with the Celanese Corporation of America.

Rising Market Recoups Third Of Monday's Loss

NEW YORK (UPI) — Steel shares, aluminum stocks, electronics and motors highlighted a stock market rise which restored nearly one-third of Monday's loss.

The gain apparently reflected in part hopes for a last-minute settlement of deadlocked steel wage negotiations but these hopes appeared doomed when just at the market close negotiations collapsed with less than 10 hours remaining before the midnight strike deadline.

With the impact of this collapse not reflected in the market, steels showed gains around a point in Bethlehem and U. S. Steel, 2 in Inland, 3½ in Youngstown Sheet. Aluminum issues had improvement ranging close to 6 points in Reynolds Metals, nearly 3 in Alcoa. Coppers, largely ignoring price cutting in the industry had gains exceeding 2 points in Magma and Cerro de Pasco.

American Motors climbed 2 points and Studebaker Packard rose fractionally, both among the top five active issues. Chrysler gained nearly a point while General Motors and Ford held unchanged. For the second session in a row, Glen Alden was the day's most activety traded stock. It dipped ½ point.

Some of the day's biggest gains came in the electronics where Texas Instruments and Litton each rose more than 8 points, Zenith over 5, Motorola 4 and General Time 3½.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Wheat was lower, but other grains were mostly strong Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the closing bell, wheat was unchanged to off ⅝; corn up 1½ to 2; oats up ¼; new oats off ⅝ to up ⅞; rye up 1⅞ to 2⅞ and soybeans up ¾ to 3½.

With the exception of wheat, buying was active after a quiet opening. Reports of dry weather and reduced acreage were factors, particularly in soybeans, where prices at one point were up 4 cents. Offerings were light.

In wheat, there was moderate hedge selling of September and December. Wheat began firm with commission houses and local traders buying, but an increase of hedging later weakened the market.

Trade in corn was active. Buying was motivated by dryness reports from Illinois and Indiana. Export brokers bought September and December. Some May corn was bought against sales of March wheat and November soybeans. Receipts were small, and spot corn was firm.

Export subsidies were granted on 1,460,000 bushels of corn, 149,000 bushels of oats and 20,000 bushels of rye.

Oats were up more than a cent. Cash house brokers bought new July and September, and commission houses were also good buyers. May closed weak.

Rye continued its strong showing of the last several days, helped by crop prospects which are about one-third less than last year's crop.

The soybean trade was very active. The November and March contracts established new highs for the season on the bulge. Cash houses sold November freely. Last Friday's crop report, which predicted smaller acreage, continued to be a market factor. The range:

Evidence Backs Nudist's Democracy Theory

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A nudist once told me that true democracy can never come until we are all naked as jaybirds.

He contended that inequality began with clothing, that the first man who put on the first bearskin had the first advantage, and that if clothes don't make the man they at least hide his many defects.

Well, this theory never impressed me much until this summer. I have been doing some leisurely research along the Atlantic beaches, and it may be the nudists have something.

You can get the idea better if you play a little game.

Go to some beach that is not heavily populated. Then try to match the bathers with the parked cars. The results are sometimes surprising.

That lady and her husband, both oozing fat, ready for ridicule, or pity. But when fully clothed, and enthroned in the largest car on the lot, they look impressive as they drive away.

Or take that unprepossessing young man, the one with the unathletic walk. He turns out to be the owner of some flashy clothes, and he roars off in a sports car, with the best looking chick on the beach.

Or watch that young couple, who may be on their honeymoon. She frisks around in a fetching blue suit. He has on a striped affair that looks like something a mother zebra might have picked out for her son. Yet when they dress, and climb into their 1951 car, they appear uninteresting, dowdy.

Whether democracy would be served better or worse if we all got closer to the naked truth remains a puzzle.

But dictators recognize the value of external trappings.

Nearly all of them, including those with a civilian background, have been photographed in uniform, their self - satisfied faces looking out over row upon row of bogus medals.

We've never gone in so much for display in this republic, but we have always been uneasy about informality in high places.

Back in 1795 one of our founding fathers, John Jay, was cautioning:

"It appears to me to be a good general rule that the president should very rarely come forward except officially. A degree of reserve seems necessary to the preservation of his dignity and authority."

Possibly no president displayed himself more than Harry Truman. Who can forget those candid shots of Truman, swimming with his specs on, sunning himself at Key West, Fla.? And you know what they said about Harry.

But, sunning yourself on the beach, guessing who goes with what cars, marvelling at how poor most of us look in a swimming suit as we grow older, the dream keeps coming back.

All this talk of a summit conference—maybe it's worth a try. Eisenhower in an old bathing suit, maybe one left over from Abilene. Khrushchev in a pair of trunks. Everyone equal.

Big automobiles, of course, are out. Let them walk to the summit. Let them arrive clad mainly in perspiration and humility. Let them—.

Rising Market Recoups Third Of Monday's Loss

NEW YORK (UPI) — Steel shares, aluminum stocks, electronics and motors highlighted a stock market rise which restored nearly one-third of Monday's loss.

The gain apparently reflected in part hopes for a last-minute settlement of deadlocked steel wage negotiations but these hopes appeared doomed when just at the market close negotiations collapsed with less than 10 hours remaining before the midnight strike deadline.

With the impact of this collapse not reflected in the market, steels showed gains around a point in Bethlehem and U. S. Steel, 2 in Inland, 3½ in Youngstown Sheet. Aluminum issues had improvement ranging close to 6 points in Reynolds Metals, nearly 3 in Alcoa. Coppers, largely ignoring price cutting in the industry had gains exceeding 2 points in Magma and Cerro de Pasco.

American Motors climbed 2 points and Studebaker Packard rose fractionally, both among the top five active issues. Chrysler gained nearly a point while General Motors and Ford held unchanged. For the second session in a row, Glen Alden was the day's most activety traded stock. It dipped ½ point.

Some of the day's biggest gains came in the electronics where Texas Instruments and Litton each rose more than 8 points, Zenith over 5, Motorola 4 and General Time 3½.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Wheat was lower, but other grains were mostly strong Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the closing bell, wheat was unchanged to off ⅝; corn up 1½ to 2; oats up ¼; new oats off ⅝ to up ⅞; rye up 1⅞ to 2⅞ and soybeans up ¾ to 3½.

With the exception of wheat, buying was active after a quiet opening. Reports of dry weather and reduced acreage were factors, particularly in soybeans, where prices at one point were up 4 cents. Offerings were light.

In wheat, there was moderate hedge selling of September and December. Wheat began firm with commission houses and local traders buying, but an increase of hedging later weakened the market.

Trade in corn was active. Buying was motivated by dryness reports from Illinois and Indiana. Export brokers bought September and December. Some May corn was bought against sales of March wheat and November soybeans. Receipts were small, and spot corn was firm.

Export subsidies were granted on 1,460,000 bushels of corn, 149,000 bushels of oats and 20,000 bushels of rye.

Oats were up more than a cent. Cash house brokers bought new July and September, and commission houses were also good buyers. May closed weak.

Rye continued its strong showing of the last several days, helped by crop prospects which are about one-third less than last year's crop.

The soybean trade was very active. The November and March contracts established new highs for the season on the bulge. Cash houses sold November freely. Last Friday's crop report, which predicted smaller acreage, continued to be a market factor. The range:

Evidence Backs Nudist's Democracy Theory

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A nudist once told me that true democracy can never come until we are all naked as jaybirds.

He contended that inequality began with clothing, that the first man who put on the first bearskin had the first advantage, and that if clothes don't make the man they at least hide his many defects.

Well, this theory never impressed me much until this summer. I have been doing some leisurely research along the Atlantic beaches, and it may be the nudists have something.

You can get the idea better if you play a little game.

Go to some beach that is not heavily populated. Then try to match the bathers with the parked cars. The results are sometimes surprising.

That lady and her husband, both oozing fat, ready for ridicule, or pity. But when fully clothed, and enthroned in the largest car on the lot, they look impressive as they drive away.

Or take that unprepossessing young man, the one with the unathletic walk. He turns out to be the owner of some flashy clothes, and he roars off in a sports car, with the best looking chick on the beach.

Or watch that young couple, who may be on their honeymoon. She frisks around in a fetching blue suit. He has on a striped affair that looks like something a mother zebra might have picked out for her son. Yet when they dress, and climb into their 1951 car, they appear uninteresting, dowdy.

Whether democracy would be served better or worse if we all got closer to the naked truth remains a puzzle.

But dictators recognize the value of external trappings.

Nearly all of them, including those with a civilian background, have been photographed in uniform, their self - satisfied faces looking out over row upon row of bogus medals.

We've never gone in so much for display in this republic, but we have always been uneasy about informality in high places.

Back in 1795 one of our founding fathers, John Jay, was cautioning:

"It appears to me to be a good general rule that the president should very rarely come forward except officially. A degree of reserve seems necessary to the preservation of his dignity and authority."

Possibly no president displayed himself more than Harry Truman. Who can forget those candid shots of Truman, swimming with his specs on, sunning himself at Key West, Fla.? And you know what they said about Harry.

But, sunning yourself on the beach, guessing who goes with what cars, marvelling at how poor most of us look in a swimming suit as we grow older, the dream keeps coming back.

All this talk of a summit conference—maybe it's worth a try. Eisenhower in an old bathing suit, maybe one left over from Abilene. Khrushchev in a pair of trunks. Everyone equal.

Big automobiles, of course, are out. Let them walk to the summit. Let them arrive clad mainly in perspiration and humility. Let them—.

Area Child, 6, Is Victim Of Bulbar Polio

Services were held yesterday in Wardensville, W. Va., Cemetery for Gary Lee Rinard, 6, who died Saturday of bulbar-type infantile paralysis.

His death came as he was being rushed to be placed in an iron lung at the Respiratory Center of University of Virginia Hospital, Charlottesville.

The polio victim was the son of Clarence and Dorothy Amanda (Jenkins) Rinard and was born May 5, 1953, in Winchester.

Besides his parents, he is survived by six sisters, Mrs. Ota Feltner, Berryville Va.; Mrs. Jean Bowers, Winchester; Mrs. Shirley Garrett, White Post, Va.; Mrs. Grace Smith, Wardensville, and Hilda and Mary Rinard, at home, and two brothers, Malcolm and Thomas Rinard, also at home.

Dr. Stuart Nottingham, Frederick County, Va. health officer, said the child had been admitted to Winchester Memorial Hospital and his case was diagnosed there as the bulbar type polio.

When this diagnosis was learned the boy was placed in an ambulance to be rushed to an iron lung at the University's hospital's respiratory center, but he died en route.

Dr. Nottingham pointed out that the child had not received Salk anti-polio vaccine.

Phone Bill Check Set By County

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has instructed Mrs. Johanna N. Sills, county auditor, to send telephone bills of the various departments to the head of the units so they could check them.

Purpose of the order was to have the department head list the long distance calls which were legitimate county calls or in the case of the calls being personal ones the department head should submit a check for the amount listed.

The board also instructed the clerk, James G. Stevenson, to insert an advertisement for bids on a new sedan for use by the sheriff's office.

Bids will be opened July 31 at 10:30 a. m. at a board meeting. All bids must be accompanied with an offer for a 1958 sedan which has been used by the sheriff's office.

Notice was received by the board from Earl D. Grim, superintendent of the County Infirmary, stating that three practical nurses at the institution, Jane A. Ours, Margaret A. Wade and Etta H. Wilson, will complete the six-month probationary period on Thursday and asked that they be given permanent status. He said their work has been satisfactory.

The permanent status was granted Francis Llewellyn and George Broadwater, of Moscow, complained of a neighbor who erected posts in a roadway in the rear of the Post Office in the community.

Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, said the road is not in the county system and the matter would have to be handled among the parties involved.

Commissioner William A. Wilson asked Skelly if his department could use a number of wooden lockers which are stored at the County Infirmary. Skelly said the lockers could be used at the Franklin Street garage to store supplies.

Presents Painting

FLORENCE, Italy (UPI) — Bernard Berenson, expatriate American art critic and writer, has presented the city of Florence with a valuable painting by early 14th Century artist Ambrogio Lorenzetti, of Siena. The painting of "Madonna and Child," completing the central panel of a triptych work, was formally handed to city officials Monday night at a ceremony in the Uffizi Gallery.

Former Local Man Posts Bond On Bookie Charges

A former Cumberland man, Larry Harbell, also known as Larry Orbello, posted $1,000 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court in Hagerstown for his appearance in the November term of Washington County Circuit Court on a charge of bookmaking.

Also held under the same amount on the same charge was his bartender at the B and L Tavern which he operates at 76 Madison Avenue in Hagerstown, —44-year-old Clarence Kean.

Both men posted their bonds and were released. Harbell is represented by John Hollyday, Hagerstown attorney and former Washington County state's attorney.

At the hearing yesterday, the state prayed a jury trial.

The two men were arrested Saturday by Hagerstown police headed by Det. Sgt. Grayson Wigfield and five other members of the Detective Bureau.

Acting on warrants issued by Hagerstown Magistrate William Dwyer, the raiders entered the tavern and went to Harbell's bedroom on the second floor.

Sgt. Wigfield said the air conditioned room had been set up as an office for making horse bets and recording race results.

The detectives took an array of betting slips as well as a maze of electronic equipment including an all-bands radio receiver, an AM-FM radio set, a tape recorder and two telephones.

The raiders found the wiring in the building so complicated they had to summon a telephone company expert and a police radio technician to determine its capabilities.

Police at Hagerstown said the raid was one of the biggest in recent Hagerstown history.

Intra-City Pet Show Slated At Park Tonight

The Recreation Department emphasized yesterday that today's intracity playground pet show is open to the general public.

The annual event will be staged at 7:30 p. m. in the Little League baseball field area of Constitution Park.

Mrs. Eva M. Hogan, assistant recreation director, said the Allegany County Animal Welfare Society is cooperating and will have three representatives on hand. They are Louis Young, Mrs. George Young and Mrs. Earle Cobey. Judges will be Dr. C. N. Foose, Mrs. J. Edgar McMannis and Mrs. James Taylor.

Pet displays by playgrounds will be in an arena arrangement affording easy viewing by spectators. Each playground will have a stall or booth for display of its pets and judges will go to each booth rather than the animals being moved, Mrs. Hogan said.

All contestants are reminded to have pets caged or on leash.

As a result of the cooperation of the Animal Welfare Society, pet clubs have been formed on all playgrounds and members issued buttons and cards in addition to pamphlets on care of pets. From these clubs, the senior society hopes to form a Junior Animal Welfare Society, Mrs. Hogan said.

Assault Trial Set

John Oldaker, this city, was ordered held under $500 bond for action of the October term of Allegany County Circuit Court on a charge of assault.

Oldaker was arrested Monday by City Police after he allegedly assaulted Glenn Sponaugle, 67, of 213 Union Street.

He was taken before Trial Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti yesterday and prayed a jury trial. Magistrate Carpenti set bond at $500.

City Police, who investigated, said Sponaugle informed them he was sitting on a bench on Baltimore Street when Oldaker struck him with a cane. Sponaugle was treated at Memorial Hospital for right eye and elbow injuries.

Local Man Gets 90 Days In Jail

Alvin Boor, 44, of Grandview Terrace, was sentenced to 90 days in the Allegany County Jail yesterday after a hearing in Juvenile Court.

Magistrate Louis Fatkin sentenced the man after finding him guilty of neglect of his three minor children.

Grahamtown Streets Will Be Oiled

The Allegany County Roads Department will be oiling a number of streets in Grahamtown on Friday and next Monday and Tuesday, according to Harry Skelly, roads supervisor.

Skelly requests residents on Graham, Green, Walnut, Wright, Armstrong and Glenn streets and Louisiana Avenue to park their cars off the streets on those days to allow the oil distributor machine to properly spray the material.

The streets will be given a light surface treatment with the emulsified asphalt and chips, Skelly said.

Phone Bill Check Set By County

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has instructed Mrs. Johanna N. Sills, county auditor, to send telephone bills of the various departments to the head of the units so they could check them.

Purpose of the order was to have the department head list the long distance calls which were legitimate county calls or in the case of the calls being personal ones the department head should submit a check for the amount listed.

The board also instructed the clerk, James G. Stevenson, to insert an advertisement for bids on a new sedan for use by the sheriff's office.

Bids will be opened July 31 at 10:30 a. m. at a board meeting. All bids must be accompanied with an offer for a 1958 sedan which has been used by the sheriff's office.

Notice was received by the board from Earl D. Grim, superintendent of the County Infirmary, stating that three practical nurses at the institution, Jane A. Ours, Margaret A. Wade and Etta H. Wilson, will complete the six-month probationary period on Thursday and asked that they be given permanent status. He said their work has been satisfactory.

The permanent status was granted Francis Llewellyn and George Broadwater, of Moscow, complained of a neighbor who erected posts in a roadway in the rear of the Post Office in the community.

Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, said the road is not in the county system and the matter would have to be handled among the parties involved.

Commissioner William A. Wilson asked Skelly if his department could use a number of wooden lockers which are stored at the County Infirmary. Skelly said the lockers could be used at the Franklin Street garage to store supplies.

Presents Painting

FLORENCE, Italy (UPI) — Bernard Berenson, expatriate American art critic and writer, has presented the city of Florence with a valuable painting by early 14th Century artist Ambrogio Lorenzetti, of Siena. The painting of "Madonna and Child," completing the central panel of a triptych work, was formally handed to city officials Monday night at a ceremony in the Uffizi Gallery.

Former Local Man Posts Bond On Bookie Charges

A former Cumberland man, Larry Harbell, also known as Larry Orbello, posted $1,000 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court in Hagerstown for his appearance in the November term of Washington County Circuit Court on a charge of bookmaking.

Also held under the same amount on the same charge was his bartender at the B and L Tavern which he operates at 76 Madison Avenue in Hagerstown —44-year-old Clarence Kean.

Both men posted their bonds and were released. Harbell is represented by John Hollyday, Hagerstown attorney and former Washington County state's attorney.

At the hearing yesterday, the state prayed a jury trial.

The two men were arrested Saturday by Hagerstown police headed by Det. Sgt. Grayson Wigfield and five other members of the Detective Bureau.

Acting on warrants issued by Hagerstown Magistrate William Dwyer, the raiders entered the tavern and went to Harbell's bedroom on the second floor.

Sgt. Wigfield said the air conditioned room had been set up as an office for making horse bets and recording race results.

The detectives took an array of betting slips as well as a maze of electronic equipment including an all-bands radio receiver, an AM-FM radio set, a tape recorder and two telephones.

The raiders found the wiring in the building so complicated they had to summon a telephone company expert and a police radio technician to determine its capabilities.

Police at Hagerstown said the raid was one of the biggest in recent Hagerstown history.

Intra-City Pet Show Slated At Park Tonight

The Recreation Department emphasized yesterday that today's intracity playground pet show is open to the general public.

The annual event will be staged at 7:30 p. m. in the Little League baseball field area of Constitution Park.

Mrs. Eva M. Hogan, assistant recreation director, said the Allegany County Animal Welfare Society is cooperating and will have three representatives on hand. They are Louis Young, Mrs. George Young and Mrs. Earle Cobey. Judges will be Dr. C. N. Foose, Mrs. J. Edgar McMannis and Mrs. James Taylor.

Pet displays by playgrounds will be in an arena arrangement affording easy viewing by spectators. Each playground will have a stall or booth for display of its pets and judges will go to each booth rather than the animals being moved, Mrs. Hogan said.

All contestants are reminded to have pets caged or on leash.

As a result of the cooperation of the Animal Welfare Society, pet clubs have been formed on all playgrounds and members issued buttons and cards in addition to pamphlets on care of pets. From these clubs, the senior society hopes to form a Junior Animal Welfare Society, Mrs. Hogan said.

Assault Trial Set

John Oldaker, this city, was ordered held under $500 bond for action of the October term of Allegany County Circuit Court on a charge of assault.

Oldaker was arrested Monday by City Police after he allegedly assaulted Glenn Sponaugle, 67, of 213 Union Street.

He was taken before Trial Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti yesterday and prayed a jury trial. Magistrate Carpenti set bond at $500.

City Police, who investigated, said Sponaugle informed them he was sitting on a bench on Baltimore Street when Oldaker struck him with a cane. Sponaugle was treated at Memorial Hospital for right eye and elbow injuries.

Local Man Gets 90 Days In Jail

Alvin Boor, 44, of Grandview Terrace, was sentenced to 90 days in the Allegany County Jail yesterday after a hearing in Juvenile Court.

Magistrate Louis Fatkin sentenced the man after finding him guilty of neglect of his three minor children.

Grahamtown Streets Will Be Oiled

The Allegany County Roads Department will be oiling a number of streets in Grahamtown on Friday and next Monday and Tuesday, according to Harry Skelly, roads supervisor.

Skelly requests residents on Graham, Green, Walnut, Wright, Armstrong and Glenn streets and Louisiana Avenue to park their cars off the streets on those days to allow the oil distributor machine to properly spray the material.

The streets will be given a light surface treatment with the emulsified asphalt and chips, Skelly said.

Tax Hearing Opens Today At Moorefield

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. (UPI) — The second of four public hearings to air suggestions for improving West Virginia's tax structure will be held here Wednesday.

The State Tax Study Commission comes here from Moundsville where it conducted the first hearing Monday. It received a variety of testimony generally describing the present tax setup as antiquated, unfair and unsound.

Chief among those expected to appear here is State Senate President Ralph J. Bean, Moorefield. Several area business leaders also will make oral and written statements. The hearing will take place in the local Moose hall.

Additional hearings will be held next Monday at Bluefield and Tuesday at Charleston.

Two members of the Study Commission escaped injury in an auto accident after leaving Moundsville. Chairman Charles Love and Ernest James, both of Charleston, were only shaken up in a collision north of Morgantown Monday night.

James' wife suffered an ankle injury. Love's mother-in-law and a small girl riding with them received minor cuts. The driver of the other car was arrested on a drunk driving charge.

Three Faculty Appointments Made At Frostburg College

FROSTBURG — President R. Bowen Hardesty, president of Frostburg State Teachers College, has announced the appointment of three new persons to the faculty of the college.

John Otto Schump, Delta, Ohio, will be an additional instructor in the Art Department.

Glenn Orrick Workman Jr., Winston Salem, N. C., is an additional instructor in the Science Department teaching biology and Physical Science.

Janice Mae Griewahn, Erie, Pa., also appointed in the Science Department, will teach Chemistry and Micro-Biology, replacing Leonard Luzenshy, resigned.

Mr. Schump, a native of Michigan, is married and has one child. He received his Bachelors (BFA) Degree and BSE Degree from Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, his MA Degree from Michigan State University and has done additional work towards his doctorate.

He has taught in Delta School, Mich. He is a member of Kappa Phi Kapp, national education honorary fraternity; Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic honorary fraternity; Tau Kappa Alpha, national debating honorary fraternity and the Lambda Chi Alpha. He is also a member of the education associations both state and national.

Mr. Workman is a native of Keyser and received his B. S. Degree from West Virginia University in 1951 and his MS degree in 1922. He is completing his doctorate at the same institution. He is a member of Sigma Xi, Phi Epsilon Phi, the West Virginia Academy of Science, and the Southern Appalachian Botanical Club.

He has taught in Salem College at Winston-Salem and West Virginia University.

Miss Griewahn, a native of Erie, received her BS Degree in 1947 and MA Degree in 1950 from the University of Pittsburgh and has done additional work at the same institution towards her doctorate.

She has taught at the University of Pittsburgh and West Liberty State Teachers College. She is a member of Sigma Xi and Phi Sigma, women's honorary science sorority.

President Hardesty also announced that other faculty members will be added to the staff as their applications are processed.

The bluejay often eats the eggs and young from the nests of smaller birds.

The members of the Mt. Savage Water Co. are asked not to water their lawns or gardens or wash their automobiles during the scarcity of water. If found doing so, their supply will be cut off as explained in their agreement.

Tax Hearing Opens Today At Moorefield

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. (UPI) — The second of four public hearings to air suggestions for improving West Virginia's tax structure will be held here Wednesday.

The State Tax Study Commission comes here from Moundsville where it conducted the first hearing Monday. It received a variety of testimony generally describing the present tax setup as antiquated, unfair and unsound.

Chief among those expected to appear here is State Senate President Ralph J. Bean, Moorefield. Several area business leaders also will make oral and written statements. The hearing will take place in the local Moose hall.

Additional hearings will be held next Monday at Bluefield and Tuesday at Charleston.

Two members of the Study Commission escaped injury in an auto accident after leaving Moundsville. Chairman Charles Love and Ernest James, both of Charleston, were only shaken up in a collision north of Morgantown Monday night.

James' wife suffered an ankle injury. Love's mother-in-law and a small girl riding with them received minor cuts. The driver of the other car was arrested on a drunk driving charge.

Pendleton County Wins Regional 4-H Livestock Event

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—Pendleton County has won the Eastern regional 4-H livestock judging contest and is eligible to compete in the State 4-H livestock judging contest August 28 in conjunction with the State Fair at Lewisburg.

Members of the regional championship team are Joe Harper, Bobby Adamson and Steve Conrad, who recorded a score of 1,159 points. The regional individual winner was Roger Kessell of Hardy County with 400 points. Hardy and Grant counties trailed the Pendleton team.

Other regional winners are Roane County, Southwestern region; Greenbrier County Greenbrier region, and Doddridge County, North Central region.

Picnic Today

LONACONING—Two busses of picnickers will leave today for the annual outing of the First Methodist Church Sunday School and members at Celanese park and pool.

Three Faculty Appointments Made At Frostburg College

FROSTBURG — President R. Bowen Hardesty, president of Frostburg State Teachers College, has announced the appointment of three new persons to the faculty of the college.

John Otto Schump, Delta, Ohio, will be an additional instructor in the Art Department.

Glenn Orrick Workman Jr., Winston Salem, N. C., is an additional instructor in the Science Department teaching biology and Physical Science.

Janice Mae Griewahn, Erie, Pa., also appointed in the Science Department, will teach Chemistry and Micro-Biology, replacing Leonard Luzenshy, resigned.

Mr. Schump, a native of Michigan, is married and has one child. He received his Bachelors (BFA) Degree and BSE Degree from Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, his MA Degree from Michigan State University and has done additional work towards his doctorate.

He has taught in Delta School, Mich. He is a member of Kappa Phi Kapp, national education honorary fraternity; Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic honorary fraternity; Tau Kappa Alpha, national debating honorary fraternity and the Lambda Chi Alpha. He is also a member of the education associations both state and national.

Mr. Workman is a native of Keyser and received his B. S. Degree from West Virginia University in 1951 and his MS degree in 1922. He is completing his doctorate at the same institution. He is a member of Sigma Xi, Phi Epsilon Phi, the West Virginia Academy of Science, and the Southern Appalachian Botanical Club.

He has taught in Salem College at Winston-Salem and West Virginia University.

Miss Griewahn, a native of Erie, received her BS Degree in 1947 and MA Degree in 1950 from the University of Pittsburgh and has done additional work at the same institution towards her doctorate.

She has taught at the University of Pittsburgh and West Liberty State Teachers College. She is a member of Sigma Xi and Phi Sigma, women's honorary science sorority.

President Hardesty also announced that other faculty members will be added to the staff as their applications are processed.

The bluejay often eats the eggs and young from the nests of smaller birds.

The members of the Mt. Savage Water Co. are asked not to water their lawns or gardens or wash their automobiles during the scarcity of water. If found doing so, their supply will be cut off as explained in their agreement.

County Division Heads To Review Purchase Plan

Various county department heads will be called in by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and again be given instructions on the procedure to be followed in making purchases.

Commissioner John J. Rowan said yesterday that there seems to be a misunderstanding on the part of some department supervisors on what they are required to do under the system instituted some time ago.

The matter came up at yesterday's session of the board after Commissioner John Tucker Mason had inquired about the bills submitted for payment of bounty fees. Commissioner Mason also pointed to a number of bills submitted for approval without the purchase order or requisition having first been submitted.

Commissioner Rowan, who seemed quite perturbed by the close scrutiny of Commissioner Mason on the bounty fee bills, said he was "tired of the bickering about non-competitive items such as the bounty fee payments and believed the commissioners should act to straighten out the situation."

Rowan also said that the three commissioners were elected to handle the county's business and "We don't have four members on the board." This last was an obvious reference to Mason's telephone call to a committee member which set up the purchase order program.

Mason told Rowan "You blew your stack, but I'm only interested in learning what's going on."

Mrs. Johanna N. Sills, county auditor, said that the clerical employes in her office are burdened by the extra work on some of the items they must check. Commissioner Mason said he was not blaming Mrs. Sills, but that the department heads either don't know they are required to follow the purchase order procedure or else are ignoring it entirely.

Commissioner Mason also commented that the committee named by the board to set up the new program has made recommendations and the board should follow them.

ANNOUNCE PRICE BOOST

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) —Douglas Aircraft Co., Inc., announced that prices of its new DC8 jet transport will be boosted as much as 10 per cent starting August 15, reflecting higher labor and material costs. Average cost of the planes now is $5 million in five variations.

The Red river delta of Indo-China has one of the highest concentrations of population in the world.

Early Peach Harvest Starts This Week

The first varieties of early peaches will appear on local markets this week, a check of area growers reports.

R. L. Sumner, Romney, manager of Mountain Fruit Sales, a cooperative of Hampshire County orchardists, said Early Red Free variety of peach will begin to be picked today.

And H. W. Miller, Jr., executive vice president of Consolidated Orchards, Inc., Paw Paw, said the Irons Mountain peaches will also begin to be marketed this week.

Sumner said the Early Red Frees from the Hampshire fruit belt will be limited in volume. They will be followed in a week, also in a limited amount, by Red Haven.

The first commercial peaches to be shipped in quantity to the Pittsburgh, Altoona and Baltimore-Washington markets will be the Golden Jubilees in the week of July 20.

Between August 5 and August 10, the second commercial variety will be packed, the Hale Havens.

The largest shipment of any peach will be the Elbertas starting August 17.

Sumner said the harvest of each variety will be a few days earlier than usual.

The main volume of peaches are picked during the last two weeks in August and there is usually a marketing problem around Labor Day if it falls around September 1 and 2.

This year it falls September 7, giving the growers additional time to get the perishable peaches in the markets so there will be no loss through spoiling during the long Labor Day Weekend.

Early peaches from the Georgia orchards are bringing good prices in metropolitan areas.

But the early Transparent apples situation is so bad that the big markets do not want them. There is no demand for the Transparents two inches and up when the larger early Lodis are available.

In fact, one shipper seeking even to place the early Transparents on consignment was told by the dealer that in all honesty it would not pay to send them to Baltimore.

REDUCE SHIPPING COSTS

SHREVEPORT, La. (UPI) — Texas Eastern Transmission said it is reducing the cost of shipping liquified petroleum gases via the Little Big Inch pipeline by about 20 per cent starting July 15.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—The plans of Joe Levine, of Boston, Mass., sound like the good old days when millions were so lightly discussed. Levine is in town to arrange for the opening of "Hercules" on July 29 at 12 drive-ins and six theatres. Levine tells me that he has released 1600 prints of "Hercules" since it opened July 1 in the East.

He now has a brankroll of $6,000,000 to make his next picture, "The Great Flood," with Burl Ives playing Noah and Raoul Walsh directing.

Also, among the 12 unreleased pictures of this amazing Mr. Levine are "Jack the Ripper", Gina Lollobrigida's "The Law", and a sequel to "Hercules."

I'm happy to report that motion pictures have lured Spring Byington back after five long years in which she made a fabulous success in "December Bride" on TV. It is Joe Pasternak who talked Spring into playing Doris Day's mother in "Please Don't Eat the Daisies." Her fans will be glad to welcome Spring back to the movies.

Joe tells me that he has had to abandon hope of getting Sam "The Shaggy Dog" for the same picture. Sam made a lot of fans in Walt Disney's "Shaggy Dog" comedy—kids just loved him. So Joe has signed a mongrel named Hobo, and since Hobo doesn't read my column he won't know he's second choice.

When Madame Marie-Louise Bousquet, the charming Paris editor of Harper's Bazaar, was in Hollywood she met many members of the film colony. Among them were Pamela and James Mason who were so fascinated by the madame's famous salon in Paris that together they wrote a screen play called "Paris Salon."

Edouard L. Cournand, president of Lanvin Perfumes, who is a very close friend of Madame Bousquet and who gave a dinner in her honor when she was in Hollywood, is financing "Paris Salon" for United Artists release, and he's hoping to get Madame Bousquet as technical advisor. The movie will be made in France with both Pamela and James Mason starring.

From Germany Van Heflin writes:

"The most dramatic sight your correspondent has ever witnessed is Berlin by night from the air. The West is lighted and gay, East Berlin dark and somber—symbolic to say the least. The West Berliners seem to love the Americans.

"I have lost count of the number of receptions I have attended. I am off to one now given by the archbishop of Berlin, Julius Cardinal Dophener. This is being dashed off hastily since as official U.S. State Department delegate to the Berlin Film Festival, I am doubling in brass as a would-be diplomat and an actor."

Van starts "Jovanka" July 15.

When Director Richard Quine's divorce becomes final Oct. 28 he and Kim Novak will be right in the midst of shooting "Strangers When We Meet." So all the rumors that they'll marry immediately probably aren't true. But I do believe that Kim will marry her director when he is free and the picture is completed.

He has been in love with her for a long time.

Opening lead: King of ♠.

Declarer went set on today's contract due to an impairment of vision whereby his eyes were focused on losers rather than winners.

Against the four heart bid, the king of spades was opened and won with the ace. It seemed like smooth sailing until West answered declarer's ace of trumps with the seven of spades. Declarer then tried to drop the doubleton queen-jack of diamonds, and when this did not come off he declared himself down one, conceding two trumps, a diamond, and a spade. It is our diagnosis that declarer was afflicted with myopia.

Even if a hand is doomed to failure, declarer might as well play it out in the hope that something will happen. In this case, if declarer had counted winners instead of losers he might have seen that the contract was probably there for the asking. He could arrange to ruff one spade in the dummy and, if he could ruff three clubs in his own hand, the total would be brought to 10 tricks — six tricks in aces and kings and the other four in ruffs.

When the trump break is discovered, declarer should play ace and a club, ruffing in his hand. Now he leads the jack of spades. West will win and will probably shift to a diamond. Declarer captures East's queen and ruffs a spade in dummy. Another club is ruffed in the closed hand and, after the other high diamond is cashed dummy is entered with the king of trumps in order to lead the last club to be ruffed with declarer's remaining trump for trick number 10. In the end, East's trump and West's good diamond will fall together.

Where a hand lends itself to cross-ruff technique, the problem is easier to visualize if declarer will count his winners.

Shipyard Workers Reject Pact Offer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Workers at the Sparrows Point Shipyard of the Bethlehem Steel Co. have rejected the company's contract proposal.

Negotiations are underway in New York, where eight Bethlehem locals are bargaining as a unit with the company.

The vote to reject the proposal came late Monday after more than 1,300 members of Local 33, Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers, met to hear reports on the negotiations.

Union officials contended company proposals would mean reductions in night-shift premiums, and in vacation, holiday, jury duty and military leave pay.

The union members also authorized the local's executive committee to call for a strike vote any time up to the contract expiration date of July 31.

CUT SHIPMENT RATES

CHICAGO (UPI)—Union Stockyards and Transit Co. announced that Eastern railroads will cut their rates on hog shipments eastbound from Chicago by 15 per cent effective Wednesday. The new rates apply to shipments on all sizes of cars with a minimum of 27 thousand pounds. Shipments under the minimum will continue under the old rate.

New Building Code Adopted By City

A building code adopted by the Mayor and Council Monday provides for appointment of a "building official" but Mayor J. Edwin Keech said yesterday no one will be hired for the position.

Instead, Mayor Keech said, duties of the building official will be assumed by City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum who has been serving as building engineer, in addition to his other duties, for some time.

The building code, like the fire prevention code adopted in December, 1958, is a voluminous document. When written into the minute books, it will probably cover more than the 68 pages taken up by the fire code.

It provides for regulations governing construction, alterations, removal, demolition, equipment, use and occupancy, location and maintenance of buildings and structures.

In matters affecting property, council approved a bid by Ray L. Settle, 418 Broadway, for a parcel of city-owned land adjoining his property. Referred to the city engineer was an offer made by Sidney H. Phillips to exchange property he owns for some city-owned land on Cromwell Terrace. Phillips said he had a prospect interested in building on the plot.

Council rejected the only bid offered for purchase of an electric concrete saw on recommendation of Franklin J. Blaney, sanitary engineer, who advised the issue be readvertised to include blades.

L. V. Lowery, 714 Frederick Street, appeared before council to inquire about plans for restoring a section of the street to its original condition. He said macadam was torn up five years ago to install a gas shutoff valve and never replaced to its original condition as provided in city ordinances.

He also asked about the city's beautification plans and pointed out that some lots in the Bedford Road area have weeds five feet high and the city should cut them. He said the Recreation Department had cleared three lots belonging to a local businessman when a playground was nearby. Mayor Keech said the lots were offered by the owner, they were cleared and the area used by children of the area to play.

Man Facing Charge Of Moonshining

A McCoole area man turned himself in to Allegany County authorities yesterday after he learned he was wanted on a moonshine charge.

The man, George (Bud) Fazenbaker, telephoned Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein and then drove to Cumberland with a bondsman.

Fazenbaker was taken to Trial Magistrates Court where bond was set at $1,000 for his appearance at the next term of Circuit Court.

Authorities said Fazenbaker was wanted in connection with the operation of a still for the manufacture of whisky on the road between Swanton and Bloomington.

Another man, Claude Paugh, was arrested by federal and state authorities in June at the location of the still.

Paugh was tried last week before Magistrate Robert M. Maroney in Oakland and given a suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction.

In fact, one shipper seeking even to place the early Transparents on consignment was told by the dealer that in all honesty it would not pay to send them to Baltimore.

REDUCE SHIPPING COSTS

SHREVEPORT, La. (UPI) — Texas Eastern Transmission said it is reducing the cost of shipping liquified petroleum gases via the Little Big Inch pipeline by about 20 per cent starting July 15.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—The plans of Joe Levine, of Boston, Mass., sound like the good old days when millions were so lightly discussed. Levine is in town to arrange for the opening of "Hercules" on July 29 at 12 drive-ins and six theatres. Levine tells me that he has released 1600 prints of "Hercules" since it opened July 1 in the East.

He now has a brankroll of $6,000,000 to make his next picture, "The Great Flood," with Burl Ives playing Noah and Raoul Walsh directing.

Also, among the 12 unreleased pictures of this amazing Mr. Levine are "Jack the Ripper", Gina Lollobrigida's "The Law", and a sequel to "Hercules."

I'm happy to report that motion pictures have lured Spring Byington back after five long years in which she made a fabulous success in "December Bride" on TV. It is Joe Pasternak who talked Spring into playing Doris Day's mother in "Please Don't Eat the Daisies." Her fans will be glad to welcome Spring back to the movies.

Joe tells me that he has had to abandon hope of getting Sam "The Shaggy Dog" for the same picture. Sam made a lot of fans in Walt Disney's "Shaggy Dog" comedy—kids just loved him. So Joe has signed a mongrel named Hobo, and since Hobo doesn't read my column he won't know he's second choice.

When Madame Marie-Louise Bousquet, the charming Paris editor of Harper's Bazaar, was in Hollywood she met many members of the film colony. Among them were Pamela and James Mason who were so fascinated by the madame's famous salon in Paris that together they wrote a screen play called "Paris Salon."

Edouard L. Cournand, president of Lanvin Perfumes, who is a very close friend of Madame Bousquet and who gave a dinner in her honor when she was in Hollywood, is financing "Paris Salon" for United Artists release, and he's hoping to get Madame Bousquet as technical advisor. The movie will be made in France with both Pamela and James Mason starring.

From Germany Van Heflin writes:

"The most dramatic sight your correspondent has ever witnessed is Berlin by night from the air. The West is lighted and gay, East Berlin dark and somber—symbolic to say the least. The West Berliners seem to love the Americans.

"I have lost count of the number of receptions I have attended. I am off to one now given by the archbishop of Berlin, Julius Cardinal Dophener. This is being dashed off hastily since as official U.S. State Department delegate to the Berlin Film Festival, I am doubling in brass as a would-be diplomat and an actor."

Van starts "Jovanka" July 15.

When Director Richard Quine's divorce becomes final Oct. 28 he and Kim Novak will be right in the midst of shooting "Strangers When We Meet." So all the rumors that they'll marry immediately probably aren't true. But I do believe that Kim will marry her director when he is free and the picture is completed.

He has been in love with her for a long time.

The bidding:

Opening lead: King of ♠.

Declarer went set on today's contract due to an impairment of vision whereby his eyes were focused on losers rather than winners.

Against the four heart bid, the king of spades was opened and won with the ace. It seemed like smooth sailing until West answered declarer's ace of trumps with the seven of spades. Declarer then tried to drop the doubleton queen-jack of diamonds, and when this did not come off he declared himself down one, conceding two trumps, a diamond, and a spade. It is our diagnosis that declarer was afflicted with myopia.

Even if a hand is doomed to failure, declarer might as well play it out in the hope that something will happen. In this case, if declarer had counted winners instead of losers he might have seen that the contract was probably there for the asking. He could arrange to ruff one spade in the dummy and, if he could ruff three clubs in his own hand, the total would be brought to 10 tricks — six tricks in aces and kings and the other four in ruffs.

When the trump break is discovered, declarer should play ace and a club, ruffing in his hand. Now he leads the jack of spades. West will win and will probably shift to a diamond. Declarer captures East's queen and ruffs a spade in dummy. Another club is ruffed in the closed hand and, after the other high diamond is cashed dummy is entered with the king of trumps in order to lead the last club to be ruffed with declarer's remaining trump for trick number 10. In the end, East's trump and West's good diamond will fall together.

Where a hand lends itself to cross-ruff technique, the problem is easier to visualize if declarer will count his winners.

Shipyard Workers Reject Pact Offer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Workers at the Sparrows Point Shipyard of the Bethlehem Steel Co. have rejected the company's contract proposal.

Negotiations are underway in New York, where eight Bethlehem locals are bargaining as a unit with the company.

The vote to reject the proposal came late Monday after more than 1,300 members of Local 33, Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers, met to hear reports on the negotiations.

Union officials contended company proposals would mean reductions in night-shift premiums, and in vacation, holiday, jury duty and military leave pay.

The union members also authorized the local's executive committee to call for a strike vote any time up to the contract expiration date of July 31.

CUT SHIPMENT RATES

CHICAGO (UPI)—Union Stockyards and Transit Co. announced that Eastern railroads will cut their rates on hog shipments eastbound from Chicago by 15 per cent effective Wednesday. The new rates apply to shipments on all sizes of cars with a minimum of 27 thousand pounds. Shipments under the minimum will continue under the old rate.

New Building Code Adopted By City

A building code adopted by the Mayor and Council Monday provides for appointment of a "building official" but Mayor J. Edwin Keech said yesterday no one will be hired for the position.

Instead, Mayor Keech said, duties of the building official will be assumed by City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum who has been serving as building engineer, in addition to his other duties, for some time.

The building code, like the fire prevention code adopted in December, 1958, is a voluminous document. When written into the minute books, it will probably cover more than the 68 pages taken up by the fire code.

It provides for regulations governing construction, alterations, removal, demolition, equipment, use and occupancy, location and maintenance of buildings and structures.

In matters affecting property, council approved a bid by Ray L. Settle, 418 Broadway, for a parcel of city-owned land adjoining his property. Referred to the city engineer was an offer made by Sidney H. Phillips to exchange property he owns for some city-owned land on Cromwell Terrace. Phillips said he had a prospect interested in building on the plot.

Council rejected the only bid offered for purchase of an electric concrete saw on recommendation of Franklin J. Blaney, sanitary engineer, who advised the issue be readvertised to include blades.

L. V. Lowery, 714 Frederick Street, appeared before council to inquire about plans for restoring a section of the street to its original condition. He said macadam was torn up five years ago to install a gas shutoff valve and never replaced to its original condition as provided in city ordinances.

He also asked about the city's beautification plans and pointed out that some lots in the Bedford Road area have weeds five feet high and the city should cut them. He said the Recreation Department had cleared three lots belonging to a local businessman when a playground was nearby. Mayor Keech said the lots were offered by the owner, they were cleared and the area used by children of the area to play.

Man Facing Charge Of Moonshining

A McCoole area man turned himself in to Allegany County authorities yesterday after he learned he was wanted on a moonshine charge.

The man, George (Bud) Fazenbaker, telephoned Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein and then drove to Cumberland with a bondsman.

Fazenbaker was taken to Trial Magistrates Court where bond was set at $1,000 for his appearance at the next term of Circuit Court.

Authorities said Fazenbaker was wanted in connection with the operation of a still for the manufacture of whisky on the road between Swanton and Bloomington.

Another man, Claude Paugh, was arrested by federal and state authorities in June at the location of the still.

Paugh was tried last week before Magistrate Robert M. Maroney in Oakland and given a suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction.

Bowling Center Land Purchase Deed Recorded

A deed for more than 16 acres of land on which an ultra-modern bowling center will be built was filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The Light and Decker Company sold the 16.4-acre tract to five individuals, four of whom are officers of the George F. Hazelwood Company, this city. The purchasers were listed as D. Alan Douglas, who will be general manager of the operation; W. Bruce Douglas, treasurer of the Hazelwood firm; William A. Douglas, president; Alvin H. Wilson, first vice president, and Chauncey M. Sanner, secretary.

On June 17, D. W. S. Realty Company, Box 23, LaVale, obtained a permit to build a $100,000 concrete block and brick building to house the 24-lane automatic tenpin bowling center on Winchester Road.

Early in June, it was announced that the total cost for the new bowling center will be in the neighborhood of $500,000. "The Bowler" is expected to be completed in the fall.

Stamps on the deed indicated that the purchase price for the land was about $30,000.

Police Probe Wounding Of Pa. Hunter

Authorities are continuing an investigation of the shooting of a groundhog hunter last week in the Everett, Pa., area.

James K. Maus, 54, of Altoona, Pa., who was critically injured in the shooting, is expected to be released today or tomorrow from Bedford County Memorial Hospital where he was admitted for surgery for the removal of bullet fragments.

Game Warden John S. Dittmar of Loysburg, Pa., who is assisting Game Warden John Troutman of Everett, said last night that the investigation has not been concluded.

Mr. Maus was shot in the back of the head with a rifle bullet while hunting in the Cypher Beach section, just north of Everett. It is not known whether the shooting was accidental.

State Police have withdrawn from the case, believing it to be a hunting accident with no foul play involved. Mr. Troutman said Mr. Maus was shot while hunting groundhogs in company with his son on a farm within walking distance of the Cypher Beach summer colony where Mr. Maus has a cabin.

Girl Scout Roundup Patrol Breaks Camp For Return

The Girl Scout Patrol which represented Cumberland Council at the International Girl Scout Roundup at Colorado Springs, Colo., left there yesterday to return to Cumberland. They are expected to arrive here at 1:15 p. m. Thursday.

During their Roundup experience, the patrol participated in numerous activities, took many tours and presented their routine as a patrol drill team for their section at the Roundup.

Barbara Johnson, patrol correspondent, writes bad weather hampered some activity. The girls are pleased with their camping ability, she reports, because during a high wind, rain and hail storm, many tents, "including some erected by the Army" were blown down and damaged, "but ours remained intact and we managed to keep everything campshape through it all."

The girls were taken on an escorted tour of the Garden of the Gods where they saw "many beautiful and scenic rock formations too wonderful to describe." They also went on a tour of the Air Force Academy, saw the adjacent housing developments, officers' quarters, cadets' dormitories, classrooms, parade areas, and were given much information about the academy and its future plans.

The girls also visited a ranch, ate chuck wagon meals, were entertained by "real-live singing cowboys and ranch hands," and also witnessed a rodeo.

On Colorado Centennial Day a rodeo was presented for them by the Koshare Indians who are all Boy Scouts in Colorado. The pony express delivered a letter from President Eisenhower who commended and congratulated the Girl Scouts attending the Roundup. They also saw the Lakewood Westerners present a riding team and various routines climaxed with a flag presentation ceremony.

Last Tuesday, the girls experienced a bad sand storm and more tents blew down, but the Cumberland patrol lost no tents or equipment and went to the assistance of some of their neighbor patrols who needed help setting their tents back up.

All of the girls are well, Miss Johnson reports and are happy with the experiences and opportunity to attend the Roundup.

Members of the patrol include, Mary Ethel Knieriem, 512 Sylvan Avenue, patrol leader; Elizabeth Kerr, 519 Valley Street, assistant patrol leader; Betty McNabb, 437 Chestnut Street; Kristine Johnson, LaVale; Martha Claud, LaVale; Frances Leger, 611 Washington Street; Sandra Roeder, 808 Trost Avenue, and Barbara Johnson, Wiley Ford, W. Va., patrol correspondent.

Men's Bible Class Plans Sunday Trip

The Men's Bible Class of Grace Methodist Church will take its 20th annual summer trip this Sunday to Lost River (W. Va.) State Park.

Those desiring tickets and who have not yet obtained them should contact James G. Stevenson, chairman of the trip committee.

About 60 men are expected to make the trip Sunday. They will leave here at 7:30 a. m. and will have an open air class meeting upon arriving at the park. A picnic luncheon will be served. Entertainment will be provided by a small band under the direction of J. Wallace Close.

Life Saving Course To Begin July 20

A junior - senior life saving course, sponsored by the Red Cross, will be held daily the week of July 20 at 6:30 p. m. at Constitution Park pool. Lonnie Jackson will be the instructor and Mrs. Bonnie Cessna, acting executive secretary of Allegany County Red Cross Chapter said 20 may register.

Equity Suits Filed

Three equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Richard Allen Morgan vs. Barbara Ann Morgan, Odessa M. Smith vs. Leo A. Smith and Lydia H. Ringeisen vs. Norman I. Ringeisen.

LaVale Voters Must Register By Saturday

Those LaVale residents who already are registered to vote in Election District 29 need not register again for the special referendum on the proposed LaVale fire tax, which will be held on Tuesday, August 18.

However, those not registered or registered somewhere other than LaVale must sign up or transfer on or before Saturday, July 18, in order to cast a ballot in the referendum.

John R. Kelly, Democratic registrar and chief clerk of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, announced yesterday that the office in the Court House basement will remain open from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. today, tomorrow and Friday and from 9 a. m. until noon on Saturday.

Ordinarily the office is closed during the lunch hour from noon until 1 p. m.

Since July 1 there have been about 13 new LaVale registrations at the election board's office. Just this week about 16 have transferred from some other election district to District 29.

The proposed fire tax, to assist in the operation of the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company, would not exceed 10 cents on each $100 of assessable property.

Larcenies, Vandalism Are Reported Here

Two cases of larceny and a case of auto vandalism have been reported to city police during the past few days.

Detective Lieutenant James E. Van said yesterday the occupant of 134 West First Street reported someone stole a blue rug which was on a fence to dry. It was valued at $8.

Rosalee Keener, 426 Virginia Avenue, said someone took a light assembly from her car either on Cumberland Street or rear of the Virginia Avenue address. It was valued at $5.

Homer Brooks of 217 Davidson Street said some boys who were playing ball in the street hit the windshield of his car and broke it.

$4,000 Collected At Frostburg

About $4,000 in county and state real estate taxes was collected yesterday at the Frostburg Fire Hall by Isaac J. Smith, deputy in the office of Allegany County Tax Collector William B. Orndorff.

Today Mr. Smith will be at the Barton Town Hall from 10 a. m. until noon and at the Midland Fire Hall from 1 until 4 p. m. A four per cent discount is allowed on county real estate taxes paid in July. In August the discount is three per cent.

Tomorrow, the tax collector will be at the Lonaconing Fire Hall from 10 a. m. until 3:30 p. m. Friday he will be at the Westernport Town Hall from 10 a. m. until 3:30 p. m.

Area COPE Will Meet Tonight

The Western Maryland COPE committee will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple, according to Joseph V. Burke, associate director.

Business will include a report by Mr. Burke on the area COPE conference held recently at Atlantic City.

Reports will be presented by committees set up to plan the annual Labor Day picnic which will be sponsored by the Committee on Political Education of area AFL-CIO unions.

A report will also be presented on a recent meeting held by COPE officials with Rep. John R. Foley.

Some Progress In Air Safety

Much has been accomplished by U. S. civilian and military bodies concerned with the regulation and control of the nation's growing airways systems.

Three years ago the world was shocked by the mid-air collision above Arizona's Grand Canyon of two passenger airliners. Not one of the 128 persons aboard the two planes survived. The tragedy was compounded by the fact that clear skies and no mechanical malfunctions made the accident seem inexcusable.

Investigations which followed the crash, not only of the accident itself but of regulations and precautions which should have prevented the disaster showed much was to be desired in the safe conduct of airlanes. Surveys made three years after the Grand Canyon collision show those concerned with the conduct of air traffic have not been sleeping in the interim period.

There has been a need for better control of the air ever since the postwar civilian air boom began in earnest, but the Grand Canyon tragedy triggered a concerted effort by air officials to improve safe conduct of air passages.

Officials of the Cornell-Guggenheim Aviation Safety Center have predicted five years will be needed to more adequately solve air traffic control problems, but an analysis of improvements made in the last three years show remarkable achievements in this short period.

The newly instituted Federal Aviation Agency, which on January 1 replaced the old Civil Aeronautics Administration, has maintained the fast reform pace inaugurated by the CAA. The federal system now has 33 control centers, 213 airport towers manned by 16,000 controllers, and plots and guides 22,500 flights daily. This compares with a capacity of 10,000 flights a day in 1956.

Impressive as these figures are, most flights in the United States still are conducted under rules in which the pilot relies upon visual sight to avoid collisions. A start has been made toward air traffic safety, and the end promises to be reached in a relatively short time. It is not here yet.

Conflict Of Interest

Congress is exciting itself over the conflict of interests that may develop in the lives of those who are retired from government, particularly military and naval personnel of high rank who have found positions in private enterprise, especially with firms manufacturing munitions of war — this now covering a vast field. Hearings are being held and obviously the question must arise: if these men are so valuable to private enterprise, why did the government retire them? The Hebert Sub-committee might well inquire into this subject and perhaps come up with the wisdom that men are not retirable until they are unable to produce.

The inquiry almost gives the impression that we would have preferred that these military men had died; for men of ability, competence, stature, are likely to work until they die. General Douglas MacArthur does a day's work for the Sperry Rand Corporation which sells electric razors and parts for missiles. He has not faded away.

But there is another side to this question which is generally ignored. What about the conflicts of interests in the lives of members of Congress? There was a time when Congress met for very short sessions. The pay was small and both houses were representative of cross-sections of the population.

Now both houses have become professional, consuming most of the time of those who are elected to them. The pay is good. The perquisites ample. There is even a pension. Being elected to Congress is no longer merely an honor; it is a high grade job. If a member of Congress can also put his wife and daughter on his payroll, he gets a pretty good family income.

But what happens if he is also a member, let us say, of a law firm? What are the sources of that firm's earnings? Is there any place where a member of Congress registers his law firm's clients? And the amounts they pay as annual retainers? Does a member of the House of Representatives rise on the floor and beg to be excused from voting because there is a conflict of interest involving a client or a former client?

Suppose a member of Congress announces that he has retired from his law firm to devote himself entirely to his Congressional duties, does he sell his interest in the firm outright? Or does a brother or a son take over the firm? And does it ever happen that when such a member of Congress is defeated that he returns to his old firm, to full partnership? And is there ever a report as to what became of the earnings during the period of his Congressional tour of duty? Does any part of those earnings revert to him?

I am not accusing anybody of anything. I am merely suggesting that what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander and that such a problem as I raise might be investigated and aired publicly so that the entire subject of conflict of interest might be given to the public.

The lawyer in this country has a very great advantage because he can cover all matters by the ethics of lawyer-client relationships. These are ethically secret. But when a lawyer is elected to Congress, he takes an oath of office which morally over-rides his relationships and obligations to his clients. Literally, he should tell his clients that it is just too bad, but he now must vote for legislation which can do them great harm. That would be the day!

The practicalities of living do not encourage men to take such an idealistic position voluntarily. In fact, what is called practical politics requires a man to have connections and associations which will do him good on Election Day; otherwise, he is likely not to be elected. That raises another issue: the labor unions are powerful and rich organizations. If a member of Congress is also a member of a law firm which has a union as a client, is there a conflict of interest?

A Cabinet member has to sell his stock in a corporation to avoid a conflict of interest. What does a member of Congress have to sell? Let us say a member of Congress' law firm is before a committee; the member himself may do nothing about the matter, but the bureaucrat knows what's what. Is there a conflict of interest?

Congress Begins Probe Of Military Manpower Wasted As Servants

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — While Gen. Maxwell Taylor, recently retired chief of staff of the Army, was testifying before Congress regarding the need of more military manpower, a record number of enlisted men in the armed forces were serving as cooks, orderlies, houseboys and handy men for the top brass of the U.S.A.

This column has uncovered the fact that the total for the Washington area alone is 1,500.

The 35 air force generals assigned to Headquarters Command have 88 airmen to wait on them as cooks, drivers, flight stewards, mess attendants, and orderlies. The Army has 67 GI servants to wait on 143 general officers. The Navy has 54 enlisted men serving 105 admirals. And the Marines have 20 enlisted men assigned to 25 generals.

This does not include 103 Army, 98 Navy, 55 Air Force, and eight Marine servants who work in the officers' dining rooms and quarters. In addition a total of 368 Army, 17 Navy, and 306 Air Force enlisted men are assigned as chauffeurs in the Washington area.

Here is a typical notice circulated in the Washington area by General Taylor before he retired last month.

"Attention enlisted personnel. All regular Army enlisted personnel, grade private to E-5, interested in working in the dining room, office of the chief of staff, Department of the Army, should call the Military Personnel Division, Building 216, for interview. Enlisted men should be eligible for clearance, neat in appearance, able to meet high officials with ease and confidence."

General Taylor issued this notice at the same time he was complaining that the Army doesn't have enough fighting men.

Congress Investigates

Congressman Frank Kowalski, Connecticut Democrat, has become a hero to thousands of GI's because he has focused the spotlight on the "servantude" of enlisted men. Kowalski spent 30 years in the Army, worked his way up to Colonel, was first commander of the U. S. Army Management School. Being an Army man he wants to be fair to the armed services. He also wants to be fair to the GI.

This column having battled for the enlisted man beginning even before Pearl Harbor, has talked to GI servants whose only duties are menial personal services for the brass. Some do little more than shine shoes, pour liquor, press pants, and run errands. Here are some case histories:

SP-4 Elwood Hooten, Second Armored Division, Fort Hood, Texas, kept a record of over 250 hours spent in domestic service for his commanding officer, Col. John Hector, now a staff officer for the Sixth Army at the Presidio in San Francisco. Hooten washed and waxed the car; swept, mopped, and waxed the floor; mowed the lawn; cleaned teen-age son's quarters; waxed and polished furniture; cleaned the bathroom; scrubbed porches.

Two days prior to being detailed to this domestic duty, he had submitted an application for an overseas assignment. This was disapproved by the division headquarters on the grounds that a critical shortage of trained personnel existed in Hooten's specialty.

His orders were "to keep Colonel Hector happy." To do this, he was obliged once to wash the Colonel's car while the rest of his unit received the day off.

Colonel Hector acknowledged to this column that Hooten had been assigned as his driver, and had been used "off and on" to help around the house. The Colonel recalled asking him occasionally to water the lawn, mow the lawn, and once move some furniture around.

The Colonel claimed that most of the housekeeping chores had been assigned while he was away from Fort Hood for three months, and that subordinates assigned Hooten to keep the house in shape while he was gone.

Housecleaning In Oklahoma

At Fort Carson, Okla., Capt. Carl Pruett assigned a 26-man detail to help Col. Lynell Green, the commanding officer, clear and clean his house, prior to his reassignment this month to Iceland.

Captain Pruett's orders declared: "The 26-man detail picked from Company C in the bivouac area 25 June 1959 will remain in the company area Thursday night so they will be available for the same detail Friday 26 June 1959." They were ordered to report for "work at Colonel Green's quarters." In addition, a 2½-ton vehicle was requisitioned, plus "all available power mowers and grass-cutting equipment."

Colonel Green acknowledged to this column that the detail had reported for work as ordered, but he claimed he had sent the men back. He acknowledged using "a few GI's" to help clear out the house. Their help was charged up as official duty.

Those who reported for lawn-mowing duty, he claimed, worked during their spare time and were paid out of his pocket.

More on waste of military manpower in an early column.

George Bender, Taft Successor, Now Hoffa Man

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

Five short years ago, in 1954, Rep. George H. Bender of Ohio was chosen by the Ohio Republicans to run for the unexpired Senate term of the greatest Republican Senator of modern times, Robert A. Taft.

As Bender said himself at the time, he mainly owed his nomination to the other great satrap of Ohio Republicanism, Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey. He had served for years as Chairman of the Cuyahoga County Republican Organization, in which Humphrey was (and is) the great influence behind the scenes. Bender was in fact George Humphrey's man.

But George Bender had some interesting additional supporters in 1954, according to the record newly made by Sen. McClellan's sub-committee on improper labor practices.

In the election year, the record shows, Bender was chairman of a House anti-racketeering subcommittee. This body went into Ohio during the campaign to investigate, among others, William Presser and Louis "Babe" Triscaro. These men are Jimmy Hoffa's local bosses of the Teamsters Union. Early in October, Bender, Presser and Triscaro were glaring at one another across the committee table. But just before election day, Presser told an executive board meeting of the Ohio conference of teamsters that the union's support was to be switched to the grand inquisitor.

One of those present, who had been hard at work for Bender's Democratic opponent, has testified to his extreme surprise. None-the-less, by Presser's command, the Ohio teamsters were briskly transformed into Bender voters. Shortly after election, Presser and Triscaro went to Washington to make their final appearance before the Bender anti-racketeering sub-committee. After that, Presser happily boasted in a public speech, that the hearings were "over" without anyone being "cited for any contempts — no perjuries!"

In the same speech Presser generously declared that "especially during the latter portion of the hearings" he had found "a friend" on the anti-racketeering sub-committee. "His name," said Presser, "was George Bender." Almost concurrently, Presser's spokesman in Cincinnati asked the local teamster's joint council for a donation, to help meet the expenses of the Presser and Triscaro defense before the Bender sub-committee.

An anti-Presser, anti-Hoffa teamster's leader, the head of a local milk union, James Luken, thereupon objected that the lawyers for Presser and Triscaro had already been paid out of union funds in the regular manner. To this the Presser spokesman, George Starling, made a fascinating reply. As sworn to by Luken, Starling explained that "other money was spent to pull certain strings to see that these charges were dropped."

A little later still, some quite remarkable things began happening to the bank account of the finance committee of the Bender for Senator committee. This finance committee, headed by businessmen of the most gilt-edged type, filed an official report disclosing contributions of $95,000. The record now shows that the real receipts were greater than those officially disclosed by no less than $108,996.78. And at least $30,000 of this delightful margin was accounted for by a series of large deposits, all in currency, that began to be made in December, 1954.

The Senatorial glory paid for in this manner did not last long. Poor Bender, beaten in the 1956 election, then found new employment as chairman of the special commission named by Jimmy Hoffa to whitewash the Teamsters Union. For this useful service, he has received $58,000 to date.

Last week, his jowls wobbling with self-righteousness, this aging politician who used to be George Humphrey's man is now Jimmy Hoffa's man, made his extraordinary appearance before Sen. McClellan's subcommittee. The other dicta are worth preserving. For example, he told of naming a prostitute as Republican precinct captain in her red light district. He then added genially, "You don't have to become a prostitute yourself, but you have to get their votes."

But the purpose of his appearance was not to give these little tips on politics, but to deny that the facts spread on the committee record had any meaning at all. He did not challenge the facts themselves. He just said it was "a damnable lie" that he had received a payoff from the teamsters.

Such is this strange story, which is worth bringing together in one place for two main reasons. First, one can imagine the kind of hullabaloo that would now be going on if a former henchman of a super-respectable Democrat — say Adlai Stevenson — were revealed in the same posture as this former henchman of the most super-respectable Republican. What is sauce for the Stevenson-goose ought to be sauce for the Humphrey-gander. And second, the story hints at one of the main ills of the Republican party, which is the peculiar taste in politicians of many very big, very important American businessmen.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

The most potent danger to human life resulting from atomic bomb testing is carried in strontium-90. This radioactive substance falls all over the earth, is absorbed in growing plants and is taken in as food by humans. Its effects are long lasting and show up principally in bone cancer.

Word has been received in Washington that a promising method is being worked out to remove strontium-90 from milk, a principal form in which it is taken into the human body. The method is being worked out by the American Dairy Science Association under the auspices of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The new technique, in recent tests, removed up to 94 per cent of the S-90 content of milk without hurting milk's calcium content. Technically, the process is known as ion-exchange chemistry, and the principle employed is similar to that used in home water softeners.

If the process proves practical and economical, it will greatly reduce one of the severest hazards that has developed in the dawning atomic age. Presumably, over a period of time, the same or some similar process will be able to remove S-90 from other food substances, making humans virtually impervious to cancer caused by radioactive fallout.

Chronic Bronchitis May Bring Lung Cancer

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Prolonged irritation of the bronchial membranes is the most likely cause of lung cancer. It is immaterial whether the final cancer is caused by the nicotine or tars in tobacco, by inhaling city dust, or through irritation from a previous attack of influenza. The most important consideration is eliminating the bronchitis.

This means moderate or no smoking for the majority. Failure to eradicate smoker's cough affects the life of the individual in another way. When a lung cancer develops in a person with chronic bronchitis, the diagnosis is delayed because the illness is regarded as an aggravation or a recurrence of a previous condition rather than a new disease.

A slight increase in smoker's cough is of no consequence to most men, yet it may be the only clew that a lung cancer is developing. Treatment at this stage may save his life. A delay of two to three months reduces his chance of cure via surgery to 25 per cent.

A lung cancer usually develops in patients with previously diseased lungs. An individual with smoker's cough has as much irritation and congestion as one with a long standing bacterial or viral infection of the bronchial tree. For practical purposes, both are diseased lungs but the smoker doesn't worry because he blames his symptoms on too many cigarets.

It usually takes 10 or more years of irritation to encourage the cells in the lining membrane to become cancerous. Autopsies on many smokers who have died from auto accidents, for example, show the early changes that lead to cancer. It is a long drawn out process and what has been said is not applicable to the individual who develops a temporary cough from the flu, pneumonia, or a cold.

TOMORROW: Babies with heart defects.

GONE LOOK

H. D. writes: My friends have been telling me recently that every now and then I get a gone look in my eyes. I got glasses but still have this condition. Can you tell me the cause?

REPLY

Many persons stare into space when they lose interest or tire of the conversation. On the other hand, the petit mal type of epilepsy is a possibility if the attacks represent a temporary blackout. Ask your friends to bring the eye condition to your attention the moment it occurs in order to analyze the situation.

NOT THE TREATMENT

E. D. writes: Is it true that female sex hormones are prescribed for enlarged prostrate?

REPLY

Occasionally they are but the results are so erratic, these hormones seldom are recommended. In addition, if there is a possibility of cancer the use of hormones may interfere with the diagnosis. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on disorders of the prostrate.

FLASHES FROM NERVES

T. B. writes: Could hot flashes be due to nervousness rather than to the change of life?

REPLY

Yes. Flashes represent vasomotor phenomena somewhat related to blushing. Many men and women have hot flashes until they are 60, or more, even though the change of life occurred years previously.

CONSPICUOUS BLADES

K P. writes: What causes the shoulder blades to become more prominent with age?

REPLY

Loss of muscle tissue and subcutaneous fat combined with a slouching posture.

THIS IS ADOLESCENCE

D R. writes: Is forgetfulness in a teen-ager too serious to be overlooked?

REPLY

Forget it. This tendency is normal among teen-agers; their thoughts often are on cloud nine.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

In her newly published autobiography, June Havoc, younger sister of Gypsy Rose Lee, tells about the time her mother got her a part in a movie when she was exactly three years old! It was June's job to burst into tears at a given signal, and she gave a magnificent performance — aided considerably by the fact that just before she went on, her thoughtful mother told her that her favorite dog had just been run over and killed.

Eight times they reshot the scene, and each time the mother reminded her of the death of her dog. After the first time, recalls June, she realized it wasn't true at all, but she thought of how miserable she would be feeling if it was true, and cried her eyes out. Of such stuff, stars are made!

The stingiest man of the year must be the one who gave his little girl a dime to go without supper, stole it from her while she was asleep, and then refused her breakfast for losing it.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Some time ago I wrote a column called "Happy Is the Bride the Sun Shines On." It was about Mary and John Foley. They are the poorest and the happiest. They married almost 20 years ago and they hoped for all the normal things, and got none of them. No children, no money, no health.

He is a short, slick-haired man who looks like an ex-jockey. He used to be a truck driver. The arteries in his legs hardened and he cannot walk a hundred feet without intense leg cramps. He must sit at once. Mary is stout and jolly with big happy hazel eyes.

When her John became ill, she got a job in a factory to support him. One day, homeward bound with a cake for her man, she fell on the street. She had sustained a cerebral hemorrhage. Her left side is crippled. She has a speech impediment. The left foot drags. The left hand remains curled in a little fist at her waist. She is 62.

The Jersey City Housing Authority — through Conrad Vuoculo and John Connelly — got them a low rent apartment in Curry's Woods. They live on about $120 a month. In the evening, when they tire of television, they sit in the little living room and say prayers for people who Mary feels are having a spell of hard luck.

I asked a friend, Cliff White, to bring Mary and John to my house at the shore for a week. I didn't know what I was going to do with them when they arrived, but I figured, in a callous way, that this was the least I owed them in return for a good story.

I'm glad I did. It turned out to be a bigger thrill for me than for them. I started off treating them as though they were brittle china and it didn't work. Mrs. Roberta Lane, our housekeeper, taught me that pity is the wrong approach. Roberta is a stout woman from Lynchburg, Virginia, and her dark eyes can read your innermost secrets in a glance.

She didn't have to do anything for these people. But she did. She went to Red Bank and charged some cotton dresses with zippers in the front, because Mary has one good hand. She also got some slips and some white elastic socks and shoes. Then she led Mary off and bathed her from head to toe.

"Now," said the housekeeper, "this lady is ready for a night out." I took the hint.

In spite of the tottering of Mary and John, we got them aboard my boat, the Away We Go II, and Mary sat aft enjoying the summer breeze and the radio music. John was afraid to try, but he turned out to be a pretty good helmsman.

We dined out at the Colony in Rumson; by day we went off to Monmouth Race Track. There, the captains took one look at the Foleys and did things they never did for me: held elevators, assisted Mary and John through corridors — two maids in the rest room took Mary by the arms and waved the men off.

I found out later that Mary didn't have a dime to give them. Someone bought them a couple of $2 tickets on horses, and the Foleys left the partiere box winning $6. They had lunch, and John cut Mary's roast beef and vegetables with care. They were taken on summer afternoon drives through shady country lanes. I took them to Jim Sullivan's Sea Bright saloon and Mary had two beers and said: "Boy, this is the life."

They went home exhausted. Cliff White drove them back to Curry's Woods, Jersey City, N. J., late on a Sunday evening. They tried to say thanks. I tried to explain that the gratitude is the other way around because I had lost sight of how lucky I am.

It was Roberta who made it memorable. She practically ordered Mary to do things she was afraid to try: walk alone to the bathroom; lift the left foot over a doorsill; drink from a cup without fear of spilling it in front of others; get on a boat; stop being afraid.

In the entire week, neither of them ever mentioned their troubles, except to make fun of them. Once, when they were trying to get down the front steps, John burst out laughing: "If any neighbors are watching," he said, "they'll think this is St. Joseph's Home for the Ruptured and Crippled."

When Christ was talking about "the least of these," he must have meant the Foleys. . .

I am not accusing anybody of anything. I am merely suggesting that what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander and that such a problem as I raise might be investigated and aired publicly so that the entire subject of conflict of interest might be given to the public.

The lawyer in this country has a very great advantage because he can cover all matters by the ethics of lawyer-client relationships. These are ethically secret. But when a lawyer is elected to Congress, he takes an oath of office which morally over-rides his relationships and obligations to his clients. Literally, he should tell his clients that it is just too bad, but he now must vote for legislation which can do them great harm. That would be the day!

The practicalities of living do not encourage men to take such an idealistic position voluntarily. In fact, what is called practical politics requires a man to have connections and associations which will do him good on Election Day; otherwise, he is likely not to be elected. That raises another issue: the labor unions are powerful and rich organizations. If a member of Congress is also a member of a law firm which has a union as a client, is there a conflict of interest?

A Cabinet member has to sell his stock in a corporation to avoid a conflict of interest. What does a member of Congress have to sell? Let us say a member of Congress' law firm is before a committee; the member himself may do nothing about the matter, but the bureaucrat knows what's what. Is there a conflict of interest?

Congress Begins Probe Of Military Manpower Wasted As Servants

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — While Gen. Maxwell Taylor, recently retired chief of staff of the Army, was testifying before Congress regarding the need of more military manpower, a record number of enlisted men in the armed forces were serving as cooks, orderlies, houseboys and handy men for the top brass of the U.S.A.

This column has uncovered the fact that the total for the Washington area alone is 1,500.

The 35 air force generals assigned to Headquarters Command have 88 airmen to wait on them as cooks, drivers, flight stewards, mess attendants, and orderlies. The Army has 67 GI servants to wait on 143 general officers. The Navy has 54 enlisted men serving 105 admirals. And the Marines have 20 enlisted men assigned to 25 generals.

This does not include 103 Army, 98 Navy, 55 Air Force, and eight Marine servants who work in the officers' dining rooms and quarters. In addition a total of 368 Army, 17 Navy, and 306 Air Force enlisted men are assigned as chauffeurs in the Washington area.

Here is a typical notice circulated in the Washington area by General Taylor before he retired last month.

"Attention enlisted personnel. All regular Army enlisted personnel, grade private to E-5, interested in working in the dining room, office of the chief of staff, Department of the Army, should call the Military Personnel Division, Building 216, for interview. Enlisted men should be eligible for clearance, neat in appearance, able to meet high officials with ease and confidence."

General Taylor issued this notice at the same time he was complaining that the Army doesn't have enough fighting men.

Congress Investigates

Congressman Frank Kowalski, Connecticut Democrat, has become a hero to thousands of GI's because he has focused the spotlight on the "servantude" of enlisted men. Kowalski spent 30 years in the Army, worked his way up to Colonel, was first commander of the U. S. Army Management School. Being an Army man he wants to be fair to the armed services. He also wants to be fair to the GI.

This column having battled for the enlisted man beginning even before Pearl Harbor, has talked to GI servants whose only duties are menial personal services for the brass. Some do little more than shine shoes, pour liquor, press pants, and run errands. Here are some case histories:

SP-4 Elwood Hooten, Second Armored Division, Fort Hood, Texas, kept a record of over 250 hours spent in domestic service for his commanding officer, Col. John Hector, now a staff officer for the Sixth Army at the Presidio in San Francisco. Hooten washed and waxed the car; swept, mopped, and waxed the floor; mowed the lawn; cleaned teen-age son's quarters; waxed and polished furniture; cleaned the bathroom; scrubbed porches.

Two days prior to being detailed to this domestic duty, he had submitted an application for an overseas assignment. This was disapproved by the division headquarters on the grounds that a critical shortage of trained personnel existed in Hooten's specialty.

His orders were "to keep Colonel Hector happy." To do this, he was obliged once to wash the Colonel's car while the rest of his unit received the day off.

Colonel Hector acknowledged to this column that Hooten had been assigned as his driver, and had been used "off and on" to help around the house. The Colonel recalled asking him occasionally to water the lawn, mow the lawn, and once move some furniture around.

The Colonel claimed that most of the housekeeping chores had been assigned while he was away from Fort Hood for three months, and that subordinates assigned Hooten to keep the house in shape while he was gone.

Housecleaning In Oklahoma

At Fort Carson, Okla., Capt. Carl Pruett assigned a 26-man detail to help Col. Lynell Green, the commanding officer, clear and clean his house, prior to his reassignment this month to Iceland.

Captain Pruett's orders declared: "The 26-man detail picked from Company C in the bivouac area 25 June 1959 will remain in the company area Thursday night so they will be available for the same detail Friday 26 June 1959." They were ordered to report for "work at Colonel Green's quarters." In addition, a 2½-ton vehicle was requisitioned, plus "all available power mowers and grass-cutting equipment."

Colonel Green acknowledged to this column that the detail had reported for work as ordered, but he claimed he had sent the men back. He acknowledged using "a few GI's" to help clear out the house. Their help was charged up as official duty.

Those who reported for lawn-mowing duty, he claimed, worked during their spare time and were paid out of his pocket.

More on waste of military manpower in an early column.

George Bender, Taft Successor, Now Hoffa Man

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

Five short years ago, in 1954, Rep. George H. Bender of Ohio was chosen by the Ohio Republicans to run for the unexpired Senate term of the greatest Republican Senator of modern times, Robert A. Taft.

As Bender said himself at the time, he mainly owed his nomination to the other great satrap of Ohio Republicanism, Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey. He had served for years as Chairman of the Cuyahoga County Republican Organization, in which Humphrey was (and is) the great influence behind the scenes. Bender was in fact George Humphrey's man.

But George Bender had some interesting additional supporters in 1954, according to the record newly made by Sen. McClellan's sub-committee on improper labor practices.

In the election year, the record shows, Bender was chairman of a House anti-racketeering sub-committee. This body went into Ohio during the campaign to investigate, among others, William Presser and Louis "Babe" Triscaro. These men are Jimmy Hoffa's local bosses of the Teamsters Union. Early in October, Bender, Presser and Triscaro were glaring at one another across the committee table. But just before election day, Presser told an executive board meeting of the Ohio conference of teamsters that the union's support was to be switched to the grand inquisitor.

One of those present, who had been hard at work for Bender's Democratic opponent, has testified to his extreme surprise. None-the-less, by Presser's command, the Ohio teamsters were briskly transformed into Bender voters. Shortly after election, Presser and Triscaro went to Washington to make their final appearance before the Bender anti-racketeering sub-committee. After that, Presser happily boasted in a public speech, that the hearings were "over" without anyone being "cited for any contempts — no perjuries!"

In the same speech Presser generously declared that "especially during the latter portion of the hearings" he had found "a friend" on the anti-racketeering sub-committee. "His name," said Presser, "was George Bender." Almost concurrently, Presser's spokesman in Cincinnati asked the local teamster's joint council for a donation, to help meet the expenses of the Presser and Triscaro defense before the Bender sub-committee.

An anti-Presser, anti-Hoffa teamster's leader, the head of a local milk union, James Luken, thereupon objected that the lawyers for Presser and Triscaro had already been paid out of union funds in the regular manner. To this the Presser spokesman, George Starling, made a fascinating reply. As sworn to by Luken, Starling explained that "other money was spent to pull certain strings to see that these charges were dropped."

A little later still, some quite remarkable things began happening to the bank account of the finance committee of the Bender for Senator committee. This finance committee, headed by businessmen of the most gilt-edged type, filed an official report disclosing contributions of $95,000. The record now shows that the real receipts were greater than those officially disclosed by no less than $108,996.78. And at least $30,000 of this delightful margin was accounted for by a series of large deposits, all in currency, that began to be made in December, 1954.

The Senatorial glory paid for in this manner did not last long. Poor Bender, beaten in the 1956 election, then found new employment as chairman of the special commission named by Jimmy Hoffa to whitewash the Teamsters Union. For this useful service, he has received $58,000 to date.

Last week, his jowls wobbling with self-righteousness, this aging politician who used to be George Humphrey's man is now Jimmy Hoffa's man, made his extraordinary appearance before Sen. McClellan's subcommittee. The other dicta are worth preserving. For example, he told of naming a prostitute as Republican precinct captain in her red light district. He then added genially, "You don't have to become a prostitute yourself, but you have to get their votes."

But the purpose of his appearance was not to give these little tips on politics, but to deny that the facts spread on the committee record had any meaning at all. He did not challenge the facts themselves. He just said it was "a damnable lie" that he had received a payoff from the teamsters.

Such is this strange story, which is worth bringing together in one place for two main reasons. First, one can imagine the kind of hullabaloo that would now be going on if a former henchman of a super-respectable Democrat — say Adlai Stevenson — were revealed in the same posture as this former henchman of the most super-respectable Republican. What is sauce for the Stevenson-goose ought to be sauce for the Humphrey-gander. And second, the story hints at one of the main ills of the Republican party, which is the peculiar taste in politicians of many very big, very important American businessmen.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

The most potent danger to human life resulting from atomic bomb testing is carried in strontium-90. This radioactive substance falls all over the earth, is absorbed in growing plants and is taken in as food by humans. Its effects are long lasting and show up principally in bone cancer.

Word has been received in Washington that a promising method is being worked out to remove strontium-90 from milk, a principal form in which it is taken into the human body. The method is being worked out by the American Dairy Science Association under the auspices of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The new technique, in recent tests, removed up to 94 per cent of the S-90 content of milk without hurting milk's calcium content. Technically, the process is known as ion-exchange chemistry, and the principle employed is similar to that used in home water softeners.

If the process proves practical and economical, it will greatly reduce one of the severest hazards that has developed in the dawning atomic age. Presumably, over a period of time, the same or some similar process will be able to remove S-90 from other food substances, making humans virtually impervious to cancer caused by radioactive fallout.

Chronic Bronchitis May Bring Lung Cancer

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Prolonged irritation of the bronchial membranes is the most likely cause of lung cancer. It is immaterial whether the final cancer is caused by the nicotine or tars in tobacco, by inhaling city dust, or through irritation from a previous attack of influenza. The most important consideration is eliminating the bronchitis.

This means moderate or no smoking for the majority. Failure to eradicate smoker's cough affects the life of the individual in another way. When a lung cancer develops in a person with chronic bronchitis, the diagnosis is delayed because the illness is regarded as an aggravation or a recurrence of a previous condition rather than a new disease.

A slight increase in smoker's cough is of no consequence to most men, yet it may be the only clew that a lung cancer is developing. Treatment at this stage may save his life. A delay of two to three months reduces his chance of cure via surgery to 25 per cent.

A lung cancer usually develops in patients with previously diseased lungs. An individual with smoker's cough has as much irritation and congestion as one with a long standing bacterial or viral infection of the bronchial tree. For practical purposes, both are diseased lungs but the smoker doesn't worry because he blames his symptoms on too many cigarets.

It usually takes 10 or more years of irritation to encourage the cells in the lining membrane to become cancerous. Autopsies on many smokers who have died from auto accidents, for example, show the early changes that lead to cancer. It is a long drawn out process and what has been said is not applicable to the individual who develops a temporary cough from the flu, pneumonia, or a cold.

TOMORROW: Babies with heart defects.

GONE LOOK

H. D. writes: My friends have been telling me recently that every now and then I get a gone look in my eyes. I got glasses but still have this condition. Can you tell me the cause?

REPLY

Many persons stare into space when they lose interest or tire of the conversation. On the other hand, the petit mal type of epilepsy is a possibility if the attacks represent a temporary blackout. Ask your friends to bring the eye condition to your attention the moment it occurs in order to analyze the situation.

NOT THE TREATMENT

E. D. writes: Is it true that female sex hormones are prescribed for enlarged prostrate?

REPLY

Occasionally they are but the results are so erratic, these hormones seldom are recommended. In addition, if there is a possibility of cancer the use of hormones may interfere with the diagnosis. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on disorders of the prostrate.

FLASHES FROM NERVES

T. B. writes: Could hot flashes be due to nervousness rather than to the change of life?

REPLY

Yes. Flashes represent vasomotor phenomena somewhat related to blushing. Many men and women have hot flashes until they are 60, or more, even though the change of life occurred years previously.

CONSPICUOUS BLADES

K P. writes: What causes the shoulder blades to become more prominent with age?

REPLY

Loss of muscle tissue and subcutaneous fat combined with a slouching posture.

THIS IS ADOLESCENCE

D R. writes: Is forgetfulness in a teen-ager too serious to be overlooked?

REPLY

Forget it. This tendency is normal among teen-agers; their thoughts often are on cloud nine.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

In her newly published autobiography, June Havoc, younger sister of Gypsy Rose Lee, tells about the time her mother got her a part in a movie when she was exactly three years old! It was June's job to burst into tears at a given signal, and she gave a magnificent performance — aided considerably by the fact that just before she went on, her thoughtful mother told her that her favorite dog had just been run over and killed.

Eight times they reshot the scene, and each time the mother reminded her of the death of her dog. After the first time, recalls June, she realized it wasn't true at all, but she thought of how miserable she would be feeling if it was true, and cried her eyes out. Of such stuff, stars are made!

The stingiest man of the year must be the one who gave his little girl a dime to go without supper, stole it from her while she was asleep, and then refused her breakfast for losing it.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Some time ago I wrote a column called "Happy Is the Bride the Sun Shines On." It was about Mary and John Foley. They are the poorest and the happiest. They married almost 20 years ago and they hoped for all the normal things, and got none of them. No children, no money, no health.

He is a short, slick-haired man who looks like an ex-jockey. He used to be a truck driver. The arteries in his legs hardened and he cannot walk a hundred feet without intense leg cramps. He must sit at once. Mary is stout and jolly with big happy hazel eyes.

When her John became ill, she got a job in a factory to support him. One day, homeward bound with a cake for her man, she fell on the street. She had sustained a cerebral hemorrhage. Her left side is crippled. She has a speech impediment. The left foot drags. The left hand remains curled in a little fist at her waist. She is 62.

The Jersey City Housing Authority — through Conrad Vuoculo and John Connelly — got them a low rent apartment in Curry's Woods. They live on about $120 a month. In the evening, when they tire of television, they sit in the little living room and say prayers for people who Mary feels are having a spell of hard luck.

I asked a friend, Cliff White, to bring Mary and John to my house at the shore for a week. I didn't know what I was going to do with them when they arrived, but I figured, in a callous way, that this was the least I owed them in return for a good story.

I'm glad I did. It turned out to be a bigger thrill for me than for them. I started off treating them as though they were brittle china and it didn't work. Mrs. Roberta Lane, our housekeeper, taught me that pity is the wrong approach. Roberta is a stout woman from Lynchburg, Virginia, and her dark eyes can read your innermost secrets in a glance.

She didn't have to do anything for these people. But she did. She went to Red Bank and charged some cotton dresses with zippers in the front, because Mary has one good hand. She also got some slips and some white elastic socks and shoes. Then she led Mary off and bathed her from head to toe.

"Now," said the housekeeper, "this lady is ready for a night out." I took the hint.

In spite of the tottering of Mary and John, we got them aboard my boat, the Away We Go II, and Mary sat aft enjoying the summer breeze and the radio music. John was afraid to try, but he turned out to be a pretty good helmsman.

We dined out at the Colony in Rumson; by day we went off to Monmouth Race Track. There, the captains took one look at the Foleys and did things they never did for me: held elevators, assisted Mary and John through corridors — two maids in the rest room took Mary by the arms and waved the men off.

I found out later that Mary didn't have a dime to give them. Someone bought them a couple of $2 tickets on horses, and the Foleys left the partiere box winning $6. They had lunch, and John cut Mary's roast beef and vegetables with care. They were taken on summer afternoon drives through shady country lanes. I took them to Jim Sullivan's Sea Bright saloon and Mary had two beers and said: "Boy, this is the life."

They went home exhausted. Cliff White drove them back to Curry's Woods, Jersey City, N. J., late on a Sunday evening. They tried to say thanks. I tried to explain that the gratitude is the other way around because I had lost sight of how lucky I am.

It was Roberta who made it memorable. She practically ordered Mary to do things she was afraid to try: walk alone to the bathroom; lift the left foot over a doorsill; drink from a cup without fear of spilling it in front of others; get on a boat; stop being afraid.

In the entire week, neither of them ever mentioned their troubles, except to make fun of them. Once, when they were trying to get down the front steps, John burst out laughing: "If any neighbors are watching," he said, "they'll think this is St. Joseph's Home for the Ruptured and Crippled."

When Christ was talking about "the least of these," he must have meant the Foleys. . .

Law Racks Up 10th Triumph, Podres Loses

Southpaw Kayoed In First Inning On 5 Hits In Row

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates hammered across five first-inning runs off Johnny Podres, whom they hadn't beaten for two years, and rolled to a 9-1 win over the Los Angeles Dodgers at Forbes Field Tuesday night.

The victory, Vern Law's 10th of the season, was the Pirates' seventh in their last eight games and moved them within a game of third place Los Angeles and 2½ out of first place.

Podres, making his first start since June 26, retired only one batter before the Pirates finished him with five straight hits. Dick Groat doubled down the left field line and rode home on Bob Skinner's triple. Successive singles by Dick Stuart, Roberto Clemente, and Bill Mazeroski brought in two more runs.

The Pirates continued the assault on Roger Craig, with Don Hoak and Danny Kravitz knocking in runs with singles.

A bases-loaded walk, Kravitz's two-run single, and Johnny Klippstein's wild pitch padded the Pittsburgh lead with four runs in the seventh.

Maroons Cop Nine Inning Game, 10-9

The LaVale Maroons upset Tri-State Memorial by the score of 10-9 in a nine-inning Pen-Mar Little League battle yesterday at Parkside Field.

Tri-State scored two runs in the top of the ninth and the Maroons sewed it up with three tallies in the bottom of the third extra frame.

Dickie Horn, who pitched the first 6 innings for the Maroons, fanned 10 while Rich Merrill, his successor and winner, whiffed seven in three stanzas. Roger Wilt worked five innings for Tri-State and struck out eight. Calvert, who came in the 6th, was tagged with the loss.

The Maroons had three home runs, each with a man aboard, for six of their 10 runs. Horn and Jerry Moore collected a homer, double and single each. "Corky" Hickle had three hits, Joe Dorsey and Dave Pittman two each and Rich Merrill hit a round-tripper.

Phillips headed Tri-State with a pair of triples, a 2-bagger and single. Roger Wilt homered and singled and Strickland blasted a three bagger.

Darkness halted the game between the LaVale Orioles and Ellerslie in the 8th inning with the score knotted at 12-12.

The score:

Corriganville Wins Over Mt. Royal, 16-2

Terry Golden registered his third straight victory and kept his pitching record unblemished in the Maryland-West Virginia Little League when he hurled Corriganville to a 16-2 decision over Mount Royal yesterday at Corriganville. Darkness halted the game in the top of the 5th.

Golden yielded two hits, including a double by Kyhos, and fired the third strike past 13 batsmen.

Leroy Burkett slammed two homers, Jimmy Sweitzer clouted a triple, double and single and Wayne Bittner had a three-base hit for the victors.

Rain washed out the Columbia Street-Barton game yesterday. It has been rescheduled for Thursday at County Field. Score:

Sports Shoppe, P.E. And Ridgeley Legion Win In Rec Circuit

The Sports Shoppe defeated Bennett Transfer, 10-8, Ridgeley American Legion nosed out Whitacre's Grocery, 4-3, and Potomac Edison trounced the Police and Firemen, 19-3, in Men's Rec Softball League games played yesterday.

Ray Ruckman, pitching his first game for the second place Sports Shoppe, yielded nine hits but was only in trouble in the fifth inning when the losers scored three runs. Second baseman Bob Giles pulled the Shoppers out of the hole with a running, leaping, one-handed catch of a fly ball with the bases full.

Giles with a double and single, Charles Denmark with three hits and Pete Robb and Jim Hamilton with two-base wallops led the Shoppers who are now 9-3 in the league's National Division.

Wes Hann collected two hits and Bob Andrews homered for the losers.

Charley Crabtree's double drove in the winning run in the fifth inning as Ridgeley emerged the victor over Whitacre's. Crabtree also turned in several nice catches in centerfield.

Lechliter homered with one aboard for the losers.

Bill Kenney, who relieved Don Decker in the 4th, got credit for his 7th win of the season.

Potomac Edison scored seven runs in the first and nine tallies in the fifth to outclass the Police and Firemen. Rain halted the game in the 6th frame.

Fred Meeks sparked the 12-hit assault with two doubles and a single while Harold Ross and Ed Downton garnered two-base blows. Denny Knippenburg had two hits for the Police and Firemen. Scores:

Sikes Is Medalist

DENVER (UPI) — Defending champion Dan Sikes, Jr., of Jacksonville, Fla., who barely qualified in a special playoff a year ago, captured medalist honors Tuesday in the National Public Links golf tournament at Denver's Wellshire municipal course.

The 28-year-old Sikes, a senior in law school at the University of Florida, had a two-day total of 69-68—137 over 36 holes. His score was five strokes under par.

Duren Makes Eighth Save, Rescues Ford

Richardson's Hit After Two Walks Scores Lone Run

NEW YORK (UPI) — Whitey Ford and Ryne Duren combined their pitching talents to shut out the league-leading Cleveland Indians, 1-0, on five hits Tuesday night and snap a five-game New York Yankee losing streak.

Ford, winning his first game in three weeks, pitched seven innings and allowed only four hits. Duren finished to complete the blanking as he turned in his eighth save of the season.

The two scoreless innings extended Duren's streak to 31 1-3 innings. He has not been scored on since April 30. He allowed one hit Tuesday night and fanned three to give him 43 in the 31 1-3 innings.

Bobby Richardson, pint - sized second baseman of the Yankees, drove in the only run of the game in the second inning to send Herb Score down to his seventh defeat.

Score set up the winning run himself when he handed Elston Howard a walk to open the inning. An infield out moved Howard to second and, after Tony Kubek fanned and Ford walked, Richardson singled sharply to center to score Howard.

But the Indians' best scoring opportunity went down the drain in the eighth when Tito Francona opened with a single. Colavito forced Francona and, in turn, was forced by Held. With pinch-hitter Elmer Valo at bat, Duren's attempted pickoff throw went wild and Held reached second. A wild pitch advanced him to third. With Valo still at bat, Held tried to score on a short passed ball but was thrown out at the plate, Yogi Berra to Duren, ending the inning.

Milt Pappas Posts 10th Win Over K.C.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Orioles' Milt Pappas posted his 10th win of the season as the Birds won the second game of a double-header with Kansas City 3-1 Tuesday night after losing the opener 1-0.

Pappas, who allowed only five hits, including Roger Maris' 12th homer of the year with the bases empty in the second inning, was backed by Willie Tasby, who clouted his eighth home run of the year in the first inning.

In the opening game, Dick Williams scored from third base in the ninth inning on a double by Harry Chiti to clinch win No. 7 for Ray Herbert.

Glenn Kauffman chalked up his 10th win of the season and Bill Underdonk notched his 11th as the V.F.W. and Elks scored triumphs yesterday and remained a half game apart in the Rocking Chair Softball League race.

Kauffman twirled the Vets to a 5-1 decision over the Loyal Order of Moose at Stitcher Field while Underdonk twirled the B.P.O. Elks to a 3-2 verdict over the Knights of Columbus at Post Field. It was the Elks' third straight victory over the Caseys this season.

Jim Eckard with a double and single and Corbin and Reuschel with two-base belts led the league-leading Vets at the plate as Manager Cecil Grimes' club notched win No. 13 in 18 starts. Pete Cecil accounted for two of the losers' six safeties.

The Elks nosed out the Caseys in the bottom of the 7th when Al Sheetz walked "Whip" Kreitzburg for the third time, Roy Manges, inserted to run for Kreitzburg, pilfered second and continued home with the winning marker on a wild throw to the keystone hassock.

Jack Bopp and Bob Price of the Elks and "Chick" Snider and Gene Scaletta of the K. of C., had two hits each.

At Celanese Field, Ritter's A. C. defeated the Celanese A.A., 4-1, and moved within a game of the .500 mark.

"Hoppy" Crabtree had two hits for Ritter's and J. Martin drew three walks in three times at bat. Leo Rhodes was the winner and Niles Shuck the loser.

J. Martin and C. Hartman, left fielder and short fielder, respectively, of the R.A.C., and Ossie Nelson, Celanese second baseman, played outstanding games. The scores:

26 Colts Unsigned

BALTIMORE (AP) — Twenty-six players from the Baltimore Colts' National Football League championship squad of 1958 remain unsigned as the team makes last-minute preparations for the start of pre-season training.

Coach Weeb Ewbank will greet his rookie prospects at the Westminster camp next Monday. The veterans will report two days later, and that's when many of them are expected to sign their contracts.

Corriganville's seven-game winning streak ended the Herman's lead in the County Softball League and was reduced to a half-game yesterday when they went down to defeat for the first time this season at the hands of the Homewood Tavern Old Exports on the latter's field by the score of 5-3.

Homewood had dropped three decisions to the league leaders this season and two of those setbacks were absorbed by Junior Brelsford, the circuit's winningest pitcher, who turned in a five-hitter yesterday, fanned four, and registered his 13th victory against only three losses. It was Brelsford's fifth straight triumph. In his four previous starts he had blanked Maple Inn 8-0, Fossilville 5-0, Kennell's Mill 1-0 and Cumberland Cement 3-0 and had pitched 36 scoreless innings prior to the third frame yesterday when the Hermans made two of their three runs.

Leon Raygor went the route for Corriganville and suffered his third loss against seven wins.

Denny Shuck accounted for two of Homewood's six blows, Fay Often rapped a two-bagger and George Bishields played a bang-up game at second base. Johnny Price excelled at the hot corner for the Hermans, Kenny Johnson banged a double and single and Kline obtained a two-base wallop for the losers.

Jerry O'Baker hurled Cumberlad Cement to an 8-3 decision over Kennell's Mill and Maple Inn outlasted Stringtown, 11-10, in other games played yesterday.

Maple Inn collected 14 hits, including a homer and single by Leroy Morris and a two-base hit and single by Kenny Brant. "Boo" Shaffer and Ray Troutman connected for a triple and single each for Stringtown.

Cumberland Cement outhit Burkey's of Kennell's Mill, 9 to 6. Jack Lowery blasted a double and two singles and Rich Lowery garnered two hits, including a two-base shot, for the victors. Carlton Stair homered and singled and Sager had two singles and excelled in right field for Kennell's Mill.

Torrid Bosox Are Cooled Off By Chicago, 7-3

BOSTON (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox moved to within a whisker of the American League lead Tuesday night by banging out 13 hits and capitalizing on a sloppy Boston defense to cool off the red-hot Red Sox, 7-3.

The Chicago win, together with a Cleveland defeat at New York, left the White Sox just two percentage points behind the league-leading Indians.

The White Sox, winning their fourth straight, wrapped it up with a three-run fourth inning in which Boston committed two errors, one by Frank Malzone on a possible doubleplay ball.

That gave Chicago a 4-2 lead. The White Sox added another run in the fifth and two in the ninth. John Romano homered for Chicago with none on in the ninth, while Jackie Jensen and Don Buddin had fourbaggers for Boston. Jensen's was his 21st of the season and third in as many games.

Billy Pierce won his 10th game though hit rather freely by the Red Sox. Turk Lown finished up in the ninth for the Chicago left-hander.

Law Racks Up 10th Triumph, Podres Loses

Southpaw Kayoed In First Inning On 5 Hits In Row

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates hammered across five first-inning runs off Johnny Podres, whom they hadn't beaten for two years, and rolled to a 9-1 win over the Los Angeles Dodgers at Forbes Field Tuesday night.

The victory, Vern Law's 10th of the season, was the Pirates' seventh in their last eight games and moved them within a game of third place Los Angeles and 2½ out of first place.

Podres, making his first start since June 26, retired only one batter before the Pirates finished him with five straight hits. Dick Groat doubled down the left field line and rode home on Bob Skinner's triple. Successive singles by Dick Stuart, Roberto Clemente, and Bill Mazeroski brought in two more runs.

The Pirates continued the assault on Roger Craig, with Don Hoak and Danny Kravitz knocking in runs with singles.

A bases-loaded walk, Kravitz's two-run single, and Johnny Klippstein's wild pitch padded the Pittsburgh lead with four runs in the seventh.

Maroons Cop Nine Inning Game, 10-9

The LaVale Maroons upset Tri-State Memorial by the score of 10-9 in a nine-inning Pen-Mar Little League battle yesterday at Parkside Field.

Tri-State scored two runs in the top of the ninth and the Maroons sewed it up with three tallies in the bottom of the third extra frame.

Dickie Horn, who pitched the first 6 innings for the Maroons, fanned 10 while Rich Merrill, his successor and winner, whiffed seven in three stanzas. Roger Wilt worked five innings for Tri-State and struck out eight. Calvert, who came in the 6th, was tagged with the loss.

The Maroons had three home runs, each with a man aboard, for six of their 10 runs. Horn and Jerry Moore collected a homer, double and single each. "Corky" Hickle had three hits, Joe Dorsey and Dave Pittman two each and Rich Merrill hit a round-tripper.

Phillips headed Tri-State with a pair of triples, a 2-bagger and single. Roger Wilt homered and singled and Strickland blasted a three bagger.

Darkness halted the game between the LaVale Orioles and Ellerslie in the 8th inning with the score knotted at 12-12.

Corriganville Wins Over Mt. Royal, 16-2

Terry Golden registered his third straight victory and kept his pitching record unblemished in the Maryland-West Virginia Little League when he hurled Corriganville to a 16-2 decision over Mount Royal yesterday at Corriganville. Darkness halted the game in the top of the 5th.

Golden yielded two hits, including a double by Kyhos, and fired the third strike past 13 batsmen.

Leroy Burkett slammed two homers, Jimmy Sweitzer clouted a triple, double and single and Wayne Bittner had a three-base hit for the victors.

Rain washed out the Columbia Street-Barton game yesterday. It has been rescheduled for Thursday at County Field. Score:

Sports Shoppe, P.E. And Ridgeley Legion Win In Rec Circuit

The Sports Shoppe defeated Bennett Transfer, 10-8, Ridgeley American Legion nosed out Whitacre's Grocery, 4-3, and Potomac Edison trounced the Police and Firemen, 19-3, in Men's Rec Softball League games played yesterday.

Ray Ruckman, pitching his first game for the second place Sports Shoppe, yielded nine hits but was only in trouble in the fifth inning when the losers scored three runs. Second baseman Bob Giles pulled the Shoppers out of the hole with a running, leaping, one-handed catch of a fly ball with the bases full.

Giles with a double and single, Charles Denmark with three hits and Pete Robb and Jim Hamilton with two-base wallops led the Shoppers who are now 9-3 in the league's National Division.

Wes Hann collected two hits and Bob Andrews homered for the losers.

Charley Crabtree's double drove in the winning run in the fifth inning as Ridgeley emerged the victor over Whitacre's. Crabtree also turned in several nice catches in centerfield.

Lechliter homered with one aboard for the losers.

Bill Kenney, who relieved Don Decker in the 4th, got credit for his 7th win of the season.

Potomac Edison scored seven runs in the first and nine tallies in the fifth to outclass the Police and Firemen. Rain halted the game in the 6th frame.

Fred Meeks sparked the 12-hit assault with two doubles and a single while Harold Ross and Ed Downton garnered two-base blows. Denny Knippenburg had two hits for the Police and Firemen. Scores:

Sikes Is Medalist

DENVER (UPI) — Defending champion Dan Sikes, Jr., of Jacksonville, Fla., who barely qualified in a special playoff a year ago, captured medalist honors Tuesday in the National Public Links golf tournament at Denver's Wellshire municipal course.

The 28-year-old Sikes, a senior in law school at the University of Florida, had a two-day total of 69-68—137 over 36 holes. His score was five strokes under par.

Duren Makes Eighth Save, Rescues Ford

Richardson's Hit After Two Walks Scores Lone Run

NEW YORK (UPI) — Whitey Ford and Ryne Duren combined their pitching talents to shut out the league-leading Cleveland Indians, 1-0, on five hits Tuesday night and snap a five-game New York Yankee losing streak.

Ford, winning his first game in three weeks, pitched seven innings and allowed only four hits. Duren finished to complete the blanking as he turned in his eighth save of the season.

The two scoreless innings extended Duren's streak to 31 1-3 innings. He has not been scored on since April 30. He allowed one hit Tuesday night and fanned three to give him 43 in the 31 1-3 innings.

Bobby Richardson, pint - sized second baseman of the Yankees, drove in the only run of the game in the second inning to send Herb Score down to his seventh defeat.

Score set up the winning run himself when he handed Elston Howard a walk to open the inning. An infield out moved Howard to second and, after Tony Kubek fanned and Ford walked, Richardson singled sharply to center to score Howard.

But the Indians' best scoring opportunity went down the drain in the eighth when Tito Francona opened with a single. Colavito forced Francona and, in turn, was forced by Held. With pinch-hitter Elmer Valo at bat, Duren's attempted pickoff throw went wild and Held reached second. A wild pitch advanced him to third. With Valo still at bat, Held tried to score on a short passed ball but was thrown out at the plate, Yogi Berra to Duren, ending the inning.

Milt Pappas Posts 10th Win Over K.C.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Orioles' Milt Pappas posted his 10th win of the season as the Birds won the second game of a double-header with Kansas City 3-1 Tuesday night after losing the opener 1-0.

Pappas, who allowed only five hits, including Roger Maris' 12th homer of the year with the bases empty in the second inning, was backed by Willie Tasby, who clouted his eighth home run of the year in the first inning.

In the opening game, Dick Williams scored from third base in the ninth inning on a double by Harry Chiti to clinch win No. 7 for Ray Herbert.

Glenn Kauffman chalked up his 10th win of the season and Bill Underdonk notched his 11th as the V.F.W. and Elks scored triumphs yesterday and remained a half game apart in the Rocking Chair Softball League race.

Kauffman twirled the Vets to a 5-1 decision over the Loyal Order of Moose at Stitcher Field while Underdonk twirled the B.P.O. Elks to a 3-2 verdict over the Knights of Columbus at Post Field. It was the Elks' third straight victory over the Caseys this season.

Jim Eckard with a double and single and Corbin and Reuschel with two-base belts led the league-leading Vets at the plate as Manager Cecil Grimes' club notched win No. 13 in 18 starts. Pete Cecil accounted for two of the losers' six safeties.

The Elks nosed out the Caseys in the bottom of the 7th when Al Sheetz walked "Whip" Kreitzburg for the third time. Roy Manges, inserted to run for Kreitzburg, pilfered second and continued home with the winning marker on a wild throw to the keystone hassock.

Jack Bopp and Bob Price of the Elks and "Chick" Snider and Gene Scaletta of the K. of C., had two hits each.

At Celanese Field, Ritter's A. C. defeated the Celanese A.A., 4-1, and moved within a game of the .500 mark.

"Hoppy" Crabtree had two hits for Ritter's and J. Martin drew three walks in three times at bat. Leo Rhodes was the winner and Niles Shuck the loser.

Corriganville's seven-game winning streak ended the Herman's lead in the County Softball League and was reduced to a half-game yesterday when they went down to defeat for the first time this season at the hands of the Homewood Tavern Old Exports on the latter's field by the score of 5-3.

Homewood had dropped three decisions to the league leaders this season and two of those setbacks were absorbed by Junior Brelsford, the circuit's winningest pitcher, who turned in a five-hitter yesterday, fanned four, and registered his 13th victory against only three losses. It was Brelsford's fifth straight triumph. In his four previous starts he had blanked Maple Inn 8-0, Fossilville 5-0, Kennell's Mill 1-0 and Cumberland Cement 3-0 and had pitched 36 scoreless innings prior to the third frame yesterday when the Hermans made two of their three runs.

Leon Raygor went the route for Corriganville and suffered his third loss against seven wins.

Denny Shuck accounted for two of Homewood's six blows, Fay Often rapped a two-bagger and George Bishields played a bang-up game at second base. Johnny Price excelled at the hot corner for the Hermans, Kenny Johnson banged a double and single and Kline obtained a two-base wallop for the losers.

Jerry O'Baker hurled Cumberlad Cement to an 8-3 decision over Kennell's Mill and Maple Inn outlasted Stringtown, 11-10, in other games played yesterday.

Maple Inn collected 14 hits, including a homer and single by Leroy Morris and a two-base hit and single by Kenny Brant. "Boo" Shaffer and Ray Troutman connected for a triple and single each for Stringtown.

Cumberland Cement outhit Burkey's of Kennell's Mill, 9 to 6. Jack Lowery blasted a double and two singles and Rich Lowery garnered two hits, including a two-base shot, for the victors. Carlton Stair homered and singled and Sager had two singles and excelled in right field for Kennell's Mill.

Torrid Bosox Are Cooled Off By Chicago, 7-3

BOSTON (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox moved to within a whisker of the American League lead Tuesday night by banging out 13 hits and capitalizing on a sloppy Boston defense to cool off the red-hot Red Sox, 7-3.

The Chicago win, together with a Cleveland defeat at New York, left the White Sox just two percentage points behind the league-leading Indians.

The White Sox, winning their fourth straight, wrapped it up with a three-run fourth inning in which Boston committed two errors, one by Frank Malzone on a possible doubleplay ball.

That gave Chicago a 4-2 lead. The White Sox added another run in the fifth and two in the ninth. John Romano homered for Chicago with none on in the ninth, while Jackie Jensen and Don Buddin had fourbaggers for Boston. Jensen's was his 21st of the season and third in as many games.

Billy Pierce won his 10th game though hit rather freely by the Red Sox. Turk Lown finished up in the ninth for the Chicago left-hander.

Paul Glod To Join Athletic Staff At Frostburg State

Fayette City Native Will Coach Tennis

Will Be Assistant If Grid Sport Is OK'd For College

FROSTBURG — Paul Glod, Philadelphia, will join the athletic staff at Frostburg State Teachers College this fall and will teach physical education courses and instruct or coach the tennis teams. This will bring to three the number in the athletic department which is headed by Coach Kenneth Babcock.

Glod is married and his wife, Betty Glod, will teach 10th and 11th grade English at Mt. Savage High School.

He is a native of Fayette City, Pa., and received his bachelors degree at Marietta College, his masters at West Virginia University and has done additional work towards his doctors degree.

His teaching experiences have included coaching at Marietta College, Indiana University, Shorewood High School and Nebraska State Teachers College. He served in the armed forces from 1942-45. He is a member of the N.E.A., the National Coaches Association and the Montgomery County Teachers Association.

R. Bowen Hardesty, president of Frostburg State, pointed out that if and when the state board of education gives the college permission to proceed with football, Glod may assist in that field as he has had wide experience coaching the game. President Hardesty pointed out also that nothing has been definitely planned in that direction pending the state board's permission.

Tigers	5	1	.833
Athletics	4	3	.571
Senators	4	3	.571
Indians	1	6	.143
Braves	0	7	.000

Manager John Daum's Dodgers maintained their one-game lead in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan League by whipping the Athletics yesterday at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 8-3 behind the four-hit twirling of Tom Stitcher, who notched his third win of the season against a single loss.

Stitcher fanned 10 while McFarland, of the A's, struck out seven and gave up nine bases on balls.

Terry Lease rapped a double and single and Pat Chorpenning and Larry Imes smacked two-baggers for the winners. Blair Norris homered and "Rock" Cioni larruped a double for the Athletics.

The second place Tigers eked out a 3-2 decision over the Braves at East Side Field on Hal Dougherty's timely double that sent over the winning run in the fifth frame. Dougherty also hit a homer as did Rich Aman. Dean and Van Ormer accounted for the hits credited to the Braves who dropped their 7th straight game.

Timmy Scaletta, Tigers' third baseman, contributed the fielding highlight when he made a nice running catch of a foul ball to retire the side in the sixth after the Braves had loaded the bases after two out.

Don Wagner's pitching and hitting were the highlights as the Senators defeated the Indians by the score of 8-3 at Post Field.

Wagner tossed a 5-hitter, fanned seven and led his team's attack with a three-run homer, double and single. John Robinson, Mike Haines and Mike Stegmaier obtained two hits each.

Knipple's two-bagger was among the Indians' five hits.

Bobby Sloan struck out six Senators and was the Indians' fielding star. Scores:

Maryland Open Golf Postponed

BALTIMORE (AP) — Heavy rains Tuesday forced postponement of the Maryland Open golf championship. The 36-hole tournament was rescheduled for Monday.

Charley Bassler of Catonsville, seven-time winner of the event, will be defending champion on the Woodholme Country Club's par 72 course.

But he and other pros may get some stiff competition from a strong group of amateurs including Dean Beman, British Amateur champion from Bethesda.

BROTHERS OWN 13-0 RECORD—The Diehl Brothers, Jim on the left, and Billy on the right, are keeping the Frostburg Little Moes on top in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League this season, having accounted for 13 of the 14 wins credited to the team. Jim is 14, tips the beam at 175 and is 5-11 in height. He is 7-0 to date, has fanned 73 in 42 innings and is hitting .455 with 15 hits in 33 at bats. Bill, 13, weighs 180, is 5-feet-8, and has won six and lost none. He has whiffed 57 in 40 innings. They are the sons of Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Diehl, 83 West Main Street, Frostburg. The Little Moes, managed by Bob Goldsworthy, have a 14-1 record and lead the league by five games.

Schoendienst Hopes To Play In September

"Red" Will Start Drills In August

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Second Baseman Red Schoendienst — making rapid progress after a bout with tuberculosis — said Tuesday he'll begin his "spring practice" late in August and rejoin the Milwaukee Braves in September.

"Right now I feel I can play nine innings," the 36-year-old Schoendienst told Globe-Democrat baseball writer Jack Herman.

However, Schoendienst's personal physician, Dr. William Werner, said that it's unlikely the redhead will be able to play every day in September.

"But, Dr. Werner added, "I don't expect any restrictions on what he can do next year."

Even if Schoendienst is available for only part-time duty in September, his return should give a lift to the hard-pressed Braves.

Trying to plug the hole at second base has been a season-long headache for Braves' manager Fred Haney. None of the fill-ins has been able to field or hit with the authority of Schoendienst.

Schoendienst told Herman he will train in his hometown of St. Louis. If it weren't for the fact the Braves will be on the road during most of August, he said, he would rejoin the team in a few weeks.

The veteran infielder is just three pounds over his playing weight of 181 and doesn't anticipate any problems in scaling down.

Rhodesian Swims English Channel

FOLKESTONE, England (AP)—Denis Pearson, 26-year-old South Rhodesian sergeant, Monday swam the English Channel in 15 hours, 36 minutes—the first swimmer to make the crossing this year.

Pearson plunged into the water off France early Monday and waded ashore at Folkestone about 1 p.m. (EST).

The Rhodesian's successful swim across the 22 miles of water marked the start of another English Channel swimming season. By the end of September about a dozen swimmers — men and women — will have added their names to the list of channel swimmers started by Capt. Matthew Webb in 1875.

Ned Garver, Newcombe Set Pace

Former Hits .386, Don's Average .333

NEW YORK (AP)—Ned Garver of Kansas City and Don Newcombe of Cincinnati have turned in the best batting performances among major league pitchers this season.

Garver, who hit only .174 in 1958, leads the American League pitchers with a batting average of .386. He has one triple and two homers among 17 hits and collected seven RBI.

Newcombe tops the National League with a .333 mark, figures compiled by The Associated Press showed Tuesday. Big Newk, used frequently as a pinch-hitter, has had two doubles and a pair of homers among 21 hits while driving in 13 runs.

Bud Daley of Kansas City is runner-up to Garver in the American League with .368. Daley has had 14 safeties, including one double. He has driven home nine runs.

Don Larsen of the New York Yankees is third with .290 followed by Camilo Pascual of Washington, 2.69 and Early Wynn of the Chicago White Sox, .255. The records include Monday's games.

Johnny Podres of Los Angeles is second in the National League with a .263 average. Then comes Warren Spahn of Milwaukee with .241.

Bob Friend of Pittsburgh is fourth with .231 followed by Vinegar Bend Mizell of St. Louis with .222.

Bob Grim of Kansas City is the only pitcher to have hit a grand slam homer. He hit it off Barry Latman of the White Sox on April 15.

Top Thoroughbreds May Meet In Fall

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Prospects of a match race between Hillsdale and Round Table this summer collapsed Tuesday but the two might meet in the fall.

C. W. Smith of detroit, owner of Hillsdale, announced that his 4-year-old colt will soon take a vacation.

Travis M. Kerr's Round Table, now in Chicago, and Hillsdale are among the nation's leaders for "horse of the year" honors.

Smith emphasized that he is not afraid of Round Table but he wants his horse in the best of condition if and when they meet.

Chicago Cubs Top Milwaukee By Score 10-5

Fumbling Braves Lose Game In 7th

CHICAGO (AP) — Keyed by Ernie Banks' double and pitcher Bill Henry's single the Chicago Cubs jammed across four runs, only one of them earned, in the seventh inning Tuesday to defeat the fumbling Milwaukee Braves 10-5.

In all, five errors were made in the game, three by the Braves.

Lee Walls hit his fifth homer for the Cubs in the first inning with a runner aboard, and doubles by Banks and newly acquired Art Schult gave the Cubs 3 runs.

Earl Averill also homered, his sixth, for Chicago in the 6th. Hank Aaron added No. 24 for the Braves in the same inning.

Then came the decisive seventh. Al Dark led off with a grounder down first base line that went for a hit when Joey Jay, the second of four Milwaukee hurlers, missed scooping up the ball.

Walls bunted and was safe when Jay threw high to first base. Banks doubled scoring Dark. Bobby Thomson was hit by a pitched ball. Pinch hitter Dale Long grounded out but Walls scored.

After pinch-hitter Irv Noren flied out, George Altman was intentionally passed, loading the bases. Winning pitcher Henry singled across Banks and Thomson. Bill Bruton overran the ball in center field and Henry took second, but was stranded there when the side was retired.

The Cubs added another unearned run in the 8th when Eddie Mathews let Dark's pop fly drop.

Dapper Cards Win, Morgan Whiffs 14

Gary Morgan yielded four hits, including a pair of circuit wallops, and struck out 14 as the Cardinals defeated the Yankees by the score of 6-5 yesterday at Penn Avenue Field in the Dapper Division of the Dapper Dan Little League.

The winners collected seven hits off Bohrer, who fanned seven, and one of the blows was a circuit belt by Dave Price. Bob Henry rapped a double and single and Morgan hit a two-bagger.

Billy Lueck blasted a three-run homer and Billy Reed slammed a homer and single for the Yankees. Reed excelled at first base for the losers. Score:

Hemmis Wins At Hornell, Breaks 18-Year-Old Mark

Local Motorcycle Hill Climber Cops First And Second

JOSEPH W. HEMMIS

Joseph W. Hemmis, of 111 West Second Street, shattered a hill record that has been on the books 18 years when he won one of the two professional events in the motorcycle hill climbing program staged on Sunday at Hornell, N. Y.

Appearing in New York State for the fourth time this season, the nation's high point scorer, won the second event on the card in the record time of 8.97 seconds while piloting his English Triumph motor. Willard Bryan, of Columbus, Ohio, who held the previous mark of 8.98, set in 1941, finished second to Hemmis in Sunday's slant riding test.

Charles Jacobs, of Wind Gap, Pa., was third in 9.89 and Jack Nealand, Cleveland, Ohio, finished fourth in 9.95.

In the first pro event, Hemmis finished second to the veteran Howard Mitzel, of York, Pa., who negotiated the hill in 9.04 seconds. The Cumberland ace's time was 9.05. Bryan finished third in 9.90 and Charley Jacobs was fourth in 10.06.

Hemmis picked up 11 points at Hornell and now leads the national race with a grand total of 123. He has appeared in eleven cities in four states and in 22 events he has finished first 17 times, second four times and was "out of the money" only once.

Four of the new hill records he established this year were in New York State. He hung up new marks at Utica, Rochester and Albany before the Hornell meet.

Detroit May Pull Out Of Charleston

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Detroit has not discussed moving their Charleston, W. Va., Triple-A farm club in the American Assn. to another city, according to the Tigers' general manager Rick Ferrell said Monday.

Ferrell, was asked about a report that the Senators might be pulled out of Charleston in 1960 and a working agreement made with Denver. "We've never discussed such a thing," he replied.

It was reported that Charleston and Ft. Worth would be dropped from the 10-team circuit next season because they were losing money.

Cubs Option Goryl To Minneapolis Club

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Cubs Tuesday optioned infielder Johnny Goryl to Minneapolis as part payment for first baseman Art Schult, who reported to the Cubs.

Goryl has batted .184 in 25 games for the Cubs this year while Schult was hitting .289 for Minneapolis. The Cubs will complete the purchase later by assigning a player still to be selected from its minor league chain to Minneapolis.

Baltimore Boxer Indicted, Passed Counterfeit Bills

BALTIMORE (AP) — Marvin Kanthal, 29-year-old Golden Gloves heavyweight champion, was indicted by the Federal grand jury today on charges of passing five counterfeit $100 bills during the July 4 weekend.

Kanthal, who fought professionally until about a year ago, was arrested last Thursday.

The indictments accused him of passing two $100 bills at Chesapeake Beach and one at North Beach in Anne Arundel County on July 4, and one at Gambrills and another in Baltimore on July 5.

Secret Service officials said Kanthal had admitted passing about $4,000 in fake $100 bills.

Twin Bill Postponed

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Tuesday night's scheduled twi-night doubleheader between the Philadelphia Phillies and the San Francisco Giants was postponed because of rain and wet grounds.

The clubs will play a single game Wednesday night and a twi-night double-header Thursday night.

Mims To Fight George Benton

Scrap Set Tonight At Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — George Benton, an unrated but respected middleweight, gets a chance Wednesday night to make his bid for a divisional ranking when he meets Holly Mims in the 10-round main event at Miami Beach Auditorium.

Benton, 26-year-old puncher from Philadelphia, will be making his national television debut against Mims, No. 8 middleweight contender from Washington, D.C. The fight will be carried by ABC starting at 9 p.m. (EST).

Because few of the top fighters want to take him on, Benton has managed only 41 fights in 10 years. He won 19 by knockouts and lost only four.

Not until last May 18 did Benton get his first "name" opponent. He won easily over Bobby Boyd in a Philadelphia match, four months after Boyd had beaten Mims in Chicago.

R. Bowen Hardesty, president of Frostburg State, pointed out that if and when the state board of education gives the college permission to proceed with football, Glod may assist in that field as he has had wide experience coaching the game. President Hardesty pointed out also that nothing has been definitely planned in that direction pending the state board's permission.

Dodgers, Tigers, Senators Victors In Dan Loop Tilts

DAN DIVISION

Standing Of The Teams

Dodgers	7	1	.875
Tigers	5	1	.833
Athletics	4	3	.571
Senators	4	3	.571
Indians	1	6	.143
Braves	0	7	.000

Manager John Daum's Dodgers maintained their one-game lead in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan League by whipping the Athletics yesterday at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 8-3 behind the four-hit twirling of Tom Stitcher, who notched his third win of the season against a single loss.

Stitcher fanned 10 while McFarland, of the A's, struck out seven and gave up nine bases on balls.

Terry Lease rapped a double and single and Pat Chorpenning and Larry Imes smacked two-baggers for the winners. Blair Norris homered and "Rock" Cioni larruped a double for the Athletics.

The second place Tigers eked out a 3-2 decision over the Braves at East Side Field on Hal Dougherty's timely double that sent over the winning run in the fifth frame. Dougherty also hit a homer as did Rich Aman. Dean and Van Ormer accounted for the hits credited to the Braves who dropped their 7th straight game.

Timmy Scaletta, Tigers' third baseman, contributed the fielding highlight when he made a nice running catch of a foul ball to retire the side in the sixth after the Braves had loaded the bases after two out.

Don Wagner's pitching and hitting were the highlights as the Senators defeated the Indians by the score of 8-3 at Post Field.

Wagner tossed a 5-hitter, fanned seven and led his team's attack with a three-run homer, double and single. John Robinson, Mike Haines and Mike Stegmaier obtained two hits each.

Knipple's two - bagger was among the Indians' five hits.

Bobby Sloan struck out six Senators and was the Indians' fielding star. Scores:

Maryland Open Golf Postponed

BALTIMORE (AP) — Heavy rains Tuesday forced postponement of the Maryland Open golf championship. The 36-hole tournament was rescheduled for Monday.

Charley Bassler of Catonsville, seven-time winner of the event, will be defending champion on the Woodholme Country Club's par 72 course.

But he and other pros may get some stiff competition from a strong group of amateurs including Dean Beman, British Amateur champion from Bethesda.

BROTHERS OWN 13-0 RECORD—The Diehl Brothers, Jim on the left, and Billy on the right, are keeping the Frostburg Little Moes on top in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League this season, having accounted for 13 of the 14 wins credited to the team. Jim is 14, tips the beam at 175 and is 5-11 in height. He is 7-0 to date, has fanned 73 in 42 innings and is hitting .455 with 15 hits in 33 at bats. Bill, 13, weighs 180, is 5-feet-8, and has won six and lost none. He has whiffed 57 in 40 innings. They are the sons of Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Diehl, 83 West Main Street, Frostburg. The Little Moes, managed by Bob Goldsworthy, have a 14-1 record and lead the league by five games.

Schoendienst Hopes To Play In September

"Red" Will Start Drills In August

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Second Baseman Red Schoendienst — making rapid progress after a bout with tuberculosis — said Tuesday he'll begin his "spring practice" late in August and rejoin the Milwaukee Braves in September.

"Right now I feel I can play nine innings," the 36-year-old Schoendienst told Globe-Democrat baseball writer Jack Herman.

However, Schoendienst's personal physician, Dr. William Werner, said that it's unlikely the redhead will be able to play every day in September.

"But, Dr. Werner added, "I don't expect any restrictions on what he can do next year."

Even if Schoendienst is available for only part-time duty in September, his return should give a lift to the hard-pressed Braves.

Trying to plug the hole at second base has been a season-long headache for Braves' manager Fred Haney. None of the fill-ins has been able to field or hit with the authority of Schoendienst.

Schoendienst told Herman he will train in his hometown of St. Louis. If it weren't for the fact the Braves will be on the road during most of August, he said, he would rejoin the team in a few weeks.

The veteran infielder is just three pounds over his playing weight of 181 and doesn't anticipate any problems in scaling down.

Rhodesian Swims English Channel

FOLKESTONE, England (AP)—Denis Pearson, 26-year-old South Rhodesian sergeant, Monday swam the English Channel in 15 hours, 36 minutes—the first swimmer to make the crossing this year.

Pearson plunged into the water off France early Monday and waded ashore at Folkestone about 1 p.m. (EST).

The Rhodesian's successful swim across the 22 miles of water marked the start of another English Channel swimming season. By the end of September about a dozen swimmers — men and women — will have added their names to the list of channel swimmers started by Capt. Matthew Webb in 1875.

Ned Garver, Newcombe Set Pace

Former Hits .386, Don's Average .333

NEW YORK (AP)—Ned Garver of Kansas City and Don Newcombe of Cincinnati have turned in the best batting performances among major league pitchers this season.

Garver, who hit only .174 in 1958, leads the American League pitchers with a batting average of .386. He has one triple and two homers among 17 hits and collected seven RBI.

Newcombe tops the National League with a .333 mark, figures compiled by The Associated Press showed Tuesday. Big Newk, used frequently as a pinch-hitter, has had two doubles and a pair of homers among 21 hits while driving in 13 runs.

Bud Daley of Kansas City is runner-up to Garver in the American League with .368. Daley has had 14 safeties, including one double. He has driven home nine runs.

Don Larsen of the New York Yankees is third with .290 followed by Camilo Pascual of Washington, 2.69 and Early Wynn of the Chicago White Sox, .255. The records include Monday's games.

Johnny Podres of Los Angeles is second in the National League with a .263 average. Then comes Warren Spahn of Milwaukee with .241.

Bob Friend of Pittsburgh is fourth with .231 followed by Vinegar Bend Mizell of St. Louis with .222.

Bob Grim of Kansas City is the only pitcher to have hit a grand slam homer. He hit it off Barry Latman of the White Sox on April 15.

Top Thoroughbreds May Meet In Fall

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Prospects of a match race between Hillsdale and Round Table this summer collapsed Tuesday but the two might meet in the fall.

C. W. Smith of detroit, owner of Hillsdale, announced that his 4-year-old colt will soon take a vacation.

Travis M. Kerr's Round Table, now in Chicago, and Hillsdale are among the nation's leaders for "horse of the year" honors.

Smith emphasized that he is not afraid of Round Table but he wants his horse in the best of condition if and when they meet.

Chicago Cubs Top Milwaukee By Score 10-5

Fumbling Braves Lose Game In 7th

CHICAGO (AP) — Keyed by Ernie Banks' double and pitcher Bill Henry's single the Chicago Cubs jammed across four runs, only one of them earned, in the seventh inning Tuesday to defeat the fumbling Milwaukee Braves 10-5.

In all, five errors were made in the game, three by the Braves.

Lee Walls hit his fifth homer for the Cubs in the first inning with a runner aboard, and doubles by Banks and newly acquired Art Schult gave the Cubs 3 runs.

Earl Averill also homered, his sixth, for Chicago in the 6th. Hank Aaron added No. 24 for the Braves in the same inning.

Then came the decisive seventh. Al Dark led off with a grounder down first base line that went for a hit when Joey Jay, the second of four Milwaukee hurlers, missed scooping up the ball.

Walls bunted and was safe when Jay threw high to first base. Banks doubled scoring Dark. Bobby Thomson was hit by a pitched ball. Pinch hitter Dale Long grounded out but Walls scored.

After pinch-hitter Irv Noren flied out, George Altman was intentionally passed, loading the bases. Winning pitcher Henry singled across Banks and Thomson. Bill Bruton overran the ball in center field and Henry took second, but was stranded there when the side was retired.

The Cubs added another unearned run in the 8th when Eddie Mathews let Dark's pop fly drop.

Dapper Cards Win, Morgan Whiffs 14

Gary Morgan yielded four hits, including a pair of circuit wallops, and struck out 14 as the Cardinals defeated the Yankees by the score of 6-5 yesterday at Penn Avenue Field in the Dapper Division of the Dapper Dan Little League.

The winners collected seven hits off Bohrer, who fanned seven, and one of the blows was a circuit belt by Dave Price. Bob Henry rapped a double and single and Morgan hit a two-bagger.

Billy Lueck blasted a three-run homer and Billy Reed slammed a homer and single for the Yankees. Reed excelled at first base for the losers. Score:

Hemmis Wins At Hornell, Breaks 18-Year-Old Mark

Local Motorcycle Hill Climber Cops First And Second

JOSEPH W. HEMMIS

Joseph W. Hemmis, of 111 West Second Street, shattered a hill record that has been on the books 18 years when he won one of the two professional events in the motorcycle hill climbing program staged on Sunday at Hornell, N. Y.

Appearing in New York State for the fourth time this season, the nation's high point scorer, won the second event on the card in the record time of 8.97 seconds while piloting his English Triumph motor. Willard Bryan, of Columbus, Ohio, who held the previous mark of 8.98, set in 1941, finished second to Hemmis in Sunday's slant riding test.

Charles Jacobs, of Wind Gap, Pa., was third in 9.89 and Jack Nealand, Cleveland, Ohio, finished fourth in 9.95.

In the first pro event, Hemmis finished second to the veteran Howard Mitzel, of York, Pa., who negotiated the hill in 9.04 seconds. The Cumberland ace's time was 9.05. Bryan finished third in 9.90 and Charley Jacobs was fourth in 10.06.

Hemmis picked up 11 points at Hornell and now leads the national race with a grand total of 123. He has appeared in eleven cities in four states and in 22 events he has finished first 17 times, second four times and was "out of the money" only once.

Four of the new hill records he established this year were in New York State. He hung up new marks at Utica, Rochester and Albany before the Hornell meet.

Detroit May Pull Out Of Charleston

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Detroit has not discussed moving their Charleston, W. Va., Triple-A farm club in the American Assn. to another city, according to the Tigers' general manager Rick Ferrell said Monday.

Ferrell, was asked about a report that the Senators might be pulled out of Charleston in 1960 and a working agreement made with Denver. "We've never discussed such a thing," he replied.

It was reported that Charleston and Ft. Worth would be dropped from the 10 - team circuit next season because they were losing money.

Cubs Option Goryl To Minneapolis Club

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Cubs Tuesday optioned infielder Johnny Goryl to Minneapolis as part payment for first baseman Art Schult, who reported to the Cubs.

Goryl has batted .184 in 25 games for the Cubs this year while Schult was hitting .289 for Minneapolis. The Cubs will complete the purchase later by assigning a player still to be selected from its minor league chain to Minneapolis.

Baltimore Boxer Indicted, Passed Counterfeit Bills

BALTIMORE (AP) — Marvin Kanthal, 29-year-old Golden Gloves heavyweight champion, was indicted by the Federal grand jury today on charges of passing five counterfeit $100 bills during the July 4 weekend.

Kanthal, who fought professionally until about a year ago, was arrested last Thursday.

The indictments accused him of passing two $100 bills at Chesapeake Beach and one at North Beach in Anne Arundel County on July 4, and one at Gambrills and another in Baltimore on July 5.

Secret Service officials said Kanthal had admitted passing about $4,000 in fake $100 bills.

Twin Bill Postponed

Ray Is Substitute

Mims To Fight George Benton

Scrap Set Tonight At Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — George Benton, an unrated but respected middleweight, gets a chance Wednesday night to make his bid for a divisional ranking when he meets Holly Mims in the 10-round main event at Miami Beach Auditorium.

Benton, 26 - year - old puncher from Philadelphia, will be making his national television debut against Mims, No. 8 middleweight contender from Washington, D.C. The fight will be carried by ABC starting at 9 p.m. (EST).

Because few of the top fighters want to take him on, Benton has managed only 41 fights in 10 years. He won 19 by knockouts and lost only four.

Not until last May 18 did Benton get his first "name" opponent. He won easily over Bobby Boyd in a Philadelphia match, four months after Boyd had beaten Mims in Chicago.

Drops Into Lake

TOKYO (UPI) — A helicopter carrying Brig. Gen. Alexander M. Willing, U.S. Army commander in Japan, lost power on take-off and dropped into Lake Motosu Tuesday. Willing and the pilot suffered slight injuries.

The pilot, Capt. Fed N. Till, of Milford, Del., got the 'copter to a height of about 20 feet when the power failed. He leveled off and the machine settled into six feet of water in the lake.

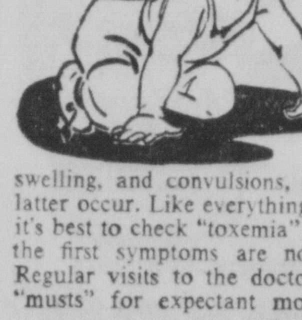
WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

- Crybabies
- Pregnancy Toxemia
- Alcoholism



Q. Is it harmful to let a baby "cry it out"?

A. The era of letting babies "cry it out" is over, states a bulletin from the Minnesota Medical Association. Young babies should be accepted as human beings with justifiable demands and unquestionable needs to be met. A good many parents fear that attentions given a crying child may "spoil" him. This does not seem to be so. Quoting from the bulletin, "The baby whose physical needs have been supplied, who has received adequate mothering and love actually requires less and less of such attention as he grows older."

Q. "Would you please discuss toxemia of pregnancy?" — Mrs. S.

A. Pregnancy "toxemia" is usually said to be present when the expectant mother develops high blood pressure, with tissue swelling and perhaps albumin in the urine. If the condition is unchecked there may be convulsions and other developments which threaten the life of the mother. The exact cause of pregnancy toxemia isn't known but doctors now have drugs with which to control the high blood pressure, swelling, and convulsions, if the latter occur. Like everything else, it's best to check "toxemia" when the first symptoms are noticed. Regular visits to the doctor are "musts" for expectant mothers.

Q. Is alcoholism inherited?

A. Apparently not. According to most authorities, abnormal drinking and craving for alcohol are acquired traits which can not be handed down. That children of alcoholics often drink to excess is not evidence of an inherited craving but is more likely a reflection of poor home environment.

Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Railroads Considering Strike Insurance Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's railroads are weighing a strike insurance plan to protect themselves against losses from work stoppages, the Association of American Railroads disclosed Monday.

The association said a draft of the plan is being circulated to member roads for their approval. Described as a "service interruption" insurance policy, the proposal was blueprinted by the railroads and would be underwritten by the newly-formed Imperial Insurance Co., Ltd., headquartered at Nassau, the Bahamas.

The company is reportedly closely associated with Lloyd's of London.

Details of the plan were not revealed, but it is understood it would not pay off in event of a general walkout affecting all the carriers.

The policy would provide indemnity for an insured railroad's losses to be payable for up to 365 days during suspension of operations caused by a single work stoppage.

This would cover the average daily fixed expenses and other items such as property taxes, pension fund payments and cost of maintenance.

An article carried by the Wall Street Journal reported that the plan is contingent on the participation of roads accounting for at least 65 per cent of the industry's gross operating revenues.

Drops Into Lake

TOKYO (UPI) — A helicopter carrying Brig. Gen. Alexander M. Willing, U.S. Army commander in Japan, lost power on take-off and dropped into Lake Motosu Tuesday. Willing and the pilot suffered slight injuries.

The pilot, Capt. Fed N. Till, of Milford, Del., got the 'copter to a height of about 20 feet when the power failed. He leveled off and the machine settled into six feet of water in the lake.

Card of Thanks

We, the family of the late Fred Bishop, wish to acknowledge the many expressions of sympathy and acts of kindness tendered us upon the loss of our father. To those who participated at the final rites, to those who by their presence or by other acts indicated their regard for the deceased one; to those who consoled us and shared our sorrow, we offer sincere thanks. "May God bless each of you," is our humble prayer.
J. O. Bishop, brothers & sisters

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE IMPROVED REAL ESTATE, KNOWN AS NO. 106 DECATUR STREET, IN THE CITY OF CUMBERLAND, ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND.

Under and by virtue of a Decree of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, passed in a cause, wherein William H. Naughton, et ux et al, are the complainants and Reginald J. Naughton, et al, are the Defendants, the same being No. 25,246 Equity in said Court, the undersigned Trustee will offer for sale at public auction alongside the Second National Bank, situate at the corner of South Liberty and Baltimore Streets, in the City of Cumberland, Maryland, on:

Thursday, July 16th, 1959, at 10:30 a. m. EDST the following property:

ALL that lot or parcel of ground lying in the City of Cumberland, Allegany County, State of Maryland, fronting on the southerly side of Decatur Street and described as follows:

BEGINNING for the same at a point on the South side of Decatur Street distant 91 feet in an Easterly direction from the Southeast corner of Decatur and Fulton Streets and running thence with said Decatur Street, South 45 degrees 35 minutes East 36 feet to the beginning of the first line of a deed to Kate E. Jammer, recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County in Liber TL No. 77, folio 568, thence reversing the fourth line of said Jammer deed and at right angles to Decatur Street, South 44 degrees 25 minutes West 120 feet to Lincoln Alley and with said alley; North 45 degrees 35 minutes West 36 feet, then at right angles to said alley, North 44 degrees 25 minutes East 120 feet to the beginning.

IT BEING the same property which was conveyed to Mary Naughton by deed from the Holtzshu Realty Company of Cumberland on October 26, 1906, and of record in Liber No. 100, folio 194. The said Mary Naughton by her Will of record in Wills Liber "J", folio 124 of the Wills Records of Allegany County, devised the same to William H. Naughton and Anna Naughton, as joint tenants, William H. Naughton having died in the year 1916, entire title vested in the said Anna Naughton, who is also known as Anna Margaret Naughton Anna Margaret Naughton died intestate November 4th, 1958, leaving the parties to this cause as her heirs at law.

Trustee.
Adv. N—June 23, July 1-8-15

In the matter of the adoption of Allen Taylor Ramsey, a minor and Tedford Eugene Ramsey, a minor, ex parte No. 187 Adoptions in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to declare Allen Taylor Ramsey, a minor, and Tedford Eugene Ramsey, a minor, to be the legally adopted children of Ray L. Foley, married. The Bill states that the said Allen Taylor Ramsey and Tedford Eugene Ramsey were born to Peggy Jane Foley (formerly Ramsey), and her former husband, Allen Eugene Ramsey, Allen Taylor Ramsey being born on March 30, 1947, and Tedford Eugene Ramsey being born on January 21, 1949; that the said Peggy Jane Foley was divorced A Vinculo Matrimonii from Allen Eugene Ramsey by decree of January, 1955, and by said decree was given the custody of the two children, Allen Taylor Ramsey and Tedford Eugene Ramsey; that since the re-marriage of their mother to Ray L. Foley, Petitioner, the said Allen Taylor Ramsey and Tedford Eugene Ramsey have resided continuously with the Petitioner and his wife; that the present address of Allen Eugene Ramsey, natural father of the two children, is unknown to the Petitioner, his wife, or the two children, his last known address being Elizabeth, New Jersey.

It is thereupon this 19th day of June, 1959, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, that the Petitioner cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County once each week for four successive weeks before the 20th day of July, 1959, giving notice to the said Allen Eugene Ramsey of the object and substance of this Petition and warning him to be and appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor on or before the 5th day of August, 1959, to show cause, if any he may have, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE IMPROVED REAL ESTATE, KNOWN AS NO. 108 DECATUR STREET, IN THE CITY OF CUMBERLAND, ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND.

Under and by virtue of a Decree of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, passed in a cause, wherein William H. Naughton, et ux et al, are the complainants and Reginald J. Naughton, et al. are the Defendants, the same being No. 25,246 Equity in said Court, the undersigned Trustee will offer for sale at public auction alongside the Second National Bank, situate at the corner of South Liberty and Baltimore Streets, in the City of Cumberland, Maryland, on:

Thursday, July 16th, 1959, at 10:30 a. m. EDST the following property:

ALL that lot or parcel of ground lying in the City of Cumberland, Allegany County, State of Maryland, fronting on the southerly side of Decatur Street and described as follows:

BEGINNING for the same at a point on the South side of Decatur Street distant 91 feet in an Easterly direction from the Southeast corner of Decatur and Fulton Streets and running thence with said Decatur Street, South 45 degrees 35 minutes East 36 feet to the beginning of the first line of a deed to Kate E. Jammer, recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County in Liber TL No. 77, folio 568, thence reversing the fourth line of said Jammer deed and at right angles to Decatur Street, South 44 degrees 25 minutes West 120 feet to Lincoln Alley and with said alley; North 45 degrees 35 minutes West 36 feet, then at right angles to said alley, North 44 degrees 25 minutes East 120 feet to the beginning.

IT BEING the same property which was conveyed to Mary Naughton by deed from the Holtzshu Realty Company of Cumberland on October 26, 1906, and of record in Liber No. 100, folio 194. The said Mary Naughton by her Will of record in Wills Liber "J", folio 124 of the Wills Records of Allegany County, devised the same to William H. Naughton and Anna Naughton, as joint tenants, William H. Naughton having died in the year 1916, entire title vested in the said Anna Naughton, who is also known as Anna Margaret Naughton Anna Margaret Naughton died intestate November 4th, 1958, leaving the parties to this cause as her heirs at law.

The above described property is improved by a single two-story brick building containing six rooms, bath and a hallway, with electric, gas, water and a coal furnace.

TERMS OF SALE: One-third cash on the day of sale and the balance upon ratification of the sale by the Court. State, County and City taxes and water rents will be adjusted to the day of sale. The Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

LESLIE J. CLARK
Trustee.
Adv. N—June 23, July 1-8-15

In the matter of the adoption of Allen Taylor Ramsey, a minor and Tedford Eugene Ramsey, a minor, ex parte No. 187 Adoptions in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to declare Allen Taylor Ramsey, a minor, and Tedford Eugene Ramsey, a minor, to be the legally adopted children of Ray L. Foley, married. The Bill states that the said Allen Taylor Ramsey and Tedford Eugene Ramsey were born to Peggy Jane Foley (formerly Ramsey), and her former husband, Allen Eugene Ramsey, Allen Taylor Ramsey being born on March 30, 1947, and Tedford Eugene Ramsey being born on January 21, 1949; that the said Peggy Jane Foley was divorced A Vinculo Matrimonii from Allen Eugene Ramsey by decree of January, 1955, and by said decree was given the custody of the two children, Allen Taylor Ramsey and Tedford Eugene Ramsey; that since the re-marriage of their mother to Ray L. Foley, Petitioner, the said Allen Taylor Ramsey and Tedford Eugene Ramsey have resided continuously with the Petitioner and his wife; that the present address of Allen Eugene Ramsey, natural father of the two children, is unknown to the Petitioner, his wife, or the two children, his last known address being Elizabeth, New Jersey.

It is thereupon this 19th day of June, 1959, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, that the Petitioner cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County once each week for four successive weeks before the 20th day of July, 1959, giving notice to the said Allen Eugene Ramsey of the object and substance of this Petition and warning him to be and appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor on or before the 5th day of August, 1959, to show cause, if any he may have, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

Area Progress On River Will Be Stressed

Interstate Unit Will Meet Here

Progress in improving water quality of the North Branch will be the theme of the fall meeting of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin here September 24 and 25.

Tentative plans for the program of the two-day meeting were made as commission officials met here yesterday.

Speakers will point out the important progress which has been made in improving the quality of the water and outline progress expected in the forseeable future.

Scheduling of the meeting here recognizes several major breakthroughs in the campaign for a clean river.

They include the Cumberland sewage treatment plant, which has been a going concern for about two years; the waste treatment system being provided for the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and the towns of Westernport, Piedmont and Luke, and the accomplishment of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company in locating an industrial plant on the North Branch without degrading the quality of the water.

To Give Reports

The program is scheduled to begin September 24 at 9:30 a. m. with a report from the Maryland State Health Department on municipal wastes along the North Branch.

A similar report for the opposite side of the stream will be given by the West Virginia Water Resources Commission.

Industrial progress in pollution abatement on the Maryland side will be presented, and a United States Public Health Service official will report on the current status of pollution, based on studies made over a number of years.

A representative of the City of Cumberland will complete the first morning's program with a report on the $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant and the $18,100,000 flood protection program.

A luncheon is scheduled at noon. John A. Luke, manager of the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, will be the speaker and will discuss industrial and community cooperation in water pollution control.

Tour Is Planned

The afternoon will be devoted to a tour of the Cumberland flood control and sewage treatment plants and possibly Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Works 7 at North Branch.

Governor J. Millard Tawes has been invited to address the banquet to be held Thursday night. An invitation will be extended to Maryland Secretary of State Thomas B. Finan, of Cumberland, to speak if Gov. Tawes is unable to attend.

The final session will begin September 25 at 9:30 a. m. and will be devoted to addresses on the future of the water improvement program in this area.

Talks will include the significance of the newly created West Virginia Water Resources Commission, contributions forestry can make in water quality, and the future of North Branch water resources development.

Suggested by George F. Hazelwood, commission member, was a tour of Cumberland's water resources, Lake Gordon and Lake Koon.

He termed the facilities the "best in the United States, bar none."

Name Committees

A number of committees were appointed to complete arrangements for the meeting. They include:

Local arrangements, A. Trago Brust, of the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company; C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, and Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Program, Julian G. Patrick, supervisory engineer of the Savage River Dam, and the Commission staff; exhibit, William H. Johnson, district forester; publicity, C. W. Blackburn and John E. Byrd.

Ellis S. Tisdale, executive director of the commission, presided at yesterday's meeting and plans were formulated under the direction of Carl J. Johnson, conservationist for the commission.

Also attending the planning session were Samuel Pancake, Romney, commission member; Charles Bush, Berkeley Springs, commission member; Bernard Wright, director of the West Virginia Water Resources Commission, and Thomas W. Morris, industrial development director, who represented the Chamber of Commerce.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Browning, Warren, Ohio, announce the birth of twins, a son and daughter, there yesterday. The mother is the former Beatrice Clise of here.

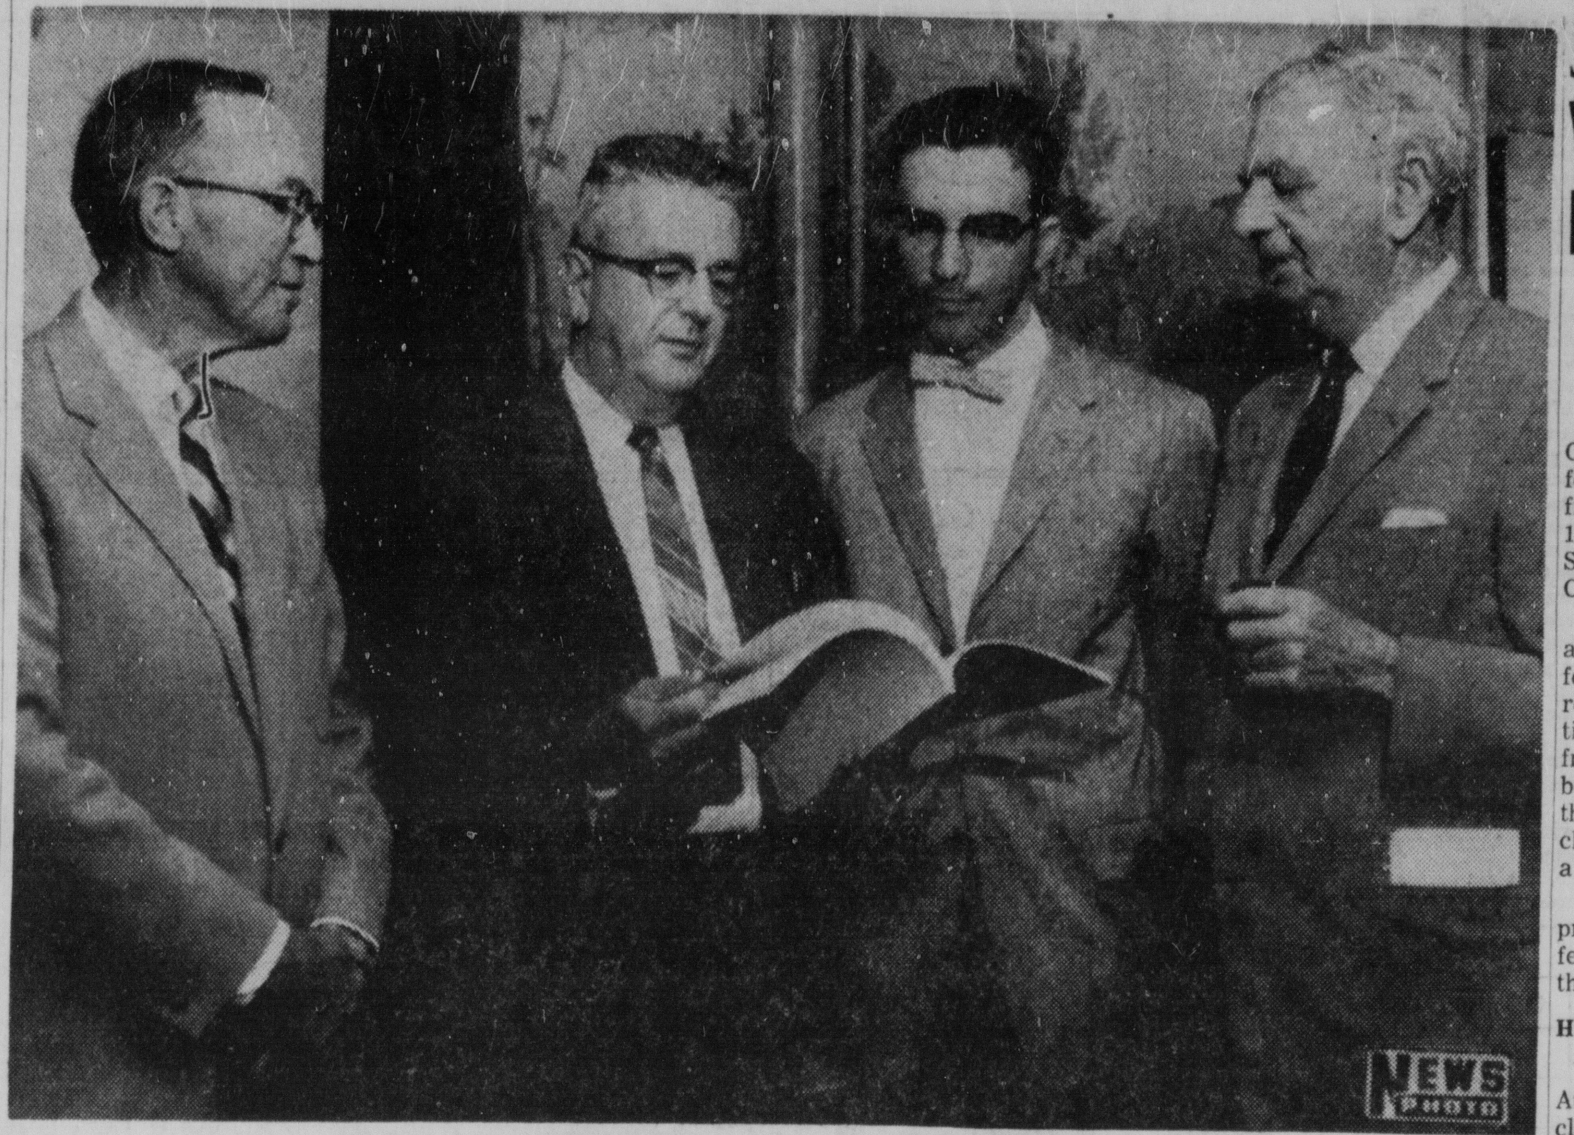
Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Epps, 215 Willowbrook Road, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Downey, 232 Baltimore Avenue, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Livengood, 1106 Frederick Street, a son yesterday.



Plan River Meeting Here

Area members of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin chat with D. V. C. Birrell, who is in charge of the Corps of Engineers' Potomac River survey, during a meeting held here yesterday to plan the commission's fall meeting here September 24 and 25. In the group are Samuel R. Pancake, Romney, W. Va. commission member; Mr. Birrell; Charles V. Bush, Berkeley Springs, W. Va. commission member, and George F. Hazelwood, city, member and former chairman.

Salvaged Bricks Will Be Used While Supply Lasts

Salvaged bricks will be used to repair torn-up streets — at least as long as the supply lasts.

This was yesterday's development in City Hall action over protests filed on the Street Department's custom of using concrete to patch the holes in brick streets.

A brick expert yesterday advised Mayor J. Edwin Keech that he was unable to locate a source of supply, as "pavers" are not being made now.

Mayor Keech and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum said they were told that nobody has come up with a brick-laying machine and that the cost of laying by hand is prohibitive when compared with other materials.

Mr. Nuzum said the city will continue to search for a source of supply.

Meanwhile, there is a supply of nearly 5,000 salvaged bricks stored at the Cumberland Municipal Airport.

The bricks on hand are of two types, Maxwell and Grafton Block.

These bricks will be used for street patches, if they are of a matching type and as long as supplies are available.

The City Engineer yesterday recommended that such repairs should begin with a six-inch concrete base. Then the bricks would be laid in place on a one-inch cushion of sand.

Former Local Man Killed In Collision

A former local man was killed instantly and his wife was seriously injured in a two-car crash Sunday afternoon on Route 522 near Charlottesville, Va. Two other persons were hospitalized.

George Barker, 50, construction worker here in about 1950, who was living in Miami, Fla., died in the collision.

His wife, Mrs. Genevieve (Wiseman) Barker, 48, was admitted to the University of Virginia Hospital at Charlottesville with fractured ribs, a fractured jaw and multiple cuts about the face.

James P. Leake, driver of the other car, and a companion, Ray Menefee, both of Castleton, Va. were admitted to the hospital.

Authorities said the accident occurred when the car driven by Mr. Leake skidded along the rain-slick highway on a sharp curve and hit the car operated by Mr. Barker.

His body will be taken to the Musselman Funeral Home at Lemoyne, Pa., near Harrisburg sometime today where a funeral service will be conducted tomorrow.

Mrs. Barker is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wiseman who resided at 300 Waverly Terrace. Her husband is survived by a brother, Paul Barker, Harrisburg, and a sister, Louise Barker, of Miami.

Mrs. Barker has two brothers and two sisters living here, Eugene and Carl Wiseman, Mrs. Kathleen Jackson and Mrs. Ronald Brannon.

Post To Have Pet Entries

The Thomas Post Playground entries in the Intra-City Pet Show this evening at Constitution Park were decided upon at a recent playlot contest.

Charles Smith, leader, said the best groomed pet was a dog owned by Dick Billmeyer; best costumed, a dog owned by Tommy Nield; largest, a dog owned by Billy Crawford; smallest, puppies owned by Barton Barnstricker; and the most unusual, two goats owned by Charles Appel and Debbie Leatherman.

Judges for the pet show were Mrs. Mary Turner, Mrs. Maryland Reynolds and Miss Dorothy Reynolds.

A meeting of the Teen-Age Club will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. and an election will be held. Interested persons are invited to attend.

On Friday at 7:30 p. m. a doll show will be held at the playlot, with prizes being presented to the persons having the largest doll, smallest, prettiest and most unusual dolls and the largest collection.

A softball league, the Nut League, has been organized with boys and girls of pre-teen and teen-age participating. Play will begin at 10:30 a. m. Monday.

The roster is on the playlot bulletin board. Captains are Babe Crabtree, Joe Bearinger, Bub Clark and John Goss.

Is Attending Camp

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, is at Fort Knox, Ky., attending a two-week Army Reserve training session.

ELROSE ANN TIBBETTS

Piedmont Girl Named Teacher At Bruce High

Miss Elrose Ann Tibbetts, 56 West Fairview Street, Piedmont, has been appointed to teach English at Bruce High School in Westernport during the new term starting in September, according to Assistant Superintendent of Schools Richard T. Rizer.

The new teacher was graduated from Piedmont High School in 1955 and West Virginia University in 1959. At WVU she majored in English and speech.

Miss Tibbetts will fill the vacancy by the extension of the leave of absence of Donald Horner. Mr. Horner has been on leave since last summer in order to teach in Germany. He is instructing the children of Americans in the armed forces in Germany. He plans to remain another year.

Mapleside Plans Festival Tonight

The Mapleside Playground Association will hold its annual festival tonight on the playground.

The event was scheduled last night but was deferred due to rain.

The festival will open at 6:30 p. m. and will include entertainment beginning at 9 p. m.

Payton Trial Still Awaits Jury Selection

Veniremen Fined For Not Reporting

HENDERSON, N. C. (AP)—The trial of eight textile union members charged in a dynamite conspiracy moved listlessly into the tedious process of selecting a jury Tuesday.

Judge Raymond Mallard, a small, bespectacled, no-nonsense type of jurist, levied $20 fines against three members of a special venire of 100 Franklin County residents for not reporting for jury duty in Vance County Superior Court.

Only 85 of the special panel reported, 12 having been excused, for the trial of Boyd Payton of Charlotte, Carolinas director of the Textile Workers Union of America; and TWUA members Lawrence Gore, Charles Auslander, Calvin Ray Pegram, Robert Edward Abbott, Warren Walker, Malcolm Jarrell and Johnny Martin.

They are charged with plotting to dynamite the power transformer, boiler room and office building at the Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills, scene of a bitter strike that began last November. The maximum penalty, on conviction of each of the three counts, is 45 years in jail.

Jury selection began at 2 p.m. in the hot, humid courtroom. The prosecution, first to question the jury panel, concentrated its interrogation on prior opinion formed in the case and the strike, and prior union affiliation.

At the outset, it appeared that selection of a jury would continue well into Wednesday's session.

The textile strike began Nov.17 when negotiations for a new contract broke down over renewal of an arbitration clause. The two mills remained closed until February when they resumed operations on a one-shift basis and violence became so common that state highway patrolmen, then National Guardsmen were sent to the city. The mills now are operating on a full three-shift basis, though the strike has not been settled.

Seek Thruway Lighting Plan

Members of the Thruway Lighting Advisory Committee are seen yesterday as they met at City Hall with William Calvin, representative of a Pittsburgh lighting firm, to continue efforts to come up with the most economical way to light the Cumberland Thruway. Discussing the problem, left to right, are William E. Toms, committee member from the Kelly plant; Mr. Calvin; Mayor J. Edwin Keech, who represented the city at the exploratory meeting; Frank E. Hines, committee member from the Celanese plant, and Jack Lucas, member from the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant here. Mayor Keech reported no decision was reached, but that the committee will continue its efforts to find a lighting plan.

Jury Convicts W.Va. Youth In Rape Trial

Recommends Mercy For Moorefield Youth

A Hampshire County (W. Va.) Circuit Court jury yesterday found John Neff, 19, of Moorefield, W. Va., guilty of rape of a 14-year-old girl from the Yellow Springs section of Hampshire County but recommended mercy.

The all-male jury deliberated about one and one-half hours before returning its verdict. As a result of the mercy recommendation, Neff faces a sentence of from five to 20 years. Had there been no mercy recommendation, the court would have had the choice of capital punishment or a life sentence.

Judge H. Gus Muntzing, who presided at the two-day trial, deferred the passing of sentence in the case until Thursday, July 23.

Haines Prosecutes

Hampshire County Prosecuting Attorney Ralph W. Haines concluded the state's case yesterday morning.

The defendant and a number of character witnesses were called to the witness stand by the three defense attorneys, State Senator Ralph J. Bean of Moorefield, former West Virginia Treasurer William H. Ansel of Romney and Springfield, and his brother, James E. Ansel of Moorefield.

Young Neff said that he was under the influence of intoxicants on the night of Memorial Day when the rape allegedly occurred, and that he had only a vague recollection of what happened. He did deny the use of force upon the girl. It was testified at the trial that the Moorefield youth had no previous criminal record.

The last few of about 20 witnesses heard in the Romney courtroom were called as rebuttal witnesses by Mr. Haines. They were character witnesses in behalf of the girl.

Dr. Chester R. Riley, of Winchester, Va., testified he examined the girl following the alleged assault and found she had been injured.

Not In Virginia

Trooper Stanley L. Lee, of the Virginia State Police, testified he was first called on the case, but discovered the alleged assault occurred in West Virginia and notified State Police at Romney. Trooper C. E. Dorsey of Romney conducted the investigation.

The girl's parents took the stand Monday and testified that Neff came to their home on May 30 and informed them his wife and mother were going camping and he was looking for a babysitter. It was later learned the young man is not married.

According to authorities the assault occurred in the Lehew, section of Hampshire County on May 30.

Local Girl Injured When Hit By Auto

A nine-year-old local girl was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday after being struck by a car in the 600 block of North Mechanic Street.

Norma Younger of 636 North Centre Street was examined by a physician and later released from the hospital. She complained of a head injury.

City Police Officer Fred Daum said the driver of the car was Simeon Lee Hardy of Butler, Pa. He was traveling south on Mechanic Street about 2:30 p. m. when the little girl darted out between parked cars into the path of the car.

The driver took the girl to the local hospital.

WOODWARD D. PEALER

ROBERT R. ESLER

Pealer, Esler Will Head CUF Classified Division

George B. Newman, general chairman of the 1960 County United Fund campaign, yesterday named two of the area's most active young civic workers as co-chairmen of the CUF Classified Division.

They are Woodward D. Pealer, manager of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Service, and Robert R. Esler, director of employment at the North Branch plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

A native of Cumberland, Mr. Pealer has been one of the area's most active CUF workers, and is widely known for his work on a variety of other community activities. Not only did he help organize CUF, but he has helped to administer its affairs since its beginning by serving on the executive committee. CUF officials look upon him as one of the most energetic and successful campaigners in the organization.

Mr. Esler, a native of Pittsburgh, came here in March 1956, to join the PPG staff after serving as assistant personnel officer and administrative assistant to the county manager of Montgomery County.

He too has been an active CUF campaigner, and, together with William D. Edwards, another PPG employe, helped to organize a CUF chapter at the big North Branch plant, where all local and national United Fund records for per capita employe giving have been broken.

Last year Mr. Esler was a team captain of the CUF division which he will this year help to direct.

As the organization of the 1960 campaign goes forward, the CUF allocations committee is this week hearing the budget requests of all participating services and will then make recommendations to the executive committee from which the 1960 goal will be set. It is anticipated that the goal will be approximately a third of a million dollars to cover the health, welfare, youth and community needs of Allegany and Mineral counties.

Congregation To Build Church In Cresaptown

The congregation of the Full Gospel Church of Cresaptown is planning to build a new church in that community.

Gerald Phillips, a trustee of the church, said that blue prints for the one story brick edifice are being drawn up and it is hoped construction work may begin within the next few weeks.

Sunday school rooms will be located in the basement and two prayer rooms, the main auditorium and a nursery on the first floor.

The new edifice will be located on Warrior Drive. Mrs. Ruth Cowgill is the pastor of the church which is affiliated with the Assembly of God, Inc., with headquarters in Springfield, Mo.

The present church on Winchester Road has been in use by the congregation about 35 years. The church has purchased two lots in Cresaptown for the site of the building.

Deeds recorded in the land records office of Allegany County Circuit Court show that the property was purchased from Scott Poland and Maurice W. Nicholas and his wife, Ione E. Nicholas.

The lots are in the Craddock Addition of Cresaptown. The other trustees of the church are Leo Albright and Richard Grant.

City Watchmen To Punch Clocks

Watchmen at the Lake Gordon filter plant will punch clocks at two locations beginning today.

They will clock in once each hour as they make their rounds at the plant's chlorine room and maintenance shop, according to Franklin J. Blaney, city sanitary engineer.

At present, the watchmen making the fire and safety checks call in to Police Headquarters here on the hour.

Iron Workers Plan Run-Off Saturday

Iron Workers Local 568 will hold a run-off election Saturday from 6 to 10 p. m. to name its financial secretary-business representative.

Candidates are Samuel O. Philip Jr., Meyersdale, and Glenn L. Elkins, Ridgeley.

Railway To Get $63,215 In Tax Refunds

Revenues Of 10 Counties Affected

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The Board of Public Works cleared the way Tuesday for tax refunds totaling $63,215 to the Western Maryland Railway over a five-year period.

The refunds will be in the form of credits on future tax payments by the railway on public utility property it owns and operates in 10 West Virginia counties.

The refunds will mean proportionate reductions in amounts county school boards, county courts and municipalities receive from annual property tax collections from the railway.

The refunds resulted from a compromise between the railroad and the Board of Public Works as to the assessed valuations which the board placed on Western Maryland properties in the state for the years 1955, 1956, 1957 and 1958.

Western Maryland had complained the assessments were too high and had instituted court action.

Compromise Reached

Assessed valuations originally set by the board for tax purposes were 13 million dollars for 1955, 15 million for 1956 and 12½ million each for 1957 and 1958.

In Mineral County Circuit Court, the railroad won a reduction to 9½ million in the 1955 and 1956 assessments, but the board appealed to the State Supreme Court.

When the compromise was reached, the appeal before the Supreme Court and the railroad's appeal to Mineral Circuit Court from the 1957 and 1958 assessments were pending.

Under the compromise, assessed valuations of the railroad's West Virginia properties for tax purposes are 12¼ million for 1955, 13¼ million for 1956 and 12 million each for 1957 and 1958.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Joseph Hodgson advised the board at a meeting today that final orders reflecting the compromises in all of the cases have been entered in Mineral Circuit Court at Keyser, clearing the path for a refund arrangement.

Funds Already Spent

The credit arrangement for the refunds was necessary because the local levying bodies already have spent tax money collected from the railroad and allocated to them for the four years involved.

The board held up for further study a request from West Virginia Institute of Technology for permission to transfer from general revenue to a student activity account funds collected from its general $3 per semester course fee.

The request brought from Auditor Edgar B. Sims a new outburst against what he described as "all kinds of fees imposed at our colleges without specific authority of law."

Sims insisted that the colleges and West Virginia University actually should collect no fees except "tuition required by the legislature." He said it is time to stop "illegal charging of students struggling to get an education," adding that the special fees are "conceived in sin and executed in iniquity."

Light Rain Falls

A light rain fell here last night but failed to break the drought which has plagued the city in recent weeks.

Robert R. Golden, official weather observer, reported the rain totaled only .09 inches. Last Friday's shower was also slight, totaling only .15 inches.

Area Progress On River Will Be Stressed

Interstate Unit Will Meet Here

Progress in improving water quality of the North Branch will be the theme of the fall meeting of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin here September 24 and 25.

Tentative plans for the program of the two-day meeting were made as commission officials met here yesterday.

Speakers will point out the important progress which has been made in improving the quality of the water and outline progress expected in the forseeable future.

Scheduling of the meeting here recognizes several major breakthroughs in the campaign for a clean river.

They include the Cumberland sewage treatment plant, which has been a going concern for about two years; the waste treatment system being provided for the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and the towns of Westernport, Piedmont and Luke, and the accomplishment of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company in locating an industrial plant on the North Branch without degrading the quality of the water.

To Give Reports

The program is scheduled to begin September 24 at 9:30 a. m. with a report from the Maryland State Health Department on municipal wastes along the North Branch.

A similar report for the opposite side of the stream will be given by the West Virginia Water Resources Commission.

Industrial progress in pollution abatement on the Maryland side will be presented, and a United States Public Health Service official will report on the current status of pollution, based on studies made over a number of years.

A representative of the City of Cumberland will complete the first morning's program with a report on the $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant and the $18,100,000 flood protection program.

A luncheon is scheduled at noon. John A. Luke, manager of the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, will be the speaker and will discuss industrial and community cooperation in water pollution control.

Tour Is Planned

The afternoon will be devoted to a tour of the Cumberland flood control and sewage treatment plants and possibly Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Works 7 at North Branch.

Governor J. Millard Tawes has been invited to address the banquet to be held Thursday night. An invitation will be extended to Maryland Secretary of State Thomas B. Finan, of Cumberland, to speak if Gov. Tawes is unable to attend.

The final session will begin September 25 at 9:30 a. m. and will be devoted to addresses on the future of the water improvement program in this area.

Talks will include the significance of the newly created West Virginia Water Resources Commission, contributions forestry can make in water quality, and the future of North Branch water resources development.

Suggested by George F. Hazelwood, commission member, was a tour of Cumberland's water resources, Lake Gordon and Lake Koon.

He termed the facilities the "best in the United States, bar none."

Name Committees

A number of committees were appointed to complete arrangements for the meeting. They include:

Local arrangements, A. Trago Brust, of the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company; C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, and Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Program, Julian G. Patrick, supervisory engineer of the Savage River Dam, and the Commission staff; exhibit, William H. Johnson, district forester; publicity, C. W. Blackburn and John E. Byrd.

Ellis S. Tisdale, executive director of the commission, presided at yesterday's meeting and plans were formulated under the direction of Carl J. Johnson, conservationist for the commission.

Also attending the planning session were Samuel Pancake, Romney, commission member; Charles Bush, Berkeley Springs, commission member; Bernard Wright, director of the West Virginia Water Resources Commission, and Thomas W. Morris, industrial development director, who represented the Chamber of Commerce.

Plan River Meeting Here

Area members of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin chat with D. V. C. Birrell, who is in charge of the Corps of Engineers' Potomac River survey, during a meeting held here yesterday to plan the commission's fall meeting here September 24 and 25. In the group are Samuel R. Pancake, Romney, W. Va. commission member; Mr. Birrell; Charles V. Bush, Berkeley Springs, W. Va. commission member, and George F. Hazelwood, city, member and former chairman.

Salvaged Bricks Will Be Used While Supply Lasts

Salvaged bricks will be used to repair torn-up streets — at least as long as the supply lasts.

This was yesterday's development in City Hall action over protests filed on the Street Department's custom of using concrete to patch the holes in brick streets.

A brick expert yesterday advised Mayor J. Edwin Keech that he was unable to locate a source of supply, as "pavers" are not being made now.

Mayor Keech and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum said they were told that nobody has come up with a brick-laying machine and that the cost of laying by hand is prohibitive when compared with other materials.

Mr. Nuzum said the city will continue to search for a source of supply.

Meanwhile, there is a supply of nearly 5,000 salvaged bricks stored at the Cumberland Municipal Airport.

The bricks on hand are of two types, Maxwell and Grafton Block.

These bricks will be used for street patches, if they are of a matching type and as long as supplies are available.

The City Engineer yesterday recommended that such repairs should begin with a six-inch concrete base. Then the bricks would be laid in place on a one-inch cushion of sand.

Former Local Man Killed In Collision

A former local man was killed instantly and his wife was seriously injured in a two-car crash Sunday afternoon on Route 522 near Charlottesville, Va. Two other persons were hospitalized.

George Barker, 50, construction worker here in about 1950, who was living in Miami, Fla., died in the collision.

His wife, Mrs. Genevieve (Wiseman) Barker, 48, was admitted to the University of Virginia Hospital at Charlottesville with fractured ribs, a fractured jaw and multiple cuts about the face.

James P. Leake, driver of the other car, and a companion, Ray Menefee, both of Castleton, Va. were admitted to the hospital.

Authorities said the accident occurred when the car driven by Mr. Leake skidded along the rain-slick highway on a sharp curve and hit the car operated by Mr. Barker.

His body will be taken to the Musselman Funeral Home at Lemoyne, Pa., near Harrisburg sometime today where a funeral service will be conducted tomorrow.

Mrs. Barker is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wiseman who resided at 300 Waverly Terrace. Her husband is survived by a brother, Paul Barker, Harrisburg, and a sister, Louise Barker, of Miami.

Mrs. Barker has two brothers and two sisters living here, Eugene and Carl Wiseman, Mrs. Kathleen Jackson and Mrs. Ronald Brannon.

Post To Have Pet Entries

The Thomas Post Playground entries in the Intra-City Pet Show this evening at Constitution Park were decided upon at a recent playlot contest.

Charles Smith, leader, said the best groomed pet was a dog owned by Dick Billmeyer; best costumed, a dog owned by Tommy Nield; largest, a dog owned by Billy Crawford; smallest, puppies owned by Barton Barnstricker; and the most unusual, two goats owned by Charles Appel and Debbie Leatherman.

Judges for the pet show were Mrs. Mary Turner, Mrs. Maryland Reynolds and Miss Dorothy Reynolds.

A meeting of the Teen-Age Club will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. and an election will be held. Interested persons are invited to attend.

On Friday at 7:30 p. m. a doll show will be held at the playlot, with prizes being presented to the persons having the largest doll, smallest, prettiest and most unusual dolls and the largest collection.

A softball league, the Nut League, has been organized with boys and girls of pre-teen and teen-age participating. Play will begin at 10:30 a. m. Monday.

The roster is on the playlot bulletin board. Captains are Babe Crabtree, Joe Bearinger, Bub Clark and John Goss.

Is Attending Camp

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, is at Fort Knox, Ky., attending a two-week Army Reserve training session.

Payton Trial Still Awaits Jury Selection

Veniremen Fined For Not Reporting

HENDERSON, N. C. (AP)—The trial of eight textile union members charged in a dynamite conspiracy moved listlessly into the tedious process of selecting a jury Tuesday.

Judge Raymond Mallard, a small, bespectacled, no-nonsense type of jurist, levied $20 fines against three members of a special venire of 100 Franklin County residents for not reporting for jury duty in Vance County Superior Court.

Only 85 of the special panel reported, 12 having been excused, for the trial of Boyd Payton of Charlotte, Carolinas director of the Textile Workers Union of America; and TWUA members Lawrence Gore, Charles Auslander, Calvin Ray Pegram, Robert Edward Abbott, Warren Walker, Malcolm Jarrell and Johnny Martin.

They are charged with plotting to dynamite the power transformer, boiler room and office building at the Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills, scene of a bitter strike that began last November. The maximum penalty, on conviction of each of the three counts, is 45 years in jail.

Jury selection began at 2 p.m. in the hot, humid courtroom. The prosecution, first to question the jury panel, concentrated its interrogation on prior opinion formed in the case and the strike, and prior union affiliation.

At the outset, it appeared that selection of a jury would continue well into Wednesday's session.

The textile strike began Nov.17 when negotiations for a new contract broke down over renewal of an arbitration clause. The two mills remained closed until February when they resumed operations on a one-shift basis and violence became so common that state highway patrolmen, then National Guardsmen were sent to the city. The mills now are operating on a full three-shift basis, though the strike has not been settled.

Seek Thruway Lighting Plan

Jury Convicts W.Va. Youth In Rape Trial

Recommends Mercy For Moorefield Youth

A Hampshire County (W. Va.) Circuit Court jury yesterday found John Neff, 19, of Moorefield, W. Va., guilty of rape of a 14-year-old girl from the Yellow Springs section of Hampshire County but recommended mercy.

The all-male jury deliberated about one and one-half hours before returning its verdict. As a result of the mercy recommendation, Neff faces a sentence of from five to 20 years. Had there been no mercy recommendation, the court would have had the choice of capital punishment or a life sentence.

Judge H. Gus Muntzing, who presided at the two-day trial, deferred the passing of sentence in the case until Thursday, July 23.

Haines Prosecutes

Hampshire County Prosecuting Attorney Ralph W. Haines concluded the state's case yesterday morning.

The defendant and a number of character witnesses were called to the witness stand by the three defense attorneys, State Senator Ralph J. Bean of Moorefield, former West Virginia Treasurer William H. Ansel of Romney and Springfield, and his brother, James E. Ansel of Moorefield.

Young Neff said that he was under the influence of intoxicants on the night of Memorial Day when the rape allegedly occurred, and that he had only a vague recollection of what happened. He did deny the use of force upon the girl. It was testified at the trial that the Moorefield youth had no previous criminal record.

The last few of about 20 witnesses heard in the Romney courtroom were called as rebuttal witnesses by Mr. Haines. They were character witnesses in behalf of the girl.

Dr. Chester R. Riley, of Winchester, Va., testified he examined the girl following the alleged assault and found she had been injured.

Not In Virginia

Trooper Stanley L. Lee, of the Virginia State Police, testified he was first called on the case, but discovered the alleged assault occurred in West Virginia and notified State Police at Romney. Trooper C. E. Dorsey of Romney conducted the investigation.

The girl's parents took the stand Monday and testified that Neff came to their home on May 30 and informed them his wife and mother were going camping and he was looking for a babysitter. It was later learned the young man is not married.

According to authorities the assault occurred in the Lehew, section of Hampshire County on May 30.

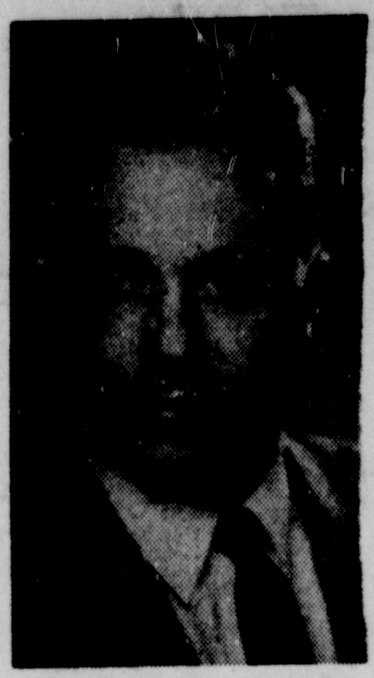
Local Girl Injured When Hit By Auto

A nine-year-old local girl was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday after being struck by a car in the 600 block of North Mechanic Street.

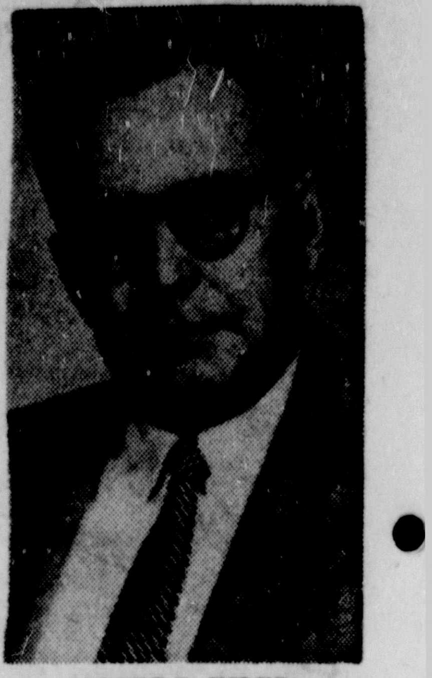
Norma Younger of 636 North Centre Street was examined by a physician and later released from the hospital. She complained of a head injury.

City Police Officer Fred Daum said the driver of the car was Simeon Lee Hardy of Butler, Pa. He was traveling south on Mechanic Street about 2:30 p. m. when the little girl darted out between parked cars into the path of the car.

The driver took the girl to the local hospital.



WOODWARD D. PEALER



ROBERT R. ESLER

Pealer, Esler Will Head CUF Classified Division

George B. Newman, general chairman of the 1960 County United Fund campaign, yesterday named two of the area's most active young civic workers as co-chairmen of the CUF Classified Division.

They are Woodward D. Pealer, manager of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Service, and Robert R. Esler, director of employment at the North Branch plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

A native of Cumberland, Mr. Pealer has been one of the area's most active CUF workers, and is widely known for his work on a variety of other community activities. Not only did he help organize CUF, but he has helped to administer its affairs since its beginning by serving on the executive committee. CUF officials look upon him as one of the most energetic and successful campaigners in the organization.

Mr. Esler, a native of Pittsburgh, came here in March 1956, to join the PPG staff after serving as assistant personnel officer and administrative assistant to the county manager of Montgomery County.

He too has been an active CUF campaigner, and, together with William D. Edwards, another PPG employe, helped to organize a CUF chapter at the big North Branch plant, where all local and national United Fund records for per capita employe giving have been broken.

Last year Mr. Esler was a team captain of the CUF division which he will this year help to direct.

As the organization of the 1960 campaign goes forward, the CUF allocations committee is this week hearing the budget requests of all participating services and will then make recommendations to the executive committee from which the 1960 goal will be set. It is anticipated that the goal will be approximately a third of a million dollars to cover the health, welfare, youth and community needs of Allegany and Mineral counties.

Congregation To Build Church In Cresaptown

The congregation of the Full Gospel Church of Cresaptown is planning to build a new church in that community.

Gerald Phillips, a trustee of the church, said that blue prints for the one story brick edifice are being drawn up and it is hoped construction work may begin within the next few weeks.

Sunday school rooms will be located in the basement and two prayer rooms, the main auditorium and a nursery on the first floor.

The new edifice will be located on Warrior Drive. Mrs. Ruth Cowgill is the pastor of the church which is affiliated with the Assembly of God, Inc., with headquarters in Springfield, Mo.

The present church on Winchester Road has been in use by the congregation about 35 years. The church has purchased two lots in Cresaptown for the site of the building.

Deeds recorded in the land records office of Allegany County Circuit Court show that the property was purchased from Scott Poland and Maurice W. Nicholas and his wife, Ione E. Nicholas.

The lots are in the Craddock Addition of Cresaptown. The other trustees of the church are Leo Albright and Richard Grant.

City Watchmen To Punch Clocks

Watchmen at the Lake Gordon filter plant will punch clocks at two locations beginning today.

They will clock in once each hour as they make their rounds at the plant's chlorine room and maintenance shop, according to Franklin J. Blaney, city sanitary engineer.

At present, the watchmen making the fire and safety checks call in to Police Headquarters here on the hour.

Iron Workers Plan Run-Off Saturday
